

GOVERNMENT BUREAU GETS UNIQUE PROTEST

Antelope Man Wants Coyotes Protected To Amuse His Dogs

This from the Weekly News Letter issued by the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C.:

It's hard to please everybody. Even efficiency has its drawbacks. Now comes a complaint from a rancher at Antelope, Oregon, that the Government hunters in that section of the country are so effectively carrying on their warfare against predatory animals—coyotes, particularly—that he is put to it to find exercise for the dogs.

Officials of the Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, who have charge of the work of making the ranges free from destructive animals, look upon this knock as a particularly good boost, in view of the fact that this part of the country is considered especially infested with such enemies. It is an instance of the notable work being done by the bureau's corps of hunters and trappers in the important live-stock ranges of the West where mountain lions, bobcats, bears, wolves, and coyotes have been able to maintain their numbers practically undiminished in spite of the best efforts of the setters and ranchers.

There are between 400 and 500 of these skilled hunters. Last year they captured about 32,000 predatory animals and killed at least that many more by poisoning operations. As an example of the destruction done by predatory animals: A Texas ranch owner declared that in less than three months he lost nearly 300 sheep, worth $3,200, through depredations of six coyotes, which later were killed by Government hunters.

NOTICE OF BOND SALE

Sealed bids will be received until the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., the 17th day of November, 1920, and immediately thereafter publicly opened by the County Court of Morrow County, Oregon, at the office of said Court in the County Court-house in the City of Heppner, Oregon, for the purchase of bonds of said County, issued for the building of permanent roads therein in the sum of $60,000, the same being in denominations of $1000 each, said bonds to bear date November 1, 1919, and to mature absolutely without option of prior redemption November 1, 1925, said bonds to bear interest at not to exceed 5 1/2 percent per annum payable semi-annually on May and November first, principal and interest payable in United States gold coin at the office of the County Treasurer or at the Fiscal Agency of the State of Oregon in New York City.

Said bids must be accompanied by a certified check for 5 per cent of the face value of the bonds bid for and must be unconditional.

The approving legal opinion of Messrs. Teal, Minor & Wintres of Portland, Oregon, will be furnished the successful bidder.

The Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids. The assessed valuation of the taxable property of the County is $14,582,795.28.

You are vitally interested in Oregon having a port equal to any port on the Pacific Coast. Initiative measure No. 310 on the ballot to be voted in November will provide Oregon with such a port. The cost will be borne by the people of the Port of Portland but all of the state must vote on it. Vote 310 YES on the ballot on November second.

Portland—Lumber business in Portland took a decidedly upward trend for the week ending September 25, when the total volume of business reached 72,190,322 feet, of which approximately 40 percent was railroad material. A portion of the order of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad for 20,000,000 feet was included.

MILK GOAT INDUSTRY FOSTERED IN OREGON

Corporation Being Organized In Portland to Market Product—Other State Notes

Portland—With over 3000 milk goats in the state at the present time, goat dairying is taking form in this section. A corporation is being organized to market the product of milk goats, with offices in Portland, Pendleton, LaGrande, Albany, Salem, Eugene, Astoria and Southern Oregon towns have recognized the value of goat milk and more importations of pure-bred animals are being made.

Oregon City—A brass foundry is to be opened here by J. Rohrberg and will provide a new industry for the town. It will handle, in addition to general work, some of that for the paper mills.

Grants Pass—Oregon Malaga grapes are now being shipped from the famous vineyards around Grants Pass. They are marketing at $3 a crate.

Silverton—A blower system for the fertilizer grinder was installed in the Valley Packing company's plant in Salem last week by the Silverton Blow Pipe company. It is the same type of conveying system proven successful in handling sugar in jam factories.

Portland—The principles on which car wheels operate has been applied to logging blocks in a patent just issued to the F. B. Mallory company for a journal bearing logging block. The block was perfected after 15 months of tests under actual working conditions and is declared to be the greatest single improvement in logging blocks since they were first used. They are now being manufactured here and sold throughout the western logging territory.

Cottage Grove—Within a month an iron foundry will be placed in operation here by James Feeney of Tillamook. It is to be brought from Reedsport and will occupy a new two-story building. It will be able to handle a casting up to three tons.

Marshfield—Impetus has been given the back-to-the-land movement in Coos county through the completion of the reclamation of the Adelsperger and Conrad tract at the confluence of Coos river and Catching inlet. This will add at least 20 percent to the tillable bottom lands tributary to Coos bay. These lands have lain unproductive since the coming of the white man, but will now be transformed into two score or more dairy farms.

Eugene—The Lane County Lumber company has just purchased a large tract of land on Falls creek and a sawmill will commence operations there within the next 60 days.

Portland—An exhibition of Oregon manufactured goods is to be included this year in the displays at the Pacific national livestock exposition, according to announcement just made by the management.

St. Helens—Two new industries, a flue and timber mill and a shingle mill, are soon to be opened up at St. Helens. The former concern is to have a daily capacity of about 35000 feet and will employ 25 men. The shingle mill is to be built on Scappoose bay adjoining the creosote works and will be incorporated for $50,000.

Portland—An excavator which will move 60 percent more material in a given time than a steam shovel and will clear streets for a small fraction of the price now being paid is to be manufactured by the newly organized Watts Excavator company. Buckets are so hung on a steel frame as to permit the machine to take a 24-foot cut in width down to grade, leaving a solid base. It digs up old macadam and gravel roads without difficulty, it is said.

La Grande—Window displays and advertising benefiting Oregon products were indulged in October 8 and 9 by the merchants of this city in carrying out a home products week.

The Dalles—Three thousand barrels of maraschino cherries were put up this year from Oregon fruit by the Libby plant in this city. The company has 225 employees.

Portland—Large quantities of thread and much tedious labor can be saved through a new attachment for mattress quilting machines, perfected here by the United Manufac-

A Real County Newspaper

THE province of a local county newspaper is to give, as nearly as possible, all the news of the county in which it is published every week. To render such service to its subscribers it is necessary to maintain a corps of correspondents in all parts of the county. This is the plan followed by and the steadily growing circulation of this newspaper in Morrow county is the best evidence that the plan is a success. Take a look at page 5 of any issue of the HERALD and see for yourself if the above statement is not true. If you want ALL THE COUNTY NEWS every week in the year

You Want The Herald

The price is $2.00 a year, $1.00 for 6 months and you have to subscribe for the Herald to get it. The HERALD is forced on nobody. We want only willing subscribers who want the paper because they like to read it and who are willing to pay for it because they think it is worth the price charged. If you are not now a subscriber or if your subscription has expired we will appreciate your check and order. Thank you.
