MORROW CO. HAY EAST VIA PANAMA CANAL

L. A. Hunt, manager of the Oregon Haygrowers association, was over from Hermiston Saturday saying hello to his friends here. Mr. Hunt reports the affairs of the haygrowers association in fine shape. The fourth shipment of Morrow County hay to go forward to Atlantic seaboard markets, was scheduled to leave Portland by steamer today consigned to New York via the Panama Canal. This shipment comprised 300 tons and it is expected several thousand tons will follow it as fast as it can be baled and graded for shipment. The opening up of a market in the east for north Morrow County hay is a great boon to the growers of that section of the county, and will dispose of most of the surplus hay in the county, Mr. Hunt believes.

STUDENTS ESTABLISH TENT HOME

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Houses are scarce and rents are high the world over, but two boys from The Dalles, Norman Russel and Guy Ferry, who are now Freshmen at the University of Oregon, have shown a resourceful independence of landlords. Their domicile is a tent under a leaning maple tree, about half a mile from the University campus, and they do their commuting on a motorcycle.

Their tent home is not a temporary expedient. They expect to live in it for four years. In June 1925, they expect to step from its shelter wearing caps and gowns.

Over a wooden foundation the men have placed an army wall tent. The wooden floor is boarded up from the sides for more than three feet. This wall is neatly covered with tar paper and the tent fits snugly down over the sides. A jointed stove pipe protruding from the south side of the tent and a split pile of wood bear witness that the men are standing by for chilly weather. Electric light will soon be installed.

COMING PICTURES WILL HAVE LOCAL INTEREST

Added interest will be given to the two exceptional pictures soon to be shown at the Star, "Dangerous Curve Ahead," and "The Old Nest," when it is known that a leading actor in both pictures is 5-year-old Robert De Vilbis, grandson of C. W. Shurte, of this city. Robert visited here some three years ago and soon after returning to his Los Angeles home he went into the movie actor business and has been at it ever since.

Heppner people will recall the Booth Tarkington story picture showed here some time ago in which young Robert appeared and it is said that the coming pictures show the prodigy to still better advantage.

POST OFFICE DOES SOME BUSINESS

If anyone thinks the Heppner post office doesn't do much business he should read this:

From October 1st to October 15th inclusive, there was received 1374 pieces of incoming parcel post mail weighing an aggregate of 9649 pounds. During the same time there was received and sent out from this office 568 packages weighing an aggregate of 2450 pounds, making a total of a little better than six tons of parcel post matter in 15 days. No wonder our postmaster weighs less than 200 pounds is it? Wonder how much of that incoming stuff was from Rears & Sawbuck?

Mail order houses advertise entirely in the country districts by the catalog method. Local merchants have a much better method of advertising their goods through the medium of the local newspapers if used judiciously and we Herald people are always mighty glad to help you write your ads, if you will only say the word.

OLD HEPPNER MORO GRUDGE EVENED AT 64-0 CLIP

Do you remember the good old days when Moro used to send over a football team with big Elsworth in the lineup, and the hours of squabbling before each game as to whether he was eligible to play; and the reports that were used to spice those arguments as to the years he had been married and the number of children he had? And do you remember that in the days when Elsworth played football or baseball, as the case might have been, that Moro would trundle happily home after a game with Heppner with the big end of the score tucked in under the seat?

That day has changed. Moro journeyed to Heppner last Saturday with big Elsworth conspicuous this time by his absence. But it wouldn't have made much difference this year if he had had the whole Elsworth family in that crowd. Heppner is simply too much for them.

Practically the only sensation of the day came at the beginning of the game after Moro had received the ball from Heppner's kickoff and on the first down ran the ball up the field for about 25 yards. We term this a sensation, on looking back at the game as it was the only accident that happened to Moro during the entire game.

After this Heppner got the ball and it was just one touch down after another until the end of the first half when the scoreboard registered Heppner 47 to Moro's goose-egg. And Moro was ready to quit.

The last two quarters were shortened to 5 minutes each as an inducement to keep the Sherman county boys on the job.

The game ended with Heppner 64 points in the lead and Moro still holding strong to their original figure on the scoreboard for consolation honors.

RITTER ROAD GETS FEDERAL ROAD MONEY

Roadmaster McCaleb reports that Morrow County has at last got a drag out of Uncle Sam's road money pocket to the tune of $148.50 which is just 100 per cent more than we got from the old gentleman last year. If the drag continues for twenty years at the same rate of increase we will have enough money to hard surface every mile of road in the county. How is that for a day dream?

The $148.50 has been expended on the road to Ritter which is said to now be in pretty good shape.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. A. D. McMurdo announces that he has acquired full ownership and control of the former Heppner Sanitarium hospital and surgical equipment which has been in use in the Moore hospital and has removed the same to Mrs. James Gentry's residence, Mrs. Gentry having offered the use of her home for hospital purposes. The place is being fitted up as a strictly modern surgery and the public is assured of the very best treatment and attention. Rates $3.50 per day.—Advertisement. 11

ELKS WILL DANCE HALLOWE'EN

A Halloween party for Elks and their ladies will be given in Elk's temple Monday evening, October 31. Cards and dancing. All Elks welcome.

