EMPLOYERS LIABILITY ACT COVERS FARMERS

The following article is taken from the Extension Service News, published by the Extension Service of the Oregon Agricultural College, and will be of interest to employers of farm labor:

"The farmers of the state may not generally know that under a decision of the Oregon supreme court made in April, 1917, they are subject to the operation of the Employers Liability Act with practically the same effect as any of the most hazardous occupations. It was decided in that case that an injured farm hand had a right of action for damages against his employer even though there was a contributory negligence on his part.

"The knowledge of this condition has caused many farmers throughout the state to embrace the protection afforded by the Oregon Compensation Law as administered by the State Industrial Accident Commission, which is a state institution not operated for profit, but for the benefit of Oregon citizens and which furnishes a guarantee to the employer against lawsuits.

"An employer who is operating under the Industrial Accident Commission pays a certain percentage or payroll into the state fund, his workers each contributing one cent a day to the same fund. When accident happens and a workman is injured he is entitled to medical attention and care, also compensation for loss of time, and in such cases of accident as result in death, the widow and children or other dependents receive substantial relief, the widow for all her life, unless she remarries, and the children to the age of 16 years.

"All this is paid from the contributed funds, the beneficiary requiring no lawyers or other costly agencies to obtain it and the employer being relieved of legal liability.

"All this is done at the lowest possible expense because the Industrial Accident Commission is a state functionary, existing and operating, not for profit, but for service to the whole people.

"Farmers who may feel interested in the matter can obtain all particulars and instructions by applying to the Commission at Salem."

Safety and Convenience

Do you know that nine-tenths of the business of the United States is done by some form of check? This convenient condition is possible because the banking system of this country has been placed on such a safe basis that corporations and individuals have faith in it. The welfare of the banks depends in a large measure upon maintaining this confidence.

A checking account with this bank is an absolutely safe proposition. Your money is safer than it is in your pocket and your check is as good as your money in any business transaction. We shall be pleased to have you open a checking account with us. You will find your account to be a means to safety and convenience.

MISS EDNA BAUMAN GUEST OF HONOR AT SHOWER PARTY

Mrs. Edna Viola Bauman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bauman, of near Lexington was the guest of honor at a bride's shower party given at Lexington last Tuesday evening with Mesdames Ray White and Ralph Jackson as hostesses. Miss Bauman was married last Sunday morning to Mr. Walter L. Lyons, of Portland.

The party was given in Leach hall, at Lexington, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being orange and white and, carrying out the same idea, the refreshments consisted of oranges, ice cream and cake. Many beautiful and costly presents were showered on the bride-to-be and the occasion was a most happy one.

Mrs. Pyle was in from Parkers Mill Saturday arranging for a big celebration at that place July 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Dr. Hayden, of Monument, was a guest at the Patrick Wednesday evening.
