Joe Armstrong, of Butter creek, who helps look after E. O. Neill's sheep business, was a business visitor in Heppner Monday.

Tom O'Brien, who represents one of the biggest sheep and ranching interests in Butter creek, was in town Saturday on business.

Miss Belle Slat, who taught in the Heppner schools last year, has accepted a position in the public schools at Nampa, Idaho, for the coming year.

Heppner has been darned quit since the rain clouds blew away, but it has been a profitable quietness. Everybody able to do a man's work in the harvest fields is busy on some harvesting or threshing crew.

A marriage license was issued at the county clerk's office Saturday afternoon to Frank Strader, 18, and Ester Graybal, 16, both of Irrigon.

Mrs. E. M. Shutt and daughter, Miss Essie, who have been spending some time in Portland, returned Sunday evening.

L. N. Traver, contractor, and John V. Bennes, architect of the Ellis' building and the new Heppner hotel, came in Sunday evening to close up their affairs in connection with the erection of those buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spencer have returned to Heppner after a trip to the north during which Mrs. Spencer visited friends at Walla Walla and Mr. Spencer attended to business matters at Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sweek, who have been enjoying a vacation at Willamette valley and coast points, returned home Sunday. They were accompanied from Portland by Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Bean, who came up for a days visit with Heppner friends.

Dave Hynd was in from Sand Hollow Friday and Saturday. Mr. Hynd drove a team of horses in to have them shod and he began to realize what a slow old world this was a few years ago when everybody depended on horseflesh for transportation away from the railroads.

E. Cochran has returned from

Montana where he and J. W. Beymer summered several bands of sheep, later shipping them to the Chicago markets. Prices were not very satisfactory but might have been worse. Mr. Beymer is now at Chicago with the last train load of their shipments.

Alex Wilson, prominent rancher of Boardman, was here during the week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and meeting relatives from Seattle who were here on a visit while auto-touring the great Inland Empire.

Married—Frank Strader and Miss Ester Graybal, of Irrigon, were married at the home of Rev. Livingstone, last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Livingstone performing the ceremony. The young couple will reside at Irrigon.

Yesterday being Labor Day the court house crowd enjoyed a layoff from their usual daily toil and put in a mighty hard day's work trying to decide the momentous question of who is the best horseshoe pitcher. The result is yet in doubt but it is said that the school superintendent's office is several laps ahead of the assessor's office.

James Wilson, whom most everybody in Heppner calls "Jimmie", came over from Pendleton Sunday evening to visit his parents and sisters and, for all we know, some other fellow's sister. Jimmie used to help whoop'er up in Minor & Cos. grocery department but when Heppner got too swift for him he moved to Pendleton where he could get some sleep 49 weeks in the year in order to get ready for the Round-Up.

Jim Carty, who owns in fee simple, the only Tub Springs in Juniper canyon, and who also owns a small empire of range land in that part of the country, was in town Saturday looking for a sheep herder. And Jim was pretty humble about it too. Sheepmen generally say that it is harder to get men who can be trusted with several thousand dollars worth of sheep, than it was in the bad old times when herders were looking for jobs at $20 a month.

Mrs. R. J. Vaughan has returned from Rockaway beach where she was the guest of Mrs. W. R. Irwin for a couple of weeks.

OREGON INDUSTRIAL NEWS

Portland, Ore.—Knights Templars of the state of Washington will no longer depend upon eastern manufacturers for their uniforms, as all of their equipment is now being ordered in Portland. Oregon grown wool goes into the coats and even the chapeau, cap, hat cover, and other accessories. Even suitcases and sword cases are to be turned out in this city for the Masons.

Dayton, Ore.—Cucumber pickles are to be put up in barrels this season and shipped from here by the new Kerr and Badger manufacturing plant, now getting in shape to handle the 1920 crop. It will also turn out several carloads of canned good, handling pears, berries and apples.

The Dalles, Ore.—Crops in Wasco county aren't worrying the farmers here this season, for the horn of plenty seems to have been turned upside down in this section, if one is to judge by a survey just completed. The county will produce 1,020,021 bushels of wheat this year, averaging 22 bushels to the acre, as compared with 18 in 1919. Alfalfa will average 2 1/2 tons to the acre. There are 1311 acres planted. Barley will yield 48 bushels to the acre or a total of 15,664 bushels. The wool clip will total 1,000,000 pounds.

Portland, Ore.—In the old days when horse-drawn vehicles were commonplace the best-kept farms were equipped with automatic gates so that drivers could open them by pulling a rope. Now the same principal has been applied to garages with the result that a Portland man has invented an automatic door opener and the Universal Garage Door Opener company has been formed to put it on the market. By means of the invention a man may open the door through applying pressure to an electric plug, while seated in his machine.

Redmond, Ore.—More than 80 farmers of this section have joined in the organization of a warehouse and flour mill company, which is soon to furnish ranchers a local market for part of their produce. The Redmond flour mill has been bought and will be moved to a location near the Tum-A-Lum Lumber company's warehouse, also purchased. The new company has a capital stock of $25,000.00.

A paint that will prevent shingles from warping or shrinking and at the same time waterproofs them has joined the ranks of Oregon products crying for larger output. The Roof Security company, Portland, which manufactures the preparation, is now erecting new buildings and installing additional equipment in order to double the quantity now being made.

Cottage Grove, Ore.—String beans and berries are now coming into Cottage Grove cannery in such quantities that the plant is running on a full time basis. Practically all of the pack has been sold in advance. Growers are receiving from 3 to 2 1/2 cents for string beans this year.

32 BUM COWS DETECTED

Thirty-two boarder cows were detected and eliminated from the nine cow-testing associations of Oregon in July. The 5671 cows tested averaged 742 pounds of milk with 32.06 pounds of fat for the month, says the report of E. B. Pitts, federal and O. A. C. field dairyman. Honor cows—producing more than 40 pounds of fat per month—were 1337. The highest was "Pal", a grade Jersey cow belonging to L. A. Cochran of
