

The Money Crop

"WHATSOEVER A MAN SOWS, THAT SHALL HE ALSO REAP."

This is an unchanging law. There is no getting around it. If a man wants corn he plants corn. If he wants potatoes he plants potatoes. Therefore if he wants money he should plant money. How? By planting it in a savings account at our bank, where it will grow. There is no surer crop than the money crop if properly planted and carefully cultivated. Make a start. Let us help you.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS From Neighboring Towns

BOARDMAN

Boardman has organized the John Day Development League with the following officers: S. H. Boardman, president; A. W. Cobb, vice-president; M. B. Sigus, secretary; W. A. Goodwin, A. L. Larson, and C. H. Dillsbaugh, directors.

Invitations are to be sent to all towns in this section to cooperate with the organization by appointing three directors who will look after the activities of the league in their respective communities. The object of the league is to promote in every possible manner the development of the John Day irrigation district, and will include all forms of publicity including the annual barbecue, and cooperation with the directors of the John Day district.

M. B. Signs, secretary of the Commercial Club, will represent Boardman at the meeting of Commercial secretaries in Portland, December 27, and will also be a delegate to the State Chamber of Commerce, at the same place on the 28 and 29.

Officers for 1921 for the Boardman Farm Bureau are C. H. Dillsbaugh, president; A. L. Larsen, vice-president; M. B. Signs, secretary-treasurer.

The family of C. Shively, recent purchaser of the Pastime, has arrived and are occupying rooms in the Dodd Block on Main street. Three children of this family have entered school bringing excellent records with them. There has also been enrolled one pupil from the family of Chas. Dillon who recently purchased the Alex Wilson place.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson returned Friday from a trip to Portland and Vancouver.

Geo. Bartlow accompanied his mother to Vancouver, B. C. last week.

The Boardman schools closed for the holidays at 2 p. m. Thursday in order that all teachers might reach home in time for Christmas. There were Christmas exercises in the various departments of the school and treats were distributed to all the pupils. The Christmas festivities reached a climax on Friday night when the community gathered in the school auditorium for a general celebration. The program was in charge of the Sunday school, and treats for all were distributed. School will convene again on January 3.

HEAVY WIND STORM AT ECHO

Echo experienced an unusually severe wind storm Friday night, which blew down the electric light and left the city without light or power Friday night and Saturday. Considerable damage was done in the neighborhood to small buildings, hay stacks and chimneys. In the city the greatest damage was done to the Ross Co.'s store, a large plate glass window being broken. The grand stand at the ball park was also blown down.—Echo News.

BUSINESS LOCATIONS CHANGED

Several changes in business locations will be made this week when Roy V. Whiteis will move his real estate and insurance office into new quarters in the new Hotel St. Patrick building. Wells Bros. will also move their barber shop into the new hotel, the business room adjoining the lobby having been divided for the occupancies. It is also understood that E. J. Starkey will remove his electrical supply store from the present quarters in the Gilman building into the building being vacated by Mr. Whiteis.
