

GOV. COX IS NAMED BY THE DEMOCRATS

Franklin D. Roosevelt is Given Second Place On Ticket.

San Francisco.—James M. Cox, governor of Ohio, was nominated for president of the United States in the democratic national convention at 1:40 o'clock Tuesday morning. The convention then adjourned until noon Tuesday, to canvass the question of second place to complete the ticket.

When the convention convened again at noon Tuesday it was decided to give second place on the ticket to the East, Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, assistant secretary of the navy. The nomination of Cox came at the conclusion of a 44-ballot struggle in which he had steadily beaten down the forces of William G. McAdoo, ex-secretary of the treasury, and President Wilson's son-in-law.

When the balloting on the 44th vote had reached a point where Cox had 702 votes and was rapidly approaching the necessary two-thirds of 729, Sam

JAMES M. COX

Who Received the Democratic Nomination for President.

B. Amidon of Kansas, manager of the McAdoo forces and vice-chairman of the democratic national committee, took the platform and moved that the nomination of Governor Cox be made unanimous.

Nomination Made Unanimous.

Immediately there was a roar from the tired and worn delegates which lasted for a full four minutes before Chairman Robinson could put the question on Amidon's motion to suspend the rules and nominate Cox by acclamation.

At 1:43 o'clock Tuesday morning the motion was formally voted over with a rolling chorus of Ayes and a crashing of the brass bands.

State standards which had surged back and forth in the desperate battles of the deadlock rered to the front of the hall and to a place before the platform.

The Cox band wagon movement really started late Monday afternoon before the recess for dinner. During the interval both sides of the fight made desperate appeals to Tammany. Throughout the night New York's vote stood the same, 29 for McAdoo and 20 for Cox. On the third ballot of the evening session the slide in Cox started and before the leaders of the opposition could realize it the votes were tipping over in Cox's favor and four in a fashion which sent him over the majority mark and put him at a two level.

Georgia Goes to Cox.

After that the evening was over. Georgia went into the Cox column with her 28. The withdrawal of Mississippi Governor Hines had raised not only the Pennsylvania delegates, but other delegates who wanted to slide to the Cox column. The numbers of two, three and four now grew into blacks, and when the 44th ballot was well on its way the votes were fighting just the Cox column so fast that his nomination seemed an assured fact.

After 22 balloting ballots, the convention gave up hopes of securing a presidential nominee while the first week of its session and adjourned on Saturday night until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

When the convention started Cox was leading with 428. McAdoo came next with 174. Palmer was down to 140. The final ballot of the night was 23 for McAdoo movement, but it failed to make much headway. The convention perfected its ticket by accepting Senator Joseph V. Robinson of Arkansas as its vice-presidential candidate.

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE. That's where the moral hazard comes in.

And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.
