

Something That is Cheap.
The Director of the American Museum of Natural History announces that mastodon bones are a drug on the market and prices are down to nearly nothing. If you have been delaying your purchase of mastodon bones, now is the time to lay in a supply.

The Wise Man.
The wise man is equal, ready, but not officious; has in every thing an eye to sure-footing; he offends no body, nor is easily offended; and is always willing to compound for wrongs, if not forgive them.—William Penn.

What Women Think

By Mary, the Girl Reporter

Paw and Maw have been arguin for the past to months as 2 whit kind of an ottomobile they was goin to git and they jest reeched a decision yisterday. They aint goin to git enny.

The bankers came out to the coast last month, to talk over conditions—and the quibblers went them one better. They went to Honolulu. They saw more and only paid Honolulu prices.

Now that the Christmas season is approaching nearer, the astute girl, who wasn't afraid of corn bread, hominy and bacon, is going to have it all over her sister who wears the lead pencil size stockings.

There will probably be something doing in this burg on November 11—but there's no chance of the same celebration being staged as there was three years ago on the same date.

Ten years ago a fatal automobile accident would make a good scare head in the metropolitan papers. Now they go down in the lower right hand corner and a decrease in the rates of lights or gas takes their place.

There are any number of people in this country that are worried almost to distraction for fear they will find something to be thankful for.

There are plenty of men in business who wish they were in the position of the laboring man who thinks he is unfortunate because he is out of a job. But a man isn't whipped till he quits fighting.

Some of the corn growers of the central states are worried, thinking the cotton growers have figured out some way to make hootch out of their product—because why else should the price go up.

Men who spend their evenings "out", make the claim that this is going to be a hard winter because the chickens are roosting high and they should know.

"There is no great loss but what there is some small gain." A lot of us wont have to worry about the income tax man this year and that helps some.

The money that is spent to see football games on Thanksgiving day would save millions of lives in foreign countries—but some of the fans are certain that going to see the games will save their lives too.

If automobile manufacturers had seen fit to put the price of their cars down to the present price two years ago, we'd all have cars and wouldn't need to worry about the decrease of salaries—unless we wanted to eat too.

Some of the smaller countries—among them Greece and Turkey—think disarmament there would have the same effect prohibition has in the United States.

When the U. S. troops were on the border in 1916-17, word came that Germany expected America to pay for the war—and a lot of fellows in this little old land of the free and the home of the bootleggers, are now willing to admit that Uncle Sam is raying the bill—and they are on as security.

South Carolina newspaper says there is one American book that is right popular in Europe now—and that is the American pocket book.

BALLYHOONG For Our Own Cause

We aren't trying to argue at any time that there are no larger print shops in the world than the Herald has, but we want to say right now that the size of a print shop has nothing to do with the quality of work it turns out, neither does it make any difference as to service the printers give.

Our shop is large enough to take care of the needs of this community and if we had a lot of idle machinery standing around, well, there'd be depreciation on that to almost as great an extent as there would be to the machinery that was working.

But we do want to impress upon our readers that we are equipped to do anything in the printing line that comes our way. And when we say printing, we do not mean that we will throw a handful of type into the chase, daub some ink on the press, and jerk off a job that looks like it has been done by a elder press. When we say we will print a job of work, no matter how large or small, we will use our very best judgment in getting out a well balanced job—one that indicates on the face of it, without using the imprint—that it was done at the Herald shop.

We don't want to do all the printing in the world, but we want to do all the work we can do, and so long as we continue to give first class service with a quality of work that is unexcelled, we wont need to worry. All we want to do here is keep you reminded that we do it.

You may need some envelopes, let-terheads, bill heads, booklets, catalogues, sale bills, cards, blotters, checks, etc., etc., and if you do, let us show you the kind of work we can do.

Trouble and Triplets Come in Bunches

We don't pretend to know any more about triplets than as mentioned above, and your troubles will be fewer and farther between if you will let us CLEAN, PRESS and take care of your soiled garments.

"Efficiency" is our first name and "Service" is our middle name.

You look, feel, act and ARE clean when you let us work on your clothes.

LLOYD HUTCHINSON

YOU aren't a knocker Why let your engine be one?

We are none of us in love with a "knocker," whether it be man, woman or the motor of your automobile. At the first sign of a knock, bring the car to this "fix shop and let us give it the "once over." There may be nothing seriously wrong—but just a little wrong soon makes a big one.

We can give satisfactory service at all times and we just do the work in our line—we repair, install new parts, and get an auto that wont hit even on one cylinder to working like a charm.

Come in without knocking—your car goes out the same way.

You've Eaten the Rest Now Try the Best

We never tried to kid ourselves into believing that any old kind of groceries will sell here. We found out, early in life, that one eats to live—so if they eat the best, they live to enjoy it for a much longer time.

And the pure food law has no terrors for us. "NEAT, CLEAN AND TASTY," is our motto, and when the inspector comes in and takes a slant at our display he knows he has no business hanging around here. We have the kind of groceries, canned goods, etc., that you want—and we do not ask a higher price than you want to pay.
