SPORTING EVENTS OF INTEREST ON COAST (By William Unmack, Pacific Sports Service)

Strange as it may sound, dislike of a player's ability—when he was on an opposing team—brought about his purchase by a rival club in the Majors.

Col. Ruppert, part owner of the New York Yankees, had an actual dislike for "Babe" Ruth when this player was a member of the Boston Red Sox. Ruppert is a dyed in the wool fan, and he cannot sit still when his team is losing, and it so happens that Ruth was the big factor that got Ruppert's "goal" on many occasions.

When Ruth would come to bat, Ruppert used to get such an attack of nerves that he would cover his eyes with his hands and refuse to watch the "fence buster" slaughter the Yankee pitchers.

"D—! it, here comes that animal," Ruppert would say, every time Ruth came to the plate. "Oh, how I hate that animal!" and he would immediately settle down in his seat and proceed to cover up his eyes until the next man was up.

"What did the animal do?" he would ask his friends sitting with him, "Is it fair or foul?" If his friends told him it was a foul ball, the ball magnate would breathe a sigh of relief, but if "Babe" would knock the cover off the ball, or hit a homer, he would weep and moan until Ruth came up again.

When Frazee offered to sell Ruth, Ruppert did not lose any time in negotiating for the purchase of the "animal," but the fans are wondering if Ruth does not hit a homer every time he comes to bat this season if Ruppert will consider he has been cheated.

Tacoma, Wash., March 22.—Bobby Vaughan, manager of the Tacoma team in the Pacific International league, intends to put one of the best teams on the diamond that has ever represented Tacoma. He is at present in California negotiating with several high class men for his team. The International league opens May 4.

Albany, Oregon, March 21.—Henry Keeney, a resident of Philomath, has been convicted in the state court of hunting deer out of season. District Deputy Game Warden E. S. Hawker, raided a camp at Upper Soda above Cascadia and found freshly killed deer and five hams and other meat being smoked. Keeney was arrested and convicted, and has now appealed to the circuit court.

SPORTING EVENTS OF INTEREST ON COAST

(By William Unmack, Pacific Sports Service)

Del Monte, Cal., March 20.—Arrangements have been completed here for a monster sports carnival to be held from Monday, May 17, to Sunday May 23. The program will include trap shooting, swimming, tennis and golf. All the best men and champions in each sport will be invited from all points of the Pacific coast to compete in the various sports.

San Francisco, Cal., March 22.—Robert Dodd, president of the Pacific association of the Amateur Athletic Union, has definitely announced that trials for selecting the American Olympic team will be held in this city in May, Morris Dunn of Portland, and Bob Weaver of Los Angeles, are the other A. A. U. men on the Pacific Coast Amateur Olympic committee with Dodd.

Fresno, Cal., March 18.—The American Legion in this section has decided to organize a boxing circuit and control boxing hereabouts. The towns in the circuit are Sacramento, Stockton, Modesto, Madera, Merced, Colusa, Porterville, Bakersfield, Taft, and this city.

STUDENT OUTDRAWS TEACHER

"We paid more to undergraduates of O. A. C. last summer than you now offer for teachers," writes Barr & Cunningham, engineers of Portland, to the head of hydraulic engineering who had asked the well known firm for information on hiring an instructor. The teacher was offered $125 a month, whereas the student got more money and all expenses paid. Even the green hand with neither training nor experience was paid $5 for an eight-hour day—$130 a month.

A Kansas newspaper told a sad tale of a woman who advertised some fine Plymouth Rock hens for sale. She made the advertisement sound so good that the hens were stolen the next night. A rival county-seat paper said the thief should be easy to apprehend—that the paper in which the advertisement appeared did not have much of a circulation.—Argonaut.

Florida Has Big Alligator Trade. Florida's trade in alligators amounts to nearly $1,000,000 a year, according to figures of men who know. Museums and wealthy families provide a steady demand for live baby alligators, and the demand for skins never lessens. The alligator's upkeep is not costly, for he eats during only five months of the year.

Wine and the Romans. Nearly fifty kinds of wine were known to the ancient Romans, including several varieties used for medicinal purposes. Falernian was a home wine, resembling the modern Madeira, and was not commonly used until it was ten years old.

The story is told of a woman who was marrying her sixth or seventh husband, having been divorced from all the others. She thought it would be unique to invite the former Has-Beens to act as ushers at the wedding. And the organizer thought it only appropriate to play something unique also. So he chose a modern thing, "Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here."—Heppner Catholic Monthly.
