Ross Brown, of Lena, who has been hauling some wood to Heppner from Parkers Mill, had trouble of his own on the way in with a load Friday and Saturday and most of his troubles were just plain, everyday MUD.

E. S. Ackerman, editor and publisher of the Lone Independent, blew into Heppner last evening to say hello to his old friends here. Mr. Ackerman is giving lone a mighty good local paper and his appearance indicates contentment and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brady, who were recently married in Portland, will reside on one of the Minor stock ranches at Ceel and have already taken up their residence there. Mrs. Brady is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor and has a wide circle of friends in this county as well as in Portland.

Dr. Bean was again called to Monument last Tuesday to attend Willis Jenks, a pioneer stockman and retired capitalist of that place, who was suffering from the effects of a slight cerebral hemorrhage. The patient was considerably improved when Dr. Bean returned to Heppner Thursday afternoon.

John McHugh, who recently sold a valuable farm on the Boardman project, left last Thursday morning for New York City where he will spend two or three months visiting his sisters and other relatives. Mr. McHugh visited Gotham this time last year and his friend, Jim Higgin, makes the guess that John will not return alone this time.

The Christian Endeavor held a social and business meeting in the Federated church parlors last Wednesday evening when a pleasant time was had with social games and refreshments after which the following officers were elected: Mr. Christenson, president; Margaret Nelson, vice president; Florence Cason, secretary; Charles Nelson, Treasurer.

James Kullison, Mary and Patricia Monahan, who are students at St. Thomas academy, Condon, left for that place Saturday morning to resume their studies after being at home for a week on account of the serious illness of their father Frank Monahan. Mr. Monahan, who suffered from a hard attack of typhoid, is now much improved and will soon be able to be out again.

Jack Hynd was up from Ceel Saturday trying to convince John Kilkenny that Ceel is destined to become the capital of the world soon after the John Day project gets going. After hearing Mr. Hynd tell of the remarkable finds made in various lots of food unloaded on the Ceel side track, Mr. Kilkenny got very enthusiastic about going down there and getting a job as a roustabout.

Adam Knoblock was in town Thursday and Friday from his Rhea creek home and reported everything lovely as that ballcock. The snow is gone and the moisture all stored in the ground and prospects for next season are bright. Mr. Knoblock says there will be some doings at the rabbit hunt dinner to be given at the Rhea creek school house soon and that the recently organized local of the Farm Bureau in that district is going to revolutionize a lot of things out there.

J. B. Brody, of Bonners Ferry, Idaho, is here to in few days visiting his friend, W. P. Mahoney. Mr. Brody is county clerk of Bonner. Mr. Conley announces that he has taken a lease on the Heppner hospital building and after reorganizing and remodeling the building will reopen the institution for the accommodation of patients.

C. G. Blayden, garage and auto supply man of Boardman, writes: "Got hold of a copy of the Herald the other day and it looked good to me. Herewith check for year's subscription. We want to get in closer touch with Heppner and the rest of Morrow county and the Herald seems to be the medium."

Patron teachers meeting will be held at the high school auditorium next Friday evening at 7:30. Drs. H. E. Bean and R. J. Vaughan will speak on subjects of interest and Mrs. Curver will give a report of the state educational association. Other interesting numbers will be given by school children. All are invited.

T. E. McDaniels, of Walla Walla, who runs a band or two of sheep on the side, while representing the Columbia Basin Wool Warehouse, was here Saturday after having dug his way through from Condon. Mr. McDaniels used to be engaged in newspaper work at Medford in the boom days which accounts for his well red appearance.

P. M. Benedict, of Morgan, who recently bought a fruit ranch home near Lyle, Washington, writes the Herald that he expects to spend next summer "on the road" which probably means that he is going to make that long talked of trip back to Texas and then north over the old "Lone Horn Trail" over which as a cowboy in the early days he helped drive many thousands of long horn steers to the Nebraska and Wyoming ranges.

MARRIED

Irwin-Cason

Mr. Stephen M. Irwin and Miss Sybil Cason were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cason, at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, January 17th. Rev. Dr. George B. Van Waters, pastor of the Episcopal church, performing the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives of the happy couple were present.

Mr. Irwin is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Irwin, one of Heppner's most prominent families and is a successful young business man, being engaged in the tire business here on his own account.

The bride is one of Heppner's most charming young ladies and for the past couple of years has been chief clerk in the Heppner post office.

A host of friends will unite in wishing the happy couple a large measure of happiness and prosperity.

Gammell-Sheldon

Mr. Paul Gammell, well known young man of this city, and Miss Harriet Sheldon, of South Dakota, were married in Portland Friday evening, January 16th, according to information reaching here yesterday.

Mr. Gammell, who holds a position with the First National bank, left for Portland Friday morning, expecting to meet his bride-to-be on the overnight train enroute from her Dakota home in the Rose City where prior arrangements had been made for the ceremony.

Mr. Gammell served in the U. S. navy during the war and upon his return from the service he took his present position with the First National. He is deservedly popular and highly respected by all who know him.

Miss Sheldon was a popular teacher in the Heppner schools last year and she also has a large circle of friends and acquaintances here who will be glad to welcome her back to Heppner. Mr. and Mrs. Gammell are expected to arrive in Heppner Friday.

Pearson-Brown

Mr. Everett E. Pearson, of Lena and Miss Arvilla Brown of this city were married at the Episcopal church in this city at 7:00 o'clock Sunday morning, January 18th. Rev. Dr. George B. Van Waters officiating.

Mr. Pearson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pearson, of Lena, and he and his bride have a large circle of friends throughout this section of the county who will unite in congratulations and best wishes. They will reside near Lena.

RECENT DEATHS

Conley

Ann Conley, aged 57 years died at the Buchanan nursing home Thursday afternoon after an illness of several weeks the cause of death being given as Bright's disease.

Deceased had no known relatives here and little or nothing is known of his past history. He was engaged at trapping in the mountains in the south part of the county until ill health brought him to town for treatment. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, a short service being given at the grave by Rev. Dr. Geo. B. Van Waters.

Dan Downey, of Pendleton, was a visitor here over the week end with a view to locating here and establishing a hide business. Mr. Downey enjoys a wide acquaintance among the stockmen of this section and he is of the opinion that Heppner is the logical point for taking care of that line of business. He returned to Pendleton Monday but expected to return here in a short time.