Many Interesting News Notes From Heppner High School

(Edited by Junior English Class)

Last week there were only two days of school because of teachers' institute the last three days. The institute was very successful. About sixty teachers attended. The speakers from out of town were: Mr. Gentle, of the Oregon State Normal; Mr. Churchill, our state superintendent; Miss Cowgill, of O. A. C.; Dr. Clark, of the U. of O.; Miss Schreyer, public health nurse and Miss Maressey, who gave instructions in the Palmer method of writing.

The musical program was furnished under the instructions of Miss Dafoe. Many musical numbers were given by the students of the high school. Velma Case sang a solo. Bernice Woodson played an instrumental solo, Betty Irwin danced, Patty Mahoney and Mrs. Darbee sang. Mrs. Roy Missaldine and Mrs. Frank Turner sang a beautiful duet.

A mixed quartet was formed for these three days by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, Miss Palmateer and Mr. Lee. They sang the Oregon State song. All the teachers were given a copy of this song which they sang at every meeting.

The high school orchestra is progressing very nicely and will soon be able to appear before the public.

Last Friday evening was the first number of the lyceum course to come here this year. This number was well patronized by the people of Heppner. If the next five numbers are as good as the first one, they will give the people of Heppner something worth while. The total amount taken in for the season ticket Lyceum campaign is three hundred and fifteen dollars. Violet Merritt and Mary Van Vactor won the three pound box of candy by selling the largest number of season tickets.

Heppner made the biggest score of its football history Saturday when it defeated Moro 70 to 0.

The game started with Heppner kicking off. The Moro team received the ball but did not run it back very far. They ran a few successful end runs but lost the ball on blocked punt. The Heppner team made an off tackle buck; then Ferguson carried the ball over on a criss-cross play. Ferguson failed to kick goal. After that it was a foot race for the goal posts. The first half ended with a score of 49 to 0 in Heppner's favor.

As the Moro boys were tired partly crippled from Friday's game at Grass Valley, the quarters of the last half were shortened to 5 minutes each.

In the third quarter Heppner tried two place kicks but failed. Irwin had Wittercraft try a drop kick which was successful. After that the game was more of a practice game, for all the substitutes were used and many forward passes tried with a few of them completed.

Raymond Ferguson was the only player hurt on the field. He was replaced by "Brick" Hall and the game kept up its running style.

Heppner has only one more game scheduled and that is with Lexington on the 11th of November. The manager has written to other schools for games but has not received any replies as yet.

Harold Case, who has been on an extended vacation, started to school Monday.

Violet Merritt is trying to find some place to hide that box of candy, but she says it is impossible with so many admirers.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Arlene Hibbs, a young man who was herding for Jim Farley, over in the Gurdane country, was found dead on the range several days ago with a bullet wound just over the eye. Another herder noticed Hibbs' sheep scattered and went to look for him, finding him dead. The coroner of Umatilla county made an investigation and decided the shooting was accidental. His father, who resides at Boise, Idaho, was notified.

BOARDMAN AND IRRIGON HOLD DAIRY MEETING

Arrangements have just been made to have in N. C. Jamison, Extension dairyman from Corvallis, and H. K. Dean from the Hermiston Experiment Station for dairy meetings which will be held in the north end of the county Friday afternoon and evening. Mr. Jamison will discuss dairy rations that will be best suited to the conditions of the dairymen in the north end of the county and Mr. H. K. Dean will discuss the value of permanent pasture to the dairymen and how they can be made.

The meeting will be held at Boardman Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the meeting at Irrigon will be held at 7:30 the same evening.

C. C. CALKINS, County Agent.

Sylvan G. Cohn, of Pendleton, was here on business yesterday.

COUNTY OFFICIALS INTERVIEWING HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Judge Campbell, Commissioners Bleakman and Davidson and Clerk Waters left for Portland Sunday to be present today at the regular meeting of the State Highway Commission when it is expected the contract will be awarded for the paving of the Heppner-Lexington section of the Oregon-Washington highway.

Highway Commissioner Barratt went over the Gilliam county section of the highway, between the Morrow county line and Heppner Junction a short time ago with members of the Gilliam county court, looking over some necessary changes in the survey and it is understood the Gilliam county officials are willing to co-operate in the completion of that section of the highway.

With the highway completed to the Columbia river highway, we people up here need not care a hoot for railroads and railroad strikes for trucking and staging will be pretty good, thank you.

OLD TIMER VISITS HEPPNER

Chas. D. Sennett, who is one of the oldest old timers of what is now Morrow county, was in Heppner Monday skimming around as lively as a boy of 45 or 50 in spite of the fact that he came to Oregon in 1860 and was almost of age at that time. He came to eastern Oregon and to what is now Heppner in 1874 when all that was here was the Heppner & Maddock store, the Ferguson house where travel was kept and the Stansbery cabin near where the new May street bridge is now being built. Mr. Sennett kept the stage station on the old overland route in the days when old John Hailey operated the stage line and this was on the real frontier.

