VOLUME IX

HEPPNER, OREGON, TUESDAY NOVEMBER 7, 1922

NUMBER 28

FOUR DAYS LEFT IN SECOND PERIOD TO GET BIG RESULTS

Four more days. These three words have a mighty meaning when we consider the importance of the result the Herald's big campaign has gained rapidly nearing its conclusion.

The last of the present big credit offer will undoubtedly be the deciding factor in determining the winners of the splendid array of prizes which have dazzled the eyes of the entire community because of their exceptional value.

For the past week the club members have been engaged in accumulating the credits and during the time the Herald's big campaign has gained fame that is widespread. This is the most liberal subscription campaign ever inaugurated in this section.

The efforts and diligence of the club members these past few weeks will be crowned with an avalanche of credits that will be a surprise to those who are watching this race from the sidelines. This is the time for all participants to hurl themselves with vim and vigor into the last ditch.

The Herald is justly proud of the list of candidates who are competing with might and main in the campaign for the thousands of dollars offered in prizes. It seems that each community and neighborhood has chosen its brightest and most energetic leaders as a representative. And these favorites are well fulfilling the expectations of their hundreds of friends and supporters.

Pep, Push and Perseverance are the three keys that will unlock any door in the world.

They will unlock the door to the valuable prizes offered by the Herald in its big auto campaign.

They will unlock the master door that leads to the new Ford Sedan, Beautiful Chesterfield Set, etc., that the Herald is giving away.

PETITION OUT FOR NEW MAIL SERVICE

Petitions are being circulated along the line of the new proposed Rural Route between Heppner and Arlington and it is understood with very good success.

County Agent Calkins is entitled to credit for initiating the project and correspondence he has had with postal authorities in Washington is encouraging. The service will give Heppner and all intervening points their mail some six hours earlier than at present.

It is not proposed that this service shall carry anything but letter and news paper mail and the fear expressed by a Lexington correspondent that the service may interfere with the welfare of the postoffice and postmasters along the line is not well founded.

This is one way the investment in the Oregon-Washington highway may be capitalized to the benefit of all people and to the detriment of no one.

COMMUNITY SING AT LEXINGTON BIG SUCCESS

The community sing given at Lexington last Friday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross Roll Call, was a great success according to those who were fortunate enough to be present. A large crowd was present to enjoy the program which was well arranged and rendered.

Superintendent Kellogg with his corps of teachers and the pupils of the Lexington high school are all entitled to much praise for their part in making the occasion a success as are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Beach, Miss Barnett, Henry Miller and others. Addresses were made by Rev. Gillenders and Rev. Palmer, of Lexington, and Mrs. Emmett Cochran, of Heppner who is chairman of the Red Cross drive.

HERALD TO PUBLISH COUNTY COURT DOINGS

Beginning today the Herald will publish, as a matter of news, the full proceedings of the regular monthly meetings of the board of county commissioners. This step is taken because recent inquiries among our readers in all parts of the county reveals that many readers want the full and official proceedings of the county board every month.

The Herald, under its present management, has always striven to, as nearly as possible, give all of the news of Morrow county and while there have been times when circumstances have seriously interfered with making the Herald the kind of news medium we want it to be, we feel that it has been gradually improving and taking its place as a real local county paper.

Attention is also directed to the increasing amount of county news carried in the Herald, an essential feature in the making of a real county newspaper.

The Herald has enjoyed a steady growth in circulation during the past four years and the present circulation campaign is rapidly putting the paper into every home in the county and contiguous trade territory. Read this issue carefully, if you are not already a subscriber, and see if you will not at once want to become one of the Herald family. Any one of our live wire subscription hustlers will take your subscription for from one to five years. Five years is the limit but there are a lot of mighty good reasons why you should "go the limit" in this matter. If you want the reasons ask the solicitor.

Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m.
Sermon 11:00 a. m., 7:30 p. m.
Special music at both services.
Our Sunday School is growing in numbers and interest, the Men's class and the High School class are doing much towards building up a big school.

The boys and girls gave a fine program Sunday night which was enjoyed by all. Every seat was taken in the main auditorium.

One of the high school boys will lead the prayer meeting Thursday night. This service is meaning much to our church.

Next Sunday at the evening service there will be a special section reserved for the soldier boys. This service will be in honor of Armistice Day and special tribute will be paid to the boys who made such a great sacrifice. The boys and girls will sing one special number in their honor.

Come and worship with us.

Chas. W. Powell, W. S. Suddarth and Hugh Grim, prominent citizens of Irrigon, were here last Wednesday talking more good roads to the county court.

Hon. Sam E. Notson returned from Wallowa county yesterday noon where he was sent by the Republican State Committee to speak in the interest of Gov. Olcott's campaign.

BREEZY NEWS NOTES FROM HEPPNER HIGH

The high school was very pleased to have so many town people and students turn out to the game last Saturday between Condon and Heppner high school teams. The score was a very close one ending in a tie—7 to 7—and we would have been perfectly happy had not one or two rooters caps disappeared in the mix-up.

