TO MAKE PORTLAND WOOL SALE CENTER

SHEEP MEN, WAREHOUSE MEN, MILL MEN DISCUSS MARKETING METHODS

Would Make Portland Second Wool Center of the Entire Country

An important meeting of wool-growers, wool warehousemen and woolen manufacturers was held in Portland last Tuesday when tentative plans were agreed upon having for an object better methods in handling the wool crop of the northwest which would bring to the producer better returns on his investment and labor.

The Oregonian of last Wednesday gives the following account of Wednesday's meeting:

The entire Pacific Northwestern clip of wool for the season of 1920, will be concentrated in Portland, already the second wool center of the country.

The plan to concentrate northwestern wool shipments in Portland, and to abandon entirely the practice of country sales, was approved yesterday by the Oregon State Wool Growers' association, meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, with 46 of the most representative sheepmen of the state present.

Also in attendance and in agreement were representatives of the local woolen mills, and of the three warehouses where the shipments will be stored and handled for sale—Columbia Basin Wool Warehouse company, Portland Wool Warehouse company, and Koshland Wool company.

All wool growers present at the conference, without an exception, agreed to ship their entire clip for the season to Portland warehouses, putting into practice a plan that has been often discussed and advanced but never before adopted.

The growers estimate that from 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 pounds of wool will be concentrated in Portland during the 1920 season with shipment soon beginning.

SENIORS TAKE PLAY TO IONE

Members of the senior class who recently put on the highly successful comedy, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard", at the school auditorium, took the play to Ione last Friday evening where it was produced in the Ione opera house under the auspices of the Ione high school student body.

While all of the party, it is said, went to laugh at least a portion of the boys remained to grouch, mayhap to cuss reaching home rather late the following morning.

HEPPNER WINS FROM FOSSIL IN FREAK GAME

HOME RUN BY ORR FEATURE OF LIVELY EVENT

Wheeler County High School Gian's Make Big Start They Fall Down

No Irene, that was not a long distance foot race last Saturday. That was a game of base ball and the only reason the score ran so high was that the fine spring weather after such a long, tedious winter, made the boys feel so coltish that they just couldn't stop running bases.

Fossil took the early lead in the game and held it easily until the fifth canto and it looked like good night for the home team.

Fossil had a long, hard ride Friday morning, a game at Ione in the afternoon, a big show that night, etc., to which they were disposed to attribute some of the responsibility of their defeat.

The line-up:

HEPPNER HOTEL CO. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Heppner Hotel Co., was held last Wednesday evening at the office of C. L. Sweek, who is secretary of the company.

Directors of the company were elected as follows:

W. P. Mahoney, J. W. Beyer, John Vaughn, Jack Hynd, Charles Thomson. The only change in the directorate was in the election of Mr. Thomson, who succeeds R. F. Wigelsworth, who resigned some time ago and removed from the county.

Reports from Contractor Traver indicated that the building will be completed around July 1st. It is understood that several parties are negotiating for a lease on the building and the matter will probably be settled within a few days.

"THE ARRIVAL OF KITTY"

A big crowd greeted junior class players at the school auditorium Saturday evening when they staged the very laughable comedy, "The Arrival of Kitty," as their peak performance of the year.

Ted Young, who took the villain's part, covered himself with glory and Don Case, who was much in love with Jane, part time impersonating Kitty, the play actress, was all right. Made up as a girl Don had the face of a Gibson beauty but, alas, the walk of the elephant.

Eulalia Butler, as Jane, Pearl Hall as Suzette, and Charlotte Hall as Kitty, took their parts wonderfully well, each one showing much talent in handling many difficult situations and none of them needed help from the make-up artist to make them delectably pretty girls.

Credit is due Maxon Frazier and Dale for their excellent work in coaching the young players.

FOOD SALE

Ladies of the Episcopal Guild will hold a food sale in the show window of the Star Theatre Saturday, May 1, 1920, beginning at 10:30 A. M.

RABBI WISE WILL ADDRESS HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

That the members of the graduating class of Heppner high school believe the best is none too good for them is evidenced by the fact that they have secured Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, of Portland, to make the principal address at the commencement exercises next month.

The reputation of Rabbi Wise as a polished speaker, a scholarly writer, a deep thinker and a broad minded citizen is nation wide and not only the members of the graduating class but the Heppner public are to be congratulated that they are to have this opportunity to hear him.

