Mankind Analyzed.
Man is physically as well as metaphysically a thing of shreds and patches, borrowed unequally from good and bad ancestors, and a misfit from the beginning.—Emerson.

Ancient Wines Perfumed.
Greek and Roman wines were perfumed, generally by steeping the leaves of roses or violets in the liquor until it had acquired the odor of the flowers.

THE BROTHERHOOD AGAIN.

The preliminary organization of the Brotherhood effected on January 10, in the lobby of the new hotel, designated January 24 as the time for the general meeting to effect a permanent organization, so on Monday evening next all the men of the community are requested to meet in the lobby of the hotel promptly at 8:45 o'clock for luncheon and organization.

Tickets will be sold in advance for the luncheon, and may be had from the advertising committee, consisting of S. E. Notson, J. A. Waters, J. M. Hart and W. O. Livingstone, and the price will be 50 cents. See one of these men not later than Monday noon, and get your ticket. The tickets must be sold in advance in order that the hotel proprietor may know how many he must feed.

The organization has no political or religious bias, and is not a party or party organization. It is organized to supply a real need in the community. The men of Heppner should get together on a common ground for their mutual welfare, and the good of the entire community. Let us prove that it can be done by the organization of a strong Brotherhood. Every man in the whole community above the age of eighteen years is requested to purchase a ticket for the luncheon, unite with the organization, and boost for its permanent success.

The annual membership fee, is only fifty cents, and this, together with the luncheon price, is the only financial outlay required. The benefits to be derived from such an organization are many and lasting, and will in a few months be worth many times the cost. The meeting will close in time for the High School year number that will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Be present on Monday evening. Meantime boost to the limit for the Brotherhood.

WORK CURE FOR CRIME
SAYS DEAN F. G. YOUNG

University of Oregon, Eugene. — "Get everybody busy," said Dean Frederick G. Young of the school of sociology, when asked to give a remedy for the crime wave sweeping over the country. "There is no magic about it. If everybody is busy at the right sort of productive employment he will have a surplus to exchange and will be free from the post-war financial troubles."

A sort of clearing house for the nations in which they will get together and bolster up the credit of those that are down and see that the exchange is not tampered with, was given as another effective cure for the chaotic condition of affairs that leads to a large amount of crime. This would require a great deal of generosity on the part of the nations but would be a great aid to the stabilization of conditions.

The causes of the crime wave come directly from the war, according to Dean Young. There are two main factors that cause this trouble.

"The first is that war always disintegrates the moral standards of the people, develops in them a spirit of recklessness, and dulls their sensibilities," said the dean.

The general shake-up of the occupations, and the displacement of the workers was the second reason given by the doctor. The war, he said, in developing armies took the people away from their former peaceful callings and it was difficult for them to get back.
