Miss Zara Snell, a teacher in the Hardman schools, was a visitor in Heppner Saturday.

Mrs. C. C. Chick who was confined to the hospital for a few days last week is reported to be on the streets again.

GUARANTEED Service of a Jersey bull at J. J. Well's ranch $2.50.

Wheat looks good in the Eight mile country since the snow went off reports Howard W. Anderson, who was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Jason Biddle, who was at the Moore hospital a few days last week suffering from grippe, is at home again.

Roy Pickens who succeeded R. E. Crego as local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., has arrived from Baker and is getting into the harness. His family is expected to join him here in a short time.

Mrs. Ed Atkins, who was confined to her room for several months with a severe attack of neuritis, is reported to be considerably improved and able to be up a part of the time.

Boyd & Buyers, proprietors of the old Scheup chop mill, are improving the dull season by making a number of repairs and improvements in their plant which will increase the efficiency and convenience of the mill to a considerable extent.

Gordon Johnson who spent last week here looking around, went on to Hood River Saturday to look over that district. Mr. Johnson is looking for a small chicken and fruit ranch close to market.

Corset manufacturers and dealers should be pleased with the recent announcement that Dr. Copeland, New York Health commissioner, and Dr. Lorenz, the famous Austrian surgeon declare that the corset is about the most important item of women's apparel from a health standpoint. Those Portland girls, who the preachers charged with "parking" theirs at school dances should take warning from this announcement and keep 'em on.

M. Fitzmaurice, prominent citizen of Condon, and inspector for the Federal Land Bank, at Epitane, was here for a few days during the week on a business trip. "Fitz" was a former newspaper man at Condon, being publisher of the Condon Times before the two papers were consolidated by George Flagg, but after a few years in the newspaper game he accumulated enough money to retire and make his present connection with the banking business.

County Surveyor Joe Kirtzler has been making a survey and plans for sidewalk approaches to the May street bridge that when in place will add to the appearance and convenience of that handsome structure. The approaches will start from the sidewalk line about 60 feet from the bridge and connect with the sidewalks on the bridge on a reverse curve. Considerable filling will be required under the new walks.

Vic Groshen, who is an expert "rubble" stone mason, is engaged building rubble walls laid in cement mortar under the new bridges now being finished by Tobin & Pierce, to protect the bridges from the creek during high water. The walls will be finished with a coating of concrete cement and look as though they ought to stand anything. The new bridges are handsome and substantial structures and reflect much credit on the skill and integrity of the contractors who because of bad weather have been heavy losers in time and expenses in finishing the work.

County Commissioner George Bleakman, of Hardman, was in town attending county court last week and announced that he has secured the contract for carrying the Heppner-Hardman-Parkers Mill mail, to take effect July 1st, when the present contract held by J.C. Owens, expires. Mr. Bleakman, however, may take over Mr. Owen's contract and undertake the work within a short time. Mr. Bleakman does not seem to be worrying about politics and says he will be money ahead if he does not succeed himself as commissioner.

Andy Hayes returned from Pendleton Sunday evening accompanied by his niece, Miss Neva Hayes, who was injured some time ago in an automobile accident at Pendleton. Miss Hayes was thrown from the machine striking on her head and at first it was believed her injury was slight. Later, however, she became worse and an X-Ray examination revealed a fracture of the skull and for a time her condition was considered serious. She is improving rapidly now, however, and it is believed a period of rest and quiet will fully restore her. Miss Hayes is at the Moore hospital temporarily until a quiet place in some private home is found for her. Mrs. Louise Martin, chief operator in the Pendleton telephone exchange, where Miss Hayes was employed, accompanied her to Heppner Sunday returning Monday morning. While in town Mrs. Martin, who formerly resided here was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Sigsbee.

SHEEP LEAVE LOCAL YARDS THIS MORNING

W. W. Stabler, of Portland, shipped out 13 cars of two-year-old wethers this morning, nine cars being billed to the Seattle market and four to Chicago. W. W. Stabler bought the sheep from Mike Kenny and Pat Connell a week ago. Mr. Stabler is still here and is in the market for more sheep.
