

Your Wardrobe Now

Bring your clothes to the Heppner Tailoring and Cleaning Shop when they need to be cleaned, pressed and repaired. In so doing, you do justice to yourself and also to the man who has spent 28 years in learning and working at the trade. My steam pressing machine is a wonderful help in giving the clothes a new, fresh look. You save money two-fold by bringing them here. First, I charge less, and second, I fix the little rips that mean so much in giving a long wear to the clothes.

WATER SYSTEM PAYS CITY GOOD PROFIT

ALMOST $600 GAIN SHOWN FOR LAST MONTH

Estimated Profit for the First Year's Operation May Reach $10,000.00

That the new municipal water system is a paying investment for Heppner is indicated by a report made by the water committee of the city council at its latest meeting.

The report shows the amount collected for the month of January to have been $988.60 and the expenditures of $401.61, leaving a balance of $586.99. The total balance on hand March 1st was $1928.82.

When the system was completed last August there was a considerable deficit in the water fund, and the splendid showing made during the winter months when the use of water is at the minimum leads the committee to believe that by the end of the first year's operation the system should show a profit of around $10,000.

Other business transacted was the first and second reading of the ordinance regulating pool rooms and pastimes, with a view to permitting such places to open during certain hours on Sunday afternoons. The ordinance will come up for final decision at the next regular meeting.

CECIL

Mr. and Mrs. George Krohn of the Last Camp visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brady near Ione on Sunday.

Jim Gentry, of Heppner, was visiting around Cecil Sunday and taking in all the sights of the town.

Mrs. Hazel Logan and family spent Saturday among their friends in Arlington.

Mrs. L. Myers of Rockcliffe, and Mrs. C. Knipfel of Tentville, motored to Ione on Monday.

E. M. Shutt, real estate agent of Heppner, was doing business in the Cecil vicinity on Thursday.

Mrs. George Henriksen, of Rhea, was called to Canby, Oregon, during the week to the sick bed of her daughter, who is a student at the Canby high school. We are pleased to learn that Miss Mildred is improving.

If the cap fits—wear it. The following incident actually took place not a thousand miles from Cecil on "Willow creek," on March 5th, 1921. "Tired Jim" was taking a loving farewell of his best girl when Weary Willie, by the aid of his flashlight, witnessed the actual osculation and spread the news to mother. "Tired Jim" and his lady love are offering a handsome reward for the capture of "Weary Willie".

Paul Henry Weeks of the Shepherds' Rest, cook supreme of blue ribbon fame, was ordered by his master, R. A. Thompson, on Friday to bake a huge huckleberry pie. Gene Penland, who prefers riding on walking, confiscated R. A. T.'s Nash car and the huckleberry pie, and was seen delivering the pie into the safe keeping of Peter Bapereband, who quickly turned it over to Mrs. F. H. Lowe, who, thinking it was intended for her dinner table, treated all her family to huckleberry pie all evening to the best ever ate. Go up ahead, Paul. After dinner R. A. T. called at the store, was handed his empty pie plate with many thanks and was asked to have his faithful Paul recall the plate and pass it back again.

W. A. Thomas, of Benson's canyon, left on the local on Sunday for Oak Grove, where he will visit for several days with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allyn, late of Cecil, before leaving for Lincoln, California, where he intends to visit for a considerable time with his sister. Our best wishes for a pleasant holiday are extended to friend Bill.

Mrs. Oliver E. Foster of Heppner, spent Sunday with her husband, who is working for Bob Thompson at The Shepherds' Rest.

Mrs. Roy Scott, niece of Mrs. Jack Hynd, of Putterby that visited Mrs. T. H. Lowe at The Highway House on Monday.

C. A. Minor, of Heppner, was the dinner guest of W. T. Matlock at The Dovecot on Sunday.

J. W. Osborn was calling on his old friend J. M. Melton at The Look-out on Monday.

Mrs. E. H. Ellis and daughter, Miss Myrtle, of Ewing, were visitors in Cecil on Tuesday.

J. M. Melton informs us that his grandson Herbert Everett, who resides at Boardman, was taken suddenly ill while taking a truck to Portland and was taken care of at the Hood River hospital. We understand that he operated on for appendicitis and expects to be able to leave for home in a few days.

Alex Wilson and friends, from Boardman, made a short stay in Cecil on Wednesday.

Arthur Turner, who is assisting J. E. Crabtree at Dotheboy's Hill, was a Cecil business man Wednesday.

George Henriksen and Hermann Montgomery, of Rhea, were calling on the mayor Thursday.