The student body meeting held last week has probably been the most talked-of for quite a while. The new constitution was read and unanimously approved and then a new tradition for the Freshman pennant was voted on. Heretofore, the pennant was hung in assembly by the class, and if it remained there 24 hours it could stay up, but if and this was generally the case, the pennant was not on the wall at the end of that period, a series of class fights usually ensued. Hereafter, all class scraps will be carried on outside of school hours, the "Frosh" being required to hoist their pennant, or one judged by the Seniors to be representative of the new one, on a pole near the school house and defend it for twenty-four hours. The Seniors are to act as judges and policemen to see that the Juniors and "Soph's" don't deal too harsh with the new "Frosh."

A new seat was added in the Junior row last week for Emory Goodman, formerly of Umapine, Oregon. Did you wonder what all the noise was for after school last Wednesday and Thursday? No use keeping you guessing. It was high school yell practice!

Heppner high school students proved to Heppner last Friday night that they were certainly very far from being "peeps" and dead when they staged the biggest rally in the history of the high school for many years.

Almost every student met at the lower corner of Main street, marched up that street giving yells and making much noise. After several people had been roused from their peaceful slumbers, and the teachers were serenaded, the crowd gave some yells in the hotel and at the picture show.

Then they marched to the hill where the "Frosh" had erected a huge pile of wood for the evening bonfire. Short speeches were given by teachers, players and students and then games were played until the football boys "fateful hour of nine" was pronounced.

The success of the rally was due to Mr. McCarty, who so kindly offered us the "makins" for the fire, to Mr. Sigbee, for our use of the show in advertising our game, and to the "Frosh" who did their work with a smile.

The Senior class utilized their spare moments last Friday in snapping stunt pictures for the Hehbach. They report no kodaks entirely ruined, however.

Miss Frasier, coach for debate this year, announces that nine people have signed up to try-out for the debate as follows: Bernice Woodson, Dorothy Pattison, Dorothy Hill, Retha Owen, Ray McDuffee, William Gilliam, Philip Mahoney, Vawter Parker and Charles Notson, altho others may sign up if they wish. The question is, "Resolved: That the Government Should Own and Promote the Railroads." With this large enrollment Heppner is promising to have an excellent debating team.

Miss Addie Quisenberry left last Friday to accept a position as Palmer-Pennamanship teacher at Hoguqua, Washington. Until another teacher arrives, Mrs. McNamer is teaching the fourth grade in her place.

OLD MAN WINTER SHAKES HIS MARE

Old Man Winter went on the war-path last Friday night and Saturday morning Heppner folk looked out on a semi-white world. The snow fall was light and soon melted but at that was more than we care for this early in the season. Part of the curse was taken off the flurry, however, by the knowledge, that Ashland, down in the semi-tropical belt, looked out on a white world 24 hours before Heppner.

The Herald hopes to get Lum Gordon on the weather job again and get this matter straightened out and adjusted to the satisfaction of everybody.

CONDON HAS LIVE COMMERCIAL CLUB

The following excerpts taken from the Globe-Times account of the latest meeting of the Condon Commercial club shows that the business interests of that town are keenly alive to their town's welfare:

"L. E. Shelley stated that he had been requested by several stockmen in Gilliam, Wheeler and Grant counties, to impress upon the city of Condon the advisability of having scales and a hay house installed at the stockyards, as the lack of both of these inconveniences the stockmen in handling their shipments. As the matter was of considerable interest to the business interests of the city and one which if not attended to promptly, might be the means of diverting this trade to some other point, a motion by D. N. Mackay, seconded by L. E. Shelley, that the matter be referred to the city council to take immediate action, was unanimously adopted.

"In order to stimulate interest in the club and to draw a larger attendance to its meetings, President Burns appointed a program committee consisting of John Jackson, J. C. Strickell and A. B. Robertson, to prepare a program of various speakers and items of interest to come up for discussion from time to time."

Dr. R. J. Vaughn is here packing his dental instruments for shipment to Baker. Doc quit being a professional man a couple of years ago and bloomed out as an honest, horny-handed farmer but it seems he is about to return to his first love. Dr. Grove who has been running the Vaughn office, is undecided as to what he will do and will take a trip to Portland and Seattle before deciding.

Circuit Judge Gilbert W. Phelps is here from Pendleton for a couple of days clearing up some civil business that has accumulated since the last term.

MRS. IRENE ZINK PASSES ON OPERATING TABLE

Mrs. Irene Zink, wife of A. M. Zink, of near Iona, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon at the Moore hospital in this city. She was in her 48th year. Mrs. Zink was taken ill Monday, and was brought to the hospital by her physician, Dr. Walker, of Iona, for an operation. While being prepared for the operation and after being placed on the table she was stricken with heart failure and passed away.

Mrs. Zink was a native of Yamhill county, Oregon, where she was born March 14, 1875. Besides her widower she is survived by several children.

The funeral was held at First Christian church, of Lexington, Friday afternoon the pastor of that church officiating. Interment was in the Lexington cemetery.

