BOARDMAN

A. W. Cobb returned Thursday on a trip to Seattle where he represented Boardman in the Irrigation Congress. He returned via North Yakima and brought a report on the Hay Growers organization of that section.

Miss Gleam Dunton of Mollalla, formerly a teacher in the Boardman schools, was in the city Saturday looking after property interests.

The Columbia Basin Alfalfa Growers' Assn. completed permanent organization at Hermiston last Tuesday. A. L. Larsen of Boardman was chosen president, Capt. Dolby of Hermiston, vice president, and Don Campbell of Hermiston, secretary-treasurer. One director was chosen from each district including Echo, The Meadows, Stanfield, Butter Creek, Hermiston, Columbia, Umatilla, Iririgon and Boardman. The association will immediately begin to work up a final selling contract for the 1921 crop to be presented for adoption at the annual meeting next May. The present crop will be sold in pools under control of the board of directors. Particular attention is to be given by the organization to the needs of the Western Oregon dairymen, the grading of alfalfa for the purpose of stabilizing the market as well as the control of the cost of production.

The Boardman Sunday school of the Federated church has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: A. J. Hedger, superintendent; Mrs. Wm. Finnell, assistant superintendent; Miss Caryl Signs, secretary-treasurer; Miss Myrtle McNeill, organist; and Mr. Delbert Johnson, librarian. Mrs. H. O. Warner, the retiring superintendent leaves on Wednesday for an extended trip to California to visit relatives.

Miss Naomi Runner, high school teacher and librarian of the Boardman Community School, has made arrangements to purchase the residence property owned by Miss Gleam Dunton adjoining the school grounds. The Picture Exhibit scheduled for Oct. 2 has been postponed until Oct. 12-16.

G. W. Kelly, advertising specialist and erstwhile editor and publisher of the Boardman Bee (sinceless variety) now has a new occupation according to literature which has been forwarded by him to Boardman. His new sign reads "Kelly, the Fish Man" and he guarantees to ship from Seattle strictly fresh fish at $2.00 the package.

The Elson Art Exhibit scheduled for Oct. 2 has been postponed to Oct. 13-16 inclusive. The steamer carrying the exhibit via Panama Canal arrived at San Francisco last Thursday, too late to make the necessary delivery of the pictures for the earlier date.

Thirty haygrowers of this vicinity met last night to develop plans for a hay association. The first plan discussed was affiliation and co-operation with an organization now being fostered in Umatilla county. A. W. Cobb, of Boardman, reported on a recent trip to Yakima to investigate the methods employed there. C. H. Dillabaugh reported the development of the three recent meetings. The Hermiston quota at the last meeting at Hermiston did not seem to favor very strongly the amendment offered by L. A. Hunt, County Agent of Morrow county, that the association be empowered to buy real estate, and to buy and sell hay and other farm products. Another meeting is called at Hermiston, for Tuesday October 28th, to see if harmony of view can be brought about. With most growers the marketing end demands the greatest consideration and unless that is emphasized more the present attempt to organize on the basis of reducing cost of production will fail.

After the hay business was disposed of those present proceeded to organize a permanent Fair Association with C. H. Dillabaugh as president; A. L. Larsen, vice president, and M. E. Signs, secretary-treas.

The Junior Red Cross of the Boardman schools has begun the year's work with a collection of clothing for the Near East Relief. The boys of the high school department, in addition, spent most of Friday developing the play grounds and laying out a track for field events, while the girls prepared a picnic dinner which was served in the school cafeteria. On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Signs entertained informally the teachers of the school. All were present except Miss Beebe, who was absent for the weekend upon a visit to her sister at Big Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Blayden returned Friday from an extended visit with relatives at various points in Idaho.

