STYLES FOR KIDDIE CLOTHES

Great Leeway Admitted in Fashions for Younger Set Same as for Grownups.

The time is certainly past when children's clothes can be purchased ready to wear for a mere song. Making them at home is a great saving this season, especially if the stores are carefully "shopped" for bargains in materials. Fortunately no one style dominates the style field for children (for the matter of that, great leeway is admitted in fashions for grownups as well) and variety is really the important point to achieve.

Cotton poplin is in high favor for sturdy service dresses for little girls and for suits for small boys. Cotton crepe is another fabric that is a favorite when clothes for everyday wear are under consideration. The small girl will be becomingly outfitted in voile, organdie, swiss and similar transparent fabrics when really warm weather arrives—that is, for somewhat dressy occasions—but the sturdy percales, poplins, chambrays and cotton crepes will be selected for play hours.

Vivid, rather dark, or at least medium shades are in great favor for service clothes for members of the younger set. Jade green is liked and is very smart when becoming. Marigold yellow and a medium blue are much used.

PARIS STYLES IN BLOUSES

Overgarment in Contrasting Color to Tailored Suit is Distinctive Note in Fashions.

The blouse in contrasting color to the skirt or to the tailored suit is the distinctive note in fashions in blouses for spring in Paris, says the Dry Goods Economist. With practically no exceptions, blouses worn with skirt and jacket suits are shown in brilliant contrasting colors. The day of the blouse in matching crepe for wear with suits is finished and the colored blouse in taffeta, voile or crepe de chine, or the blouse in bold striped silk tussah or linen is now the great vogue.

Quantities of blouses in waxed satin and in kid, covered with an all-over embroidery in contrasting color, are featured at Renee for wear with suits. These blouses are simply made, are in slip-over-the-head style, have rounded necks, and short sleeves, the bodices are flat at the front and, as a rule, close in surplice fashion at the back. The belt is cut in one with the bodice section and buttons snugly around the hips at either side.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR GLOVES

Short Sleeve Vogue Indicates Manufacturers Will Be Unable to Supply Market.

This season's vogue for short sleeves should mean a fortune to glove-makers. The only unfortunate part about the matter, so far as the glove manufacturers are concerned, is that glove fabrics and the labor necessary for their making are scarce and high, so it is said to be difficult to make enough gloves to meet the demand.

When really warm weather arrives, many women will wear these little short sleeved frocks without gloves, of course, as comfort rules in the final showing in this rather sensitive season.

It is interesting and really pleasant to observe that the very short skirts approved for several seasons are not in evidence this year. Skirts are short enough for grace, but they are long enough for grace, and because of the added length women as a whole appear much better dressed. Like practically all extremes, the ultra-short skirt is conspicuous by its absence in this season's style line-up.
