According to report made to the Herald yesterday by Dr. McMurda, the low price of wheat has no effect on the rapid growth of population in and around Heppner during the present month. New arrivals are reported as follows: December 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Johnson, of Hardman, a son; December 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Furlong, a daughter; December 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Way, a daughter; December 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearson, of Lena, a daughter; December 11, to Mr. and Mrs. Adison Inskeep, a daughter; December 12, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Acock, a daughter.

John McCarter is in town for a few days arranging for the final settlement of the estate of his brother, Frank McCarter, who died here last summer. Mr. McCarter and Barney Devlin were the men who captured two of the outlaws who were implicated in the murder of Sheriff Till Taylor at Pendleton a few months ago. The two fugitives visited Frank Monahan's sheep camp where McCarter and Devlin were working, in search of food, and after feeding them the boys effected their capture and took them out to Kamela and turned them over to the officers. McCarter and Devlin received a reward of $500 each for the capture.

RECENT DEATHS

Wells

Horace Clyde Wells, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wells, died at the family home at May and Court streets Thursday morning, December 9, 1920 at the age of 14 years, 4 months and 25 days, after an illness of several weeks.

Horace was a native of Heppner, and had resided here all of his life, where he was a general favorite in a large circle of friends.

He was a member of the freshman class in Heppner high school and was much esteemed by his teachers and fellow students.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. Stephen Phelps, D. D., were held at the Federated church Saturday forenoon, the edifice being filled to capacity with neighbors and friends of the stricken family. Six young men students from the high school acted as pall bearers, interment being made in the Masonic cemetery.

McDuffee

Eleanor Sybil McDuffee, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDuffee, passed away at the family home in North Heppner last Wednesday evening, December 8th, aged 11 years, 3 months and 14 days.

She was born at Seattle, Washington, August 24, 1909, the family later moving to Heppner which has been their home for several years. Her illness was a lingering one of several months duration, and for weeks her life has been despaired of. She was a favorite with her family, friends and school mates, all of whom will sincerely mourn her passing.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at the Federated church, Rev. Stephen Phelps, D. D., conducting the services. Interment was at Masonic cemetery.

THRILLS IN "SHOULD A HUSBAND FORGIVE?"

An Arkansas race track was engaged for the photographing of the horse racing scenes in "Should a Husband Forgive?" the big William Fox special which will be seen on Tuesday at the Star theater. Thus it was possible to get the most exciting racing scenes ever shown on the screen and also to accomplish the unusual objective of having Miriam Cooper, who plays Ruth Fulton in the picture, actually ride a horse in jockey's garb in a real race.

Miss Cooper is an expert horsewoman, but she was slightly nervous at the prospect of riding in a bona fide race until R. A. Walsh, the director, reassured her.

"Go in and win, Miss Cooper," he said. "You've got the best horse on the track and if any jockey tries to crowd you just mention the matter to the horse and he'll move a little faster."

Miss Cooper tried that very thing with the result that she won the race by a narrow margin in a blanket finish.

Scab Must Be Reported

A few sheep owners apparently do not know that a failure to report sheep scab is punishable by a fine of one hundred dollars to five hundred dollars. The different sanitary agents throughout the state are being asked to report any offenders for violation of this statute. Those guilty of negligence may save themselves any way from one hundred to five hundred dollars by complying with this statute.