IRRIGON

Iririgon has now a regularly organized women's club. The public was made aware of its development at a social given Friday evening at Wadsworth's hall. The program consisted of piano solos by Ishmael Hendrick, a vocal solo by Principal E. H. Anderson of the Iririgon school, and two numbers, violin solos, by Mr. Hendrick. Mr. Hendrick's son played the accompaniments for the other two performers. There was a contest in making out the subjects of advertising, suggested by a series of illustrations cut from magazines or newspapers, in which Merle Doble and Miss Snow McCoy were the winners. The officers of the club are Mrs. J. W. Hood, pres.; Mrs. E. H. Anderson, vice president; and Mrs. Harvey Wolfe, secretary-treasurer. The club hopes to be of some use to the community and invites the ladies of the vicinity not already members to join the club. Church and community service is their immediate aim, while the world at large is to absorb such energies as may not be directly needed at home. The club has planned to get the larger view of opportunities for service through a course of study in foreign missions. Regular meetings are to be held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Ground has been broken for the new school house, which the contractors hope to have completed by the first of the year (1921).

Mr. N. Seaman and family are now at home in their new house, mention of which was made some weeks ago.

Suggestions of a Halloween social or party have been floating in the near horizon recently. It is to be sincerely hoped that the idea may be developed to such proportions and popularity that it will entirely take the place of the usual custom of raiding the premises of the neighbors for the purpose of causing them annoyances and the loss of or damage to property. Much indeed may be said in praise, or at least in favor of those pranks of an innocent and harmless character connected with the notions, woe so prevalent, of hob-goblins, spooks, brownies and other forms of mysterious beings of the imagination, but nothing can be said in defense of the wanton or thoughtless capers usual to the celebration of the day, in which the personal effects of neighbors are carried away and dropped in some out-of-the-way place or imposed of in such ways as to cause great annoyance to the owners. A better form of observance ought to certainly to take the place of such erratic practices, and that speedily.

A Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor is another new arrival in our community. This movement promises much for the community and we bespeak for the organization the hearty approval of the older people. Mr. Frank Doble is the president and Miss Winnifred Steward secretary of this new organization, and Mrs. Hood, we believe, is a sort of referee, or matron, whose aid may be had in cases of doubt or uncertainty.

Mr. Harvey Wolfe and family have moved into the property formerly occupied by Mr. N. Seaman and family.

The DeMoss family will visit another of the more important places in the Northwest with one of their excellent programs when, on Friday, Oct. 8, they entertain the people of Iririgon, thanks to the Boardman correspondent for the suggestion. This troupe is strictly high class.

Iririgon regrets that she could not respond to the invitation of the Principal of the Boardman school to be present at the picture exhibit held last week, but Mr. Signs knows we have obligations at home, so that he will gladly excuse our absence, notwithstanding the pleasure our presence would have afforded him. We hope to be in position to afford him double pleasure at another time.

The Iririgon Sorghum factory is at this writing engaged in manufacturing the sugary juices of the succulent sorghum into merchantable molasses for the sweet toothed masses. The people in charge of this enterprise may soon be able to advise the world that the sorghum industry is in a fair way to become a popular and profitable industry in the near future in localities like this. New industries invite new people, so let the wheel of good fortune revolve.

CECIL

Mr. and Mrs. L. Padberg and family of Ione honored Cecil with a shot visit on Sunday.

Misses A. C. and V. M. Hynd and Louise Shaw of "Butte Flats" visited with Mrs. A. Hendricksen of Willow Creek ranch on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Logan and family of Fairview spent Sunday with J. W. Osborn and Mrs. Wellha Combest at Cecil.

Miss Hazel Winter of Shady Dell and Miss Lois Easterly, teacher of Four Mile school were callers at the Last Camp on Saturday.

R. urser of one and Miss Juanita Crabtree of Dotheboys Hills were visitors in Cecil on Saturday.

Ed Martin of Buterby Flats left Cecil on Monday for Granite where he will assist Roy Scott in bringing a band of Hynd Bros.' sheep to their Froeseout ranch. Geo. Wilson also of Buterby Flats left on the same day for Cascade Locks to bring in another band of sheep belonging to Hynd Bros., which have been ranging in Washington.

Mrs. Easterly and son of Parkdale spent the weekend with her daughter, Lois, at Four Mile, before leaving for a visit in Idaho.

News has been received in Cecil during the last few days of the marriage of Miss Effie, second daughter of W. B. Ewing, late of Cecil, now of Oakland, to Mr. Ben Stewart of the same town. They will reside in Stockton, California. Congratulations to the happy pair.