TOWN SHOULD CATER TO AUTO TRAVELERS

TOURIST CAMP SITE MODERN NECESSITY

Other Towns Report Big Returns From Such Investment

In view of the fact that committees of both Commercial and Civic clubs have been appointed to work together on the important matter of providing a suitable camping place for auto tourists in Heppner the following excerpt from an article published in last Sunday's Oregonian, written by the secretary of the Auto Camp Site committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, is herewith given.

According to a recent compilation of data, there are over twenty-three well equipped camp sites for autoists throughout Oregon, in the principal towns and in many of the smaller places along the main highways.

The day of the mere empty lot for the motorist is gone.

What is necessary and desirable nowadays is a large wooded piece of ground affording proper shade, equipped with every convenience deemed necessary for the comfort of the camper, such as electric lights, running water, lavatories, comfort stations, stationary wash tubs, cooking appliances (gas, electric or wood ovens).

There are many good reasons why camp grounds should be maintained, and none of them is more important than that of sanitation.

Mr. Sigbee, who handled a similar course here last winter, has offered to render the Patron Teachers' all of the assistance in his power to put the course over in good shape.

HOOVER CLUB ORGANIZED AT BOARDMAN

A Hoover club was organized at Boardman last Wednesday evening with the following officers:

W. A. Goodwin, president; S. H. Boardman, vice president; Mrs. Claire P. Harter, secretary; Mrs. W. H. Stewart, treasurer.

Another meeting has been called for this evening when it is expected that membership will be increased to at least 50 active members.

SPORT CHATTER

Many Heppner fans and fanettes took in the game at Astoria last Sunday when Arlington won over Ione in a rival game.

Outside of that incident the game was O. K. and is said to have been one of the best ever.

Candidates for places on the Heppner town team will meet Wednesday evening in the council chamber when officers for the club will be elected and other matters of importance will be attended to.

Mike Marshall, well known sheepman of the Boardman district, was a business visitor here Friday and Saturday.

FARM BUREAU HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

ROAD BONDS, EDUCATIONAL BILLS, FARMERS' PICNIC ENDORSED

Wool Growers Will Meet on Saturday May First at Heppner, to Which All Are Invited

Last Saturday the executive committee of the Farm Bureau met and held an unusual important session. They went into the details of the wool situation and listened to reports from committee appointed and will present the entire matter to the general wool growers meeting, which will be held in Heppner on the first day of May.

Another item of considerable interest will be a plan to increase the marketing facilities for the surplus sheep and lambs in this section of the county, as well as to consider a plan for further co-operative marketing.

The Farm Bureau also recommended that the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union and the Heppner Commercial club, unite in putting on a general farmer's picnic this year.

In considering the various initiative measures on the ballot this year, it was decided by the Farm Bureau to go on record in favoring the 4 per cent bonding bill, which will give the people the chance to get good roads very speedily without a definite increase in taxation.

This executive meeting is held every fourth Saturday in the month, and every farmer or business man is cordially invited to attend the same.

TRY OUT FOR ORATORICAL CONTEST

A try out for places in the contesting team at the county oratorical contest to be held at Lexington Saturday was held in the school auditorium last Wednesday evening.

Heppner and Hardman schools were districted together for this occasion and about a dozen aspiring disciples of Demosthenes took part in the tryout, the class being divided into three divisions, viz: Class C, comprising pupils of the first, second and third and fourth grades; class B, pupils of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades; and A, including high school pupils.

The result of the contest, as found by the judges was:

Class C, Thelma Starkey, of Heppner; class B, Mary Van Vactor, of Heppner; class A, Miss Clon Merrill, of Hardman.

Following the contest and decision, Hardman asked to be allowed to take part as a separate district from Heppner which was granted. Kathryn Pattison, who scored one point lower than Miss Merrill, was then designated to represent Heppner high school at the county meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hughes were in from their Butter Creek ranch this morning.

Bishop Paddock spent a few days here during the week. The bishop delivered an interesting address at the Episcopal church last evening.

Heppner Sanitarium Hospital

DR. J. PERRY CONDER, Physician-in-charge

Corner Main and Baltimore. Telephone, Main 92

We have been forcibly struck with the number and variety of cases that come in for treatment for flu complications, weak hearts, digestive disturbances, persistent debility, nervousness, neuritis, paralysis, tuberculosis, cough, sarache, deafness, headache, insomnia or melancholia. A large number of children and some older cases have developed coughs of a bronchial type, some weeks after they were supposed to have recovered from the flu.