FARM BUREAU HOLDS EXECUTIVE SESSION

The executive committee of the Morrow County Farm Bureau held an executive session last Saturday afternoon when Mr. Wade Siler, an official of the Producers' Finance Corporation, of Portland, was present and laid the plans of that organization for financing farmers and stockmen before the committee.

The matter was gone into very thoroughly by the directors and received favorable consideration.

The corporation proposes to make long term loans to farmers and stockmen based on livestock, farming equipment and growing crops at a rate not exceeding 7 per cent. It is expected the concern will be ready to commence doing business by January 1st.

Another meeting is called for November 15, at 2:00 P. M. in Heppner to which every farmer and stockman in the county is invited. Mr. Siler and George A. Mansfield, president of the Oregon State Farm Bureau, will be present to discuss finance with the farmers.

Orderly marketing will also be included in the Producers' Finance Corporation plans to the extent of keeping a representative at the Portland stock yards to keep stockmen who ship to that market informed on supply, demand and prices, thus obtaining the frequent glut in the live stock market that have a decided tendency to keep prices unsteady.

Those interested should remember the date of the coming meeting—Wednesday, November 15th, 2:00 P. M. at L. O. O. F. hall.

COUNTY ROAD BUILDERS MEET WITH RESISTANCE

WILLIAM HENDRIX REFUSES TO GIVE RIGHT OF WAY

Improvement of Heppner Hill May Be Temporarily Checked; Court Action Possible

County Judge Campbell and Commissioners Bleakman and Davidson met with a set back on their contemplated improvement of Heppner hill last Friday when they attempted to negotiate a deal with William Hendrix for right of way through a half section of his wheat land on Heppner flat.

The county officials went out to the Jeff Jones place Friday morning when they located an excellent quarry site and where arrangements were made with Mr. Jones for right of way through his ranch. He also professed the true use of his ranch house and barn as a winter camp for the workmen employed on the job and when he had made his proposition in detail the more or less hard-balled county officials almost fainted.

"There is the rock," Mr. Jones told the county dads, "take all you want of it and all it will cost you is to leave the hole you take it out of. Then there is the house and barn. If they will be of any service to the men building this road, go ahead and use them without cost. Then as to right of way, take what you need, and all it will cost you is to build a good fence on each side of the new road as I have on the rest of my land."

The county officials were not to be deterred and after a long conference they decided to proceed with the improvement of Heppner hill. They will return to the Hendrix place tomorrow and attempt to negotiate a deal with him for right of way through his wheat land on Heppner flat.

DAN STALTER STRIKES VEIN OF PLATINUM, GOLD IN MAYFLOWER

Twenty-Two Years Work Is Finally Rewarded

One Ounce 87 Per Cent Silver, Another Rich in Gold, Silver and Platinum

Dan J. Stalter, well known local mining man who has been operating in the Greenhorn district for many years developing the Mayflower group of which company he is president and general manager, arrived in Heppner last Wednesday evening to spend the winter bringing with him the first news of a rich strike he recently made in that mine, and to back up the news he brought samples of ore from the new strike one of which assays 87 per cent in silver while the other shows on its face rich values in gold, silver and platinum. He is expecting returns from that sample in a few days.

The news will be received with much interest by many Heppner people who own stock in the property but Mr. Stalter claims the honor of making the strike personally and alone.

Dan has been working on the Mayflower for 22 years and his faith in ultimate success has never wavered. The stock is mostly owned in Heppner and when the bad times struck here two years ago he found it difficult to raise more money for development work. His own resources were running low but not daunted by the situation he pulled out last spring alone and spent the summer working in the tunnel single handed and alone.

"I knew I would strike it sooner or later," Dan told the Herald man Thursday morning, "for when I found the ledge 22 years ago it showed rich ore on the surface. At 100 feet it showed richer and as we gained depth the values increased."

The property is developed with a shaft 300 feet deep and a 700-foot tunnel. It was at the extreme end of the tunnel that Mr. Stalter made the big strike a few weeks ago. "You never can tell," he said, "where you will find it. So often it means just one more shot or another stroke of the pick to uncover what you have been seeking for many years and that is just the way it turned out with me."

Mr. Stalter stopped at Baker on his way home and received assurance there that the Sumpter smelter will be in operation next spring. His mine is only 35 miles from Sumpter with a fairly good road and only 15 miles from Austin, on the Sumpter valley railroad with a fine road for trucking. He expects to go to shipping as soon as the roads are open in the spring and counts on returns that will make his Heppner partners in the enterprise mighty glad that he stayed with it through all these years.

JAMES KENNY PASSES
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

James Thomas Kenny, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kenny of this city, died at the family home Thursday afternoon at the age of 39 years, 6 months and 28 days.

His illness was a long and painful one and for almost two years he had been confined to his bed without hope of recovery. His decline was gradual during that time until the last two weeks he failed rapidly until the end came relieving his suffering.

Besides his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: John P. Kenny, Mrs. Sarah Farley, Mrs. Rosanna Healey, Joseph Kenny and Cecelia Kenny, all residents of this county.

The funeral was held Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock Rev. Father Gies officiating at St. Patrick's church. Members of the Elks lodge of which order he was a member attended the funeral in a body.
