BILL TO SAVE SOLDIERS HOMESTEADS

In an effort to save the homesteads of crippled soldier boys Representative Nick Sinnott of Oregon made a legislative speed record this week. On April 12th Secretary of the Interior Payne told Sinnott he would favor legislation which "the gentleman from Oregon" had suggested to the department allowing ex-service men of the world war who had initiated homestead entries prior to enlistment and as a result of their service had become physically incapacitated so they could not return to their claims to acquire title to the lands by commutation on payment of price by law, without further residence or cultivation.

Under the law as it stands at present soldiers are allowed to count the time they served up to two years of the three years residence required on a homestead; but there is no way by which any official or department can relieve them from the necessity of living one year on the land. But many of the soldiers became so crippled or incapacitated in the war that they cannot go back to their homesteads.

Congressman Sinnott introduced a bill to remedy this situation on April 13th. The committee on public lands of which Sinnott is chairman met on April 14th. The ink was hardly dry on the bills which had been printed. A single copy was brought by special messenger to the committee meeting. Sinnott explained the emergency to the committee; that unless something was done quickly wounded and all veterans of the late war who had sacrificed most for the country might lose the homes they had started to acquire before being called to the colors. He asked the committee if they would suspend regular business and act upon this bill. They agreed and in a few moments authorized Sinnott to report the bill favorably to the house. The speed record was completed when Sinnott filed his favorable report the same afternoon.

Following is the text of the Sinnott bill

"That any settler or entryman under the homestead laws of the United States, who after settlement, application, or entry and prior to November 11, 1918, enlisted or was actually engaged in the United States army, navy or marine corps during the war with Germany, who has been honorably discharged and because of physical incapacities due to service is unable to return to the land, may make proof without further residence or cultivation, at such time and place as may be authorized by the secretary of the interior, and receive patent to the land by him so entered or settled upon by making payment for the land at the price fixed by law as in case of commutation: Provided, that no such patent shall issue prior to the survey of the land."
