CECIL

November 20: Snowed in. No trains, no callers, no gossip; even Thanksgiving turkeys refused to survive the storm and several tables were minus turkey for Thanksgiving day. Wheat men are delighted with the cover. November 21, a covering of twenty inches of snow in Cecil.

November 22 Krebs Bros took a trip to Ella with hay for a large band of ewes belonging to Smythe Bros. of Arlington, which arrived at Cecil after the neighbors had broken a road to Kreb Bros. ranch. The sheep are now enroute for Arlington.

November 22nd news reached Cecil that P. E. Duncan, who had left Friday the 18th with a truck load of honey for Condon, was snowed in near Clem and it would be several days before he could reach his home.

The mayor and his deputies with several other men took hay to McDaid's canyon where sheep belonging to Kinney & Healey were storm bound on November 23rd. We hear the sheep arrived November 25th at Killarney, the ranch of J. J. McEnisre, near Cecil.

Miss Violet Hynd and Miss Doris Logan arrived on the local November 24th to eat Thanksgiving dinner with their home folks.

November 24th the barn at Rockcliffe belonging to Krebs Bros. fell in and to keep it company the barns of Hafferty Bros. at Shady Dell, and the barn of Everett Logan at Fairview, also collapsed.

Mrs. T. H. Lowe wishes to thank every one who enrolled during the Red Cross Roll Call. Thirty members were enrolled in spite of the storm.

November 25th and 26th: Snow melting fast, traveling bad. Geese and ducks seem to be the only things that are insight. Several bands passing over Cecil at time of writing.

You Are Not READY For CHRISTMAS

Naw sir!—Unless your car is running like a new one, you are not ready for the Christmas and New Year holidays. And if you'll bring the "makin's of Jawn D" in and let us tune it up, you can go anywhere you want to, and go as quickly as you care to.

The regular cars aren't laid up for the winter any more. There's nothing too difficult for us to attempt—and we always do what we set out to do.

Where Your Taxes Go

How Uncle Sam Spends Your Money in Conducting Your Business

WHY YOU'RE INTERESTED

I wish you would take what is written here as a personal report addressed directly to you from me about your business. Don't think of it or read it as an article about "politics," or remote public affairs at Washington. It is not that at all. It is what I ask you to think it, a personal business report to you relating to your individual concerns, your pocketbook and your welfare. I have no other interest than to tell you the exact truth.

Assume that you have sent me to Washington to find out for you what your agents are doing, how they are managing your affairs and spending your money. I call them your agents for that is all they are—the President, the members of the cabinet, the senators and all the members of the house of representatives. You hire them, you pay them, and you can fire them.

You may think of them in deference and awe as a group of eminent statesmen, or you may call them in flippancy and too hasty contempt "a lot of politicians." But whatever you call them, they are your hired men. They attend to your collective business, which is called the public business.

Query: Are they doing it efficiently and with a single-minded devotion to your interests?

Perhaps the largest item in the high cost of living is the high cost of government. And far and away the largest item in the high cost of government is the high cost of armament; preparation for war. About 90 per cent of all government revenues, and that means the money taken from you as taxes, goes to pay for wars, past, present and future.

Before I have concluded this series of articles I expect to show you conclusively that the impelling motive that induced President Harding to call the present conference in Washington to consider limitation of armaments was financial. The pressing need of considering a proposal for a reduction or limitation by agreement of war expenditure was not made entirely on the ground of morality or righteousness, but as a plan for cutting down the operating expenses of the government.

If the United States government were an individual we would say that it was broke, for its expenses exceed its income.

Your interest is simply this: that whatever decision is made you will have to pay the bill. If today we didn't have these army and navy expenses you would have to pay in taxes less than $1,000,000,000 a year instead of $5,000,000,000. That means we would have about $4,000,000,000 more a year to spend on our private needs and pleasures. I frankly confess that I would enjoy having four-fifths of my taxes knocked off. Wouldn't you?

Secretary Weeks of the War department gave public warning a little while ago that the government would require of us about $17,000,000 in the next thirty months to meet current expenses and other obligations. Persons who have given close study to that possibility say that the need will be nearer $20,000,000, than $17,000,000. The great bulk of that is for past and prospective war expenditures.

For this, you and congress and the Executive departments at Washington are responsible. You more than anybody else, for it is your money that is being spent and you can stop it. In its simplest terms the procedure is this: You earn the money, congress takes it away from you in the form of taxes, and then congress and the Executive departments spend it.

A great part of it is wasted. This is established, conceded, confessed, and acknowledged by congress, which authorizes the expenditures, and by the executive officers of the government, who do the actual spending. It is your money that you have earned in your business, on your farm, or by the labor of your hands, that is being expended and wasted at Washington.

Every cent that is extravagantly or needlessly expended by the government you could have in your pocket to meet the increased cost of food, lodging and clothing, doctors' bills and amusements, or to put away and save against a rainy day; if you only demanded determinedly and unitedly that governmental extravagance should cease.

I can tell you some of the conditions of governmental spending and how your money is chucked about, and I can tell you how you can stop it. The power is yours, and until you exercise it waste and extravagance will not stop.

Man Must Have Mustache.

To be without a mustache is a disgrace in many parts of North, or High, Albania. The Albanian mother tells her child stories in which, unlike our stage melodrama, it always is the hairless man who figures as the villain.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.