Glen Kesterson, who has been working for Everett Logan at Fairview for several months left for his home in Greenham on Friday.

Russell Shaw and Zenneth Logan returned to their duties in Cecil on Monday after spending their vacation in Pendleton.

Herbert L. Everett and E. Macomber of Boardman were doing business in Cecil on Monday.

J. J. McElvire of "Kilmarney" was looking up his Cecil friends on Wednesday.

Oscar Nash arrived from Pendleton Sunday, leaving Wednesday for Goldendale where he will work for the winter.

An airplane on its journey from Pendleton to Portland on Tuesday evidently had engine trouble and was obliged to land about two miles above Cecil on E. Logan's ranch "Fairview." After attending to their trouble the aviators were soon seen taking to the air again and proceeding on their journey.

honey from his Cecil apiary.

We hear that H. J. Streeter of Fourmile has purchased several hundred acres of wheat land and also a residence and farm buildings belonging to Mr. Osborn of Cecil. J. W. Osborn plans for the future are undecided at the time of writing.

While wandering along the Cecil Scenic Highway a party picked up a small roll of paper and after the readers of the Herald have carefully perused the contents of the roll which we enclose, we question very much if Mr. Harry Cummins would be designated the poet laureate of Morrow county.

Cecil, It Is of Thee.

In the valley of Willow Creek Stands Cecil, a little town. If quiet or rest you go to seek This place is of some renown.

The hills the hamlet enclose The meadows are very green. Very often a strong wind blows Most always the blue sky is seen.

The hills are rolling and low Dotted with yellow and green They form a nearly perfect row The best that I have seen.

Out in the meadows wide There are mostly cows and sheep There wouldn't you like to hide And play you were little like sheep?

Cecil has a daily train A highway long and wide They are always there in shine or rain.

If you should want a ride In Cecil are many places That I do surely know That there's always sunny faces.

Where we may always go, Boats the poplars high Reeds the good "Last Camp" Where many with a happy sigh

Find there are no lamps. Lane porches round the house do run The wide green lawn is there Where you may have all kinds of fun.

And how each little cove, North of Cecil, a mile or two, Is the little school house of gray Where many things the children do Which is not what the teachers says.

Next is the little rail station Where the village "Mayor" waits Surely some one will come on vacation

Or else there'll be some freight. On Sunday when the train comes by There are a dozen boys or more

Who bring their horses up to tie If no girls arrive they sure are sore.

There is a postoffice too, where we receive our mail And a postmaster always jolly hearty and hale.

All at once he comes out with a hustle "The train is coming I heard it whistle."

Next is the busiest place of all That is the village store Above that is the Cecil hall

Where they dance and yell for more. In the evening here, the men all meet

And have their little gossip club. Each one quickly takes his seat And then begins the hub, bub, bub. Some people say the Ladies Aid Has never had its mate.

But all these thoughts would quickly fade If to the store they were led by fate.

May Cecil always have good luck And never cease to shine May other people get up pluck To come and see our town so fine.

Mrs. C. J. Jamison, who lives in the Well Spring neighborhood, returned Sunday from Portland after spending the past 3 1/2 months in the city. During this time Mrs. Jamison was under a specialist's care and her health is greatly improved.

Rev. B. E. Enrick left Saturday for Philomath where he will visit a week or ten days with his family.

Mrs. A. W. Cook who has been visiting the past few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Blake, left Tuesday for her home at Bend, Ore.

Mrs. Ray Blake and daughter Marjory, left Saturday for her home at Moro, after spending the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilt.

Mrs. Maud Alexander and daughter, Miss Gladys Akers, of Oakland, Cal., came Tuesday and spent the weekend as guests of the former's brother, J. P. Louy of this city. Mrs. Alexander left Saturday for Portland and will visit a few days there before returning home but her daughter will remain for a longer visit.

Leo Sprinkle and family have moved into the J. W. Blake building located on main street just west of the lone west market.

C. A. Low has sold his residence property in East Ione on main street to Henry Taylor, who has charge of the county road work near Ione. Mr. Low has purchased the McGarity residence on second street and in and his family took possession last week.
