COME LET US REASON TOGETHER

That history repeats itself is a truism almost as old as history itself. Those who have pondered the pages of the past tell us that more wars have been waged, more blood has been shed and more hatred aroused because of religious bigotry and intolerance than for any other reason. Countless hordes of human beings were tortured or slain during the dark or middle ages because of religious differences and as we follow down the ages we find the same spirit of intolerance cropping out again and again. Even in the colonization of our own country it played an important part, darkening what otherwise would have been a glorious history of those men and women who braved the terrors of the new world wilderness that they might be permitted to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. That was a right they held as dear as life itself and yet how strange that they were not broad enough to grant the same right to others. In their efforts to make all men think alike they blackened many pages of American history. It is not pleasant to read of how those who differed from them were thrown into jail or driven out into the wilderness in winter there to face wild beasts and savages because their conception of how best to follow the teachings of the Prince of Peace did not exactly agree with the beliefs of those in authority in the colony; of the cropping of ears, the boring of tongues, the hanging and the burning at the stake of those condemned as witches or heretics.

But it should not be forgotten that even in the early colonial days in America they were not all fanatics—they did not all follow the example of the early Massachusetts Puritans. Rhode Island, the colony of refugees, and Maryland, founded by Lord Baltimore as a refuge for persecuted people regardless of religious belief, Protestant and Catholic alike, were the exceptions. They set the example of religious toleration as did also the Quakers and other later colonies. Toleration finally became the rule in America. It has been proved and tried and found safe and sound as a foundation upon which to build a Republic.

But history repeats itself. That same old spirit of intolerance is again abroad in the land bringing with it a faction which arrogates to itself not only the right to regulate the education of their own children but those of yours and mine as well, and they have embodied their ideas this time in the so-called Compulsory School bill.

Jesus of Nazareth is acknowledged by the Christian world as the greatest of all law-givers. Let us apply one of his precepts to the present problem and see if this cry of "Americanism," being so loudly proclaimed by the proponents of this measure, rings true. Is it not a reversal of the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," for one man to say to another, you must educate your child as I say, not as you wish.

Even the title of this measure is misleading since we already have a compulsory school law that was declared by P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education a few years ago, to be the best law of its kind in the United States.

The intent of the measure is to put over on the people of Oregon a law that will prevent you or me sending our children to any school where religious instruction is given—to take away from the parent the control of his child's education and give it to the state.

The Herald believes this bill will receive but scant support in Morrow county. Our people, without regard to race or creed, have stood shoulder to shoulder for their common country through the dark ages of war and the darker days that have followed. They have been neighbors and friends through every catastrophe that has visited us. They have tolerantly granted to each other the civil, educational and religious liberty granted to all by the constitution and we believe the same splendid spirit of neighborliness and friendship will again prevail. We will not be swept off our feet by such rubbish as this so-called educational bill but will continue to maintain the same standard of justice, tolerance and charity as in the past.

No wonder we hear so much of Oregon's "freak laws" when such a one is even seriously considered.

"God give us men; a time like this demands
 Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;
 Men whom the love of office cannot kill;
 Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
 Men who possess opinions and a will;
 Men who love honor; men who will not lie;
 Men who can stand before a demagogue
 And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking.
 Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
 In public duty and in private thinking;
 For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds
 Their large professions and their little deeds,
 Mingle in selfish strife, lol freedom weeps,
 Wrong rules the land and waiting justice sleeps."

IONE

The cloth made-up of his trousers taken to Ione Tuesday night bringing an eleven pound girl to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Verbe and a nine pound boy to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Thompson.

Louis Ball, young son of Mrs. Mary Ball who's partner is injured by a mill,
 the animal kicked him in the face, crushing the bones of the nose and the left side of his face. The swelling is so great that it is not known whether or not he has lost his left eye.

The Eastern Star installed a class of four candidates on Tuesday evening.
 After chapter closed a beautiful luncheon of doughnuts, cider and lemonade. The society, Fred Lauer said it was the first time in his life that he'd ever had enough pumpkin pie. He was so well pleased that he lunched alone. Among visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bender, of Hesperia; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, of Morgan; and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, of Hesperia.

Frank Christensen, of Portland is in Ione on business.

Bert Mason returned from Great Falls Montana, where he has been on a hunting trip. He succeeded in killing a five point elk the first day he was in the mountains. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Mason's mother, Mrs. Godfrey, who will spend the winter here.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist Church held a Silver Tea Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. P. Davidson. An interesting program was rendered and delightful refreshments served.

Mrs. Emmett Cochran was in the city Thursday making arrangements for the 18th Cross drive. A community sing was planned for November 8th. Prof.
 Tucker, E. A. Brown and Mrs. Earl Blake will have charge of the program. Mrs.
 Elmer Griffith was appointed chairman for the city.

Word was received here on Wednesday of the death of little Marion Holman in North Yalima. Mrs. Holman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cochran.

The American Legion held their 1922 day night was a splendid success, both socially and financially. A large number of medals were on the floor and it was with difficulty that the judges made their decision. The first prize was awarded Mrs. Hazel McCurdy for an excellent sustained speech character. Her speaker in a handsome, colorful costume won second prize.

GILLIAM & BISBEE'S COLUMN

Come and get the county agent's machine for the dry treatment of your seed wheat with copper carbonate. The work is done perfectly and economically. Get your order in early as it takes some time to make one.

We have sold all kinds of grain drills but have decided that the Kentucky Double Run feed is the best suited for this territory. Come in and look them over for yourself.

The Revolving Rod Weeder are the ones that get the weeds.

If you are going to use the dry treatment for your seed wheat you cannot afford to pass up the Calkins machine.
