The Eats That are TREATS

We make it our business to sell meats for eats that are real treats. And we don't comply with the food laws because it is compulsory—we do it because we want, and expect to get good service and fair treatment from merchants and professional men with whom we deal, and because we know it is our business to sell only the best.

For breakfast, lunch, or dinner we can supply your wants, no matter how elaborate or how conservative. We have arranged to fill all orders and would like to see your meat order.

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott Watson

SOUTH SEA ISLANDER WHO WAS CROOK'S FAVORITE SCOUT

"I would rather lose a third of my army than to have Frank Guard killed," once declared Gen. Frank Crook, and when this great Indian fighter set such a high value on the services of a scout it meant, that Frank Guard was without a peer. Guard was born in Tahiti in 1850, the son of an American trader and a native woman. His father returned to this country when Frank was but two years old and at the age of fifteen Frank ran away from home and went to Montana. Guard became a mail carrier, a dangerous job in a country full of hostile Sioux. They captured him finally and were preparing to kill him when a young brave pleaded for his life. Calling their attention to Frank's swarthy complexion he declared that the mail carrier must be an Indian who had been captured by the whites. This Indian was the renowned Sitting Bull. For 19 months Guard was guarded closely and, realizing the uselessness of attempting to escape, he learned the Sioux tongue and entered into the Indian life as one of them. He lived with the Indians six years before he finally escaped.

One day Guard was scouting for an officer who attempted to guide his command by use of the compass. They became lost in a blinding snow storm. Frank borrowed the officer's compass, snatched it against a rock, and then, taking the lead, he guided the soldiers straight to the place they wished to go.

Guard's greatest exploit was his part in the "Sibley Scout" in 1876. Lieut. S. W. Sibley was sent out on a scout to find the Indians. He found them, and in a short time his little command was surrounded by hundreds of Sioux and Cheyennes. After a desperate fight in which the Cheyenne chief, White Antelope, was killed, the soldiers were forced to abandon their horses and attempt escape on foot.

Guard's knowledge of the country was all that saved them. He led them over unknown mountain trails, winding through the deep canyons and around high peaks, until the Indians were outdistanced. The next day he guided them to a high point on a mountain side and pointed down. Below them lay Crook's camp. Frank Guard was given a life-time position as a government scout and he performed valuable services in the last uprising of the Sioux, the Ghost Dance war of 1890-91. In 1894 Frank saw his father for the first time since he had run away from home. Guard died in St. Joseph Mo., in 1912.

INTUITION MORE THAN HUNCH

Consequently, as Lady Writter Says, It Must Never Miscarry, but There Have Been Instances.

"I have discussed the matter with a celebrated doctor of medicine (who believes that genius is caused by microbes), and he ascribes intuition to an atavistic endowment. He somewhat inconsistently mentions Eve and Ann Whitfield in the same sentence by way of epigram. After going to all this trouble he was quite insulted when I tried to explain the existence of something that did not exist. Yet I will bet all I have in my pockets that the dear doctor has never once in his life allowed a female nurse's intuition to tell him where to dig for an appendix. "Hell hath no fury like a woman whose intuition hath slipped a cog. A popular journal recently had the temerity to challenge the idol in a joke column: Two women are talking. One says: 'I hear that Mrs. Titherington-Blobbs has eloped with Major Snow.' The other replies: 'How disgusting, I thought it would be Colonel Swish.' What, pray, disgusted the lady but the miscarriage of her intuition?"

"Intuition, if it existed, would never miscarry; otherwise it would be a mere hunch, such as a man may receive. If woman's hunches were infallible the gift would have been capitalized long ago. Throgmorton street mocks the wrecks of men who have tried to capitalize their wives' intuitions."—Boston Herald.

Tin Hats on Peace footing.
There are no swords to be turned into plowshares in modern warfare, but on many a field the famous tin hat of the American soldier is now doing sentry duty to scare away feathered marauders, the New York Sun states. The tin hat is playing its part as gallantly in the arena of agriculture as in that of war. Perched upon a wooden pole around which an old coat has been draped, it helps to create a rather formidable figure of a warrior and in some instances, when the coat is an old army tunic, the motionless figure when seen from a train window or fast instanter seems like a ghost from the fields of France.

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS

Union Pacific System Announces Fifteen in 1922 and 1923

Corvallis, Ore.—A free agricultural scholarship, it has just been announced, will be awarded by the Union Pacific System to the highest ranking club boy in fifteen Oregon Counties during the years 1922 and 1923. The scholarship will be in the College of Agriculture, or the short winter course of the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oregon, and will be worth $25.00, plus transportation.

The counties in which the scholarships will be given are: Baker, Crook, Dea Clutes, Gilliam, Harney, Hood River, Jefferson, Morrow, Multnomah, Polk, Sherman, Union, Wasco, Wallowa and Wheeler.

For the 1923 requirements it is proposed that ten acres of wheat, five acres of corn, one acre of potatoes, or any of the five soil projects now being conducted under the Boys' and Girls' Club Work, shall be grown or completed by each person entering the above competition. The requirements for 1922 are similar to those of 1923, except that the competition shall be upon projects now in effect, such as wolf clubs, pig clubs, potato and corn clubs, etc., and prizes are offered only in such counties as can be arranged before the close of the present season.

The winner in each county will be chosen from among the ten boys ranking highest in the county club projects, on the following basis: 75 per cent on rural club work; 25 per cent on activities of the boy in community affairs.

The name of those boys in community affairs, and the county winner, will be determined by a committee of three, consisting of the County Superintendent, one person appointed by the Director of Extension in the Oregon Agricultural College, and a third person to be chosen by those two members.

The scholarship must be used within a year of the date of award, except where the boy is a regular attendant at school. In this case, it may be used the year following, or at the next session following the time the boy finishes school.

The action of the Union Pacific System is due to the fact that its president, Mr. C. R. Gray, formerly a member of the governing board of the Maryland Agricultural College, was attracted by the work of boys' and girls' clubs as a factor in interesting the coming generation in farming; and he believes that the System he heads should further this work by offering scholarships, thereby helping worthy boys to obtain training in scientific agriculture.

A New Tread—a Lower Price Reliable Goodyear Quality

Here is a new Goodyear Cord Tire—a big, sturdy, long-wearing tire—that sells at a price lower than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20 to 25% less.

It has in it the same high-grade long-staple cotton, the same Goodyear patented group-ply construction, the same liberally oversize dimensions.

When you buy the 4 1/2-inch size, for example, you get a tire whose actual measurement is nearly 5 inches.

Don't confuse this Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord with other popular-price cords which sell at the same price or for slightly more.

In many cases, these other cords are made of inferior materials, with short-staple cotton as a foundation.

Get the tire that is good enough to carry the Goodyear name, that is built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

All of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here have the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, ready for you now.
