Joe Devine is in town today from his wheat ranch near Lexington. Mr. Devine reports harvests good throughout the neighborhood with a very fair crop. "Not quite so good as last year," he says, "but we are pretty well satisfied."

J. R. Fisher, new manager of Hotel Patrick, expects his sister-in-law, Mrs. Price, to arrive from Portland this evening to assist in looking after the comfort of guests. Mrs. Fisher will arrive a few days later. Mr. and Mrs. Dean left for Portland this morning.

Al Henriksen and son Clifford shipped five cars of fine beef steers from their Hamilton ranch to the Portland market Wednesday. Clifford accompanied the stock by rail and Mr. and Mrs. Henriksen drove through in their Hudson. They will spend a week or so visiting friends in Douglas county before returning.

George Sperry received word Tuesday that his oldest brother, James B. Sperry, died early that morning at his home in Brownsville, Oregon. He was 87 years old and one of Oregon's oldest citizens. Four sisters, two brothers and a daughter, Mrs. Cooley, of Pendleton, survive him.

John K. Pattison, of Port Orchard, Washington, came in Wednesday evening to visit for awhile with his brother, S. A. Pattison and family. Mr. Pattison, who is a Civil War veteran and in his 80th year, is on his way to Colorado and Kansas to visit other relatives and is making the trip alone and enjoying it.

C. H. McDaniel and family, of Hardman, left Sunday morning for Lacedo, Idaho, where they have purchased a home and expect to reside permanently. Mr. McDaniel is well pleased with the Idaho country where lumbering is the main industry. Times are good there he says.

L. E. Van Marter and H. A. Cohn returned Friday evening from a two week vacation trip spent mostly at Portland and Newport. They went via, Prineville, and the Santiam pass and returned by Portland and the Columbia highway. They report having had a very enjoyable trip.

Prof. James and family returned Friday evening from a 2500-mile auto trip through Oregon and California going as far as Los Angeles and visiting about every place worth seeing en route. The only unpleasant feature of their trip was a sudden illness that attacked Mr. James at Union Creek when returning from Center lake, which delayed them for a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford have returned from a pleasant visit in Wallowa county where they visited his brother and climbed to Aneroi lake which furnishes some very high-class as well as high-altitude fishing. Mr. Crawford says that is a most delightful summer country but he is not certain he would choose it as a winter resort. Misses Cora Mae and Mary Crawford, who have been spending the summer at Joseph returned with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Biddle returned Friday evening from a five week auto trip into the west country during which they visited Vancouver, B. C., Portland and resort points on the Oregon coast. They had a fine trip Mr. Biddle says, and found road conditions pretty good all along the route until they left Arlington Friday night. The bill coming out of Arlington, and a few miles near Rhea Siding are about as bad as they can get, he says.

S. R. Wood, forest ranger in the Gurdane district, is a Heppner visitor today. Mr. Wood says his section of the reserve has been particularly fortunate this season regarding fires, only two small blazes requiring attention. Mr. Woods says eastern Oregon people are more careful about setting fires than they are in other sections of the state, his experience being that most of the fires occurring in forests in this part of the state being set by lightning.

Rev. Father F. L. Geis arrived here from Lakeview last week and will remain during the winter in charge of the Catholic church work in St. Patrick's parish, taking the place of Rev. Father Cantwell who recently went for a visit to his old home in Ireland, where he will spend the winter. Rev. Geis is a most affable gentleman and says he likes Heppner. He will no doubt make many friends during his sojourn in this county both within and without his church. He just seems to be built that way.

M. L. Case and family, who have been enjoying a two month vacation trip through California, returned to Heppner Wednesday much pleased with their trip. They went as far south as Los Angeles via the coast route and returned through the interior of the state finding their hottest weather at Arbuckle, in northern California. Mr. Case says business conditions in California are about the same as they are here and after sizing up conditions in the citrus fruit belt in California and the apple and pear districts in southern Oregon, he would prefer taking chances with a Morrow county wheat farm as a money making proposition than with any of them. They met E. M. Shutt and family at Glendale, near Los Angeles where E. M. is connected with a realty firm but business in that line is none too good.

GIRL SCOUTS ENJOY CAMPING TRIP

Seventeen members of the Heppner Girl Scouts returned Sunday and Monday from a most enjoyable camping trip near Herren's mill on upper Willow creek.

The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. Tom Johnson, county nurse, and Miss Elizabeth Phelps. The girls enjoyed the camping experience to the limit and all expressed regret that it could not have lasted a few weeks longer.

FRANK SHIVELY TAKES OVER SCRIVNER SHOP

Frank Shively, the well known practical horse-shoer, who has been following that branch of the blacksmithing business in Heppner for several years, has branched out in the business on a wider scale by leasing the Scrivner shop on Main street where he will conduct a general blacksmithing and horseshoeing business. Mr. Shively, who has been handling the shoeing at the Calmus shop for some time, took charge of the Scrivner shop Monday morning.

Mr. Shively makes a specialty of horse shoeing and that branch of the work will have his special attention in his new location but no branch of the business will be neglected.

ROUND-UP BOOSTER VISITS HEPPNER

"We want you to feel that the Pendleton Round-Up is your show as well as ours for it is truly a great all eastern Oregon production."

This was the statement of Arthur Rudd, representative of the civic organization of Pendleton, who spoke at the Star Theatre Monday evening in the interest of the big Umatilla buckaroo classic.

The 13th annual Round-Up will be held this year September 21, 22 and 23 with Tom Mix and a group of actors and horses on hand to stage a movie. This stunt is in addition to the regular show, according to Mr. Rudd.

In addition to telling of the Round-Up, the Pendleton booster told the theatre crowd of the interest throughout the west in the show and brought an invitation to every man, woman and child in Heppner to attend the great western production.

While here Mr. Rudd distributed Round-Up literature and met a number of business men in the interest of the show.

DIED
Now she's dead again. We don't know where she has gone to, only trust for the best. But trusting went do, that is what caused her death. Bring some money instead of flowers to the funeral.

GILLIAM & BISBEE

STAR THEATRE
B. G. Sigsbee, Mgr.

Program from Aug. 24 to Aug. 30 Inclusive

THURSDAY
Harry Morey in "THE SEA RIDER, and Larry Semon in "SCHOOL DAYS." Full of thrills and laughter. A combination hard to beat.

FRIDAY
Norma Talmage in "THE BRANDED WOMAN." The story of a run-away wife, and how a baby figures in the straightening out of a maze of domestic entanglements. Played as only Norma Talmage can do it.
Also AESOP'S FABLES

SATURDAY
The gripping story of life in an Italian colony in America, an old world vendetta and a new world romance.
Also
Mary Astor in "THE BEGGAR MAID," From Sir Edward Burne-Jones' famous painting of Alfred Tennyson's Poem, a direction by Lejren A' Hiller. An artistic treat.

SUNDAY & MONDAY
A special cast in Winston Churchill's "THE INSIDE OF THE CUP." A powerful romance of plain worth and gilded hypocrisy. A story of love that startled the churches and toppled over the gods of "high society."
A story that turns the dregs of life to the sparkling wine of happiness. Beautiful lesson, superb entertainment.
Also COMEDY

TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY
Wesley Barry (Freckles) in "DINTY" also featuring Marjorie Daw, Colleen Moore, Noah Beery, Kate Price and Barney Sherry. Six rushing reels of mystery, drama, romance, laughter and thrill. Enacted right in the heart of Frisco's Chinatown.
