LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Ray M. Oviatt has returned from a combined visit and business trip with his parents at Sheridan, Oregon.

Miss Daisy Slate, popular teacher in the Heppner schools, has gone to her home at Albany to spend the holidays.

Misses Ruby and Vera Engleman, two charming young ladies of Ione, were shopping in Heppner Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas and daughter, Miss Louvell, of near Lexington, were in town Saturday doing some Christmas shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hall arrived from Portland Sunday evening to become residents of Heppner for a time. Mr. Hall has accepted the position of foreman and operator in the Herald office.

W. C. O'Sullivan, until recently employed in the Standard Oil offices here, writes from Stites, Idaho, that himself and family have located there for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rugg were in from their Rhea creek home Saturday and reported fine, bright weather in their neighborhood. Heppner, they seemed to think, had a corner on the fog that day.

Ray M. Oviatt has purchased the Henry Aiken home on the east side.

Mrs. Gladys Phelps, a former resident of Heppner, now residing at Pendleton, came over a few days ago and is visiting her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cohn.

Miss Dafoe, popular instructor in music in the high school, has gone to Missoula, Montana, to spend the holiday season with friends.

Miss Schenard, teacher in the high school, is spending her Christmas at her home in Portland.

College and University students are returning to Heppner for the holidays by almost every train, those arriving recently being: Helen Barratt, Jasper Crawford, Max Rogers from O. A. C.; Chas. Chick from U. of I.; Arthur Campbell from U. of O.; Vera Mahoney and Everett Pattison are expected from U. of W. Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beymer returned from Portland Sunday evening.

Miss Kathryn Pattison spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Ruth Van Vactor at the Gorgier home north of Ione where Miss Van Vactor is teaching.

Miss Margaret McDevitt, teacher at Ella school, gave a basket social and dance in Ed Reiteman's blk. new grain bin last Saturday at which a most pleasant social evening was enjoyed and the sum of $175 was realized with which to buy furniture for the school house.

Dean Goodman went to Portland Sunday to spend the holidays with his mother and other relatives. Mrs. Goodman has been visiting at Portland for a couple of weeks.

Miss Velma Engelman spent the week-end at her home in Ione.

Mrs. Kit McCarty and little daughter came up from The Dalles Sunday for a month's visit with her parents.

Miss Luella Elder and Dave Wilson made a train trip to the Junction Sunday.

Henry Gay was in town Friday doing some Christmas shopping, and preparing to send a shipment of fat turkeys to the Portland market. Mr. Gay says it is pretty fine winter weather on Rhea creek, which, by the way, is not far removed from the banana belt.

F. A. McMennan went to Pendleton Friday morning to attend the wool growers meeting in session in that city Friday and Saturday, and also to be present at the meeting of the Friends of Irish Freedom in Pendleton Sunday.

W. P. Mahoney went to Pendleton Friday to attend the wool growers meeting, returning Sunday.

R. J. (Bob) Carsner, cattleman, sage and legislator-elect of Wheeler county, who registers from Spray and is at home anywhere in Oregon, was in town Thursday night on his way to the gathering of the sheepmen at Pendleton. Mr. Carsner was elected to the legislature at the recent election and will soon be registering from Salem.

C. C. Haynie and family expect to leave Heppner soon for Fairfield, Idaho, where he has accepted the cashiership of the Security National Bank. Mr. Haynie has been connected with the First National Bank here for the past year.

J. R. Olden, who raises alfalfa on Rhea creek and always smiles whether times are good or bad, was a business visitor in town Friday.

The new Heppner hotel, which, by the way, has been named the St. Patrick, accommodated its first guests last Thursday night when an even dozen registered and enjoyed the hospitality of mine host, James Hart, for the night.