Mr. Sennett now lives in Montana but is spending the winter at Lone. He was here looking after some legal matters for a friend of his and was too busy to unfold any stories of the pioneer days but he is coming back some day when he has more time to talk and then we will get some real history.

THERE'S A REASON

There must be a reason for it, but you have noticed that the sun comes up every morning, and sets every evening. It might be that if the sun shone night and day that it would get tiresome, and the residents of the earth would not appreciate it as they should—or it might be for any other of a hundred different reasons.

But the sun is like advertising, that is, doing the advertiser some good. A man who is continuously in the selling game must be just as continuously in the advertising game, if he would be successful. Like the sun keeps rising and setting, advertising must be kept going. If the same ad runs several months or weeks, it is like the sun; if it kept tiresome and wouldn't do the work it was expected to do.

Whether he be farmer, stockman, merchant, professional man, fruit grower, laboring man—if he has anything to sell and wants to get rid of it soon, he should advertise it in the Herald.

Naturally when a man is not in the business of selling, and just has a horse an auto, a pig, a few chickens, a used washing machine, an instrument, a house and lot, or just a lot, a bushel of potatoes—no more—some peaches, oranges or any other of a thousand things that are for sale in this vicinity, a small ad run once or twice, will do the business.

But if he is in the selling business he should be like the sun—keep everlastingly at it. And while you are speaking of advertising, it is well to remember that this paper is a recognized advertising medium of this community. We don't claim to go into every home, but we do claim that we go into enough homes so the man, woman or child who advertises with us will get more than the value received.

And we want to help you—if you need help or want help—in preparing the copy for your advertising. Phone us or write us, or come in and see us. Any one of the three ways will be satisfactory with us, and we'll make it more than satisfactory for you.

WOOL GROWERS PLAN A MARKETING AGENCY

That the state and national associations of wool growers may be completely reorganized along lines which will make possible co-operative marketing of both wool and lambs is a forecast made by F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers association in a letter which has been received by Mat Hoke, secretary of the Oregon Wool Growers association says the East Oregonian.

A request is made in this letter to the effect that the Oregon sheepmen continue the date of their state meeting until after the national meeting has been held in order that the results of the national meeting may be first ascertained and possibly acted on later by the state.

It is probable that the request of the national secretary will be honored, Mr. Hoke said. Last year the Oregon sheepmen met in December. The date this year for the national association's meet has not been definitely set, but it is probable that it will start about January 9th. In this event the Oregon meeting will be held during the latter part of the month, it is thought.

According to Marshall's letter to Hoke, plans are now on foot to have the Wool Growers Commission Co., now under private ownership and being managed by A. J. Knolin, turned over to the National association. The state associations would be made units of the national organization in the new marketing scheme, according to tentative plans.

The wide spread of prices that exists between what the producer gets and what the consumer pays when he orders lamb chops is given as one cause of the determination of sheepmen to organize.

BAKER MAN APPOINTED TO SUPREME BENCH

John L. Rand, prominent attorney of Baker, has been appointed by Governor DeLoett to fill the vacancy in the Oregon Supreme court, occasioned by the recent death of Justice Henry L. Benson.

Judge Rand has been a practicing attorney in Baker since 1886 and has been prominent as a citizen of eastern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray left this morning for Bakersfield, California, where they expect to reside. Mr. Murray expects to engage in the grape business in that country.

Mrs. Moore and daughter, Miss Alice Moore, of Banks, Oregon, were here for a few days during the week the guests of Henry Stoler, of the First National Bank. The ladies returned to their home Monday.

Mrs. Olive Beach died at Lexington Sunday at the home of her nephew Karl Beach. She was 68 years old and death came suddenly as the result of heart disease. The remains were sent to Portland for interment.

Don't forget about Herald bargain week. A dollar is worth saving these days and when you figure that you can get all the news of Morrow county for a whole year for only a dollar, less than two cents a week, nothing's left. Sure you can afford it.

Henry Gay, veteran farmer and fruit grower of Rhea creek, was in town Saturday visiting around and doing some shopping. Mr. Gay, being a modest man, is not likely to tell anyone that he grows better flavored apples on his Rhea creek ranch than Hood River ever dreamed of, but it's a fact.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, of Castle Rock, were in town for a few days on business. Mr. Marshall returning to his home Friday morning. Mrs. Marshall expected to return today. Castle Rock is now the southern terminal of the Straight ferry which runs straight from Castle Rock to Alderdale, Washington.

Dan Boone, former west known Lexington boy, now rafting out of Roseburg, was here for a few days last week visiting friends and arranging to take his father, Col. Cyrus C. Boone, veteran of the civil war, to the Soldiers home at Roseburg. Col. Boone is quite aged. He is a descendant of Daniel Boone, famous frontiersman, of Kentucky. Dan and Walter Johnson, another Lexington boy were the first Morrow county boys to enlist in the U. S. navy when it was certain this country was sure to become involved in the world war.
