STAR THEATRE

Program for Nov. 2nd to Nov. 6th Inclusive Wednesday and Thursday: Sessue Hayakawa in "BLACK ROSES." A real artist in a superior production. Also Comedy Friday Alice Calhoun in "CLOSED DOORS." Also 10th episode of "Fighting Fate." "Closed Doors" is an other example of the excellent features we are showing with our serial. Our friends tell us that these features alone are worth the price of admission. Saturday: May McAvoy and Bruce Gordon in "THE HOUSE OF THE TOLLING BELL," from the novel by Edith Sessions Tupper. Very spooky. If you like ghost stories, dont miss this. Also Comedy and Pathe Review. Sunday: Will Rodgers in "HONEST HUTCH." He was shiftless, soddan, grimy and unloved until a sudden twitch in Fate's looming of his life made him upright, active and respectable. Old Hutch was so dog-goned lazy that folks used to say he wouldn't have gumption enough to say "here" when Gabriel blew his horn. The story of this homely miracle makes what we think is the finest comedy ever shown in Heppner and the most wonderful piece of acting since Joe Jefferson's "Rip VanWinkle."
