OPTIMISM INFECTION

H. J. Alexander, president of the First National bank of Denver upon returning from the convention of the American Bankers' association in New York where nearly 12,000 of the country's bankers assembled says "that optimism and confidence in returning prosperity were reflected in all the pumble and informal sessions. "That optimism was infectious," said Mr. Alexander, "and I brought quite a lot of it home with me. Nation wide prosperity is sweeping the railroads of the country with freight offerings, and I find much to inspire confidence in good times during the next three year. "Those of us who live in the cities must seriously consider a more equitable adjustment of farm earnings. That is an unsolved problem that needs study by banker and business man. "We do not need any boom, nor do we need to expect any extravagant returns, but good times seem assured."

GILLIAM & BISBEE'S COLUMN

Come and get the county agent's machine for the dry treatment of your seed wheat with copper carbonate. The work is done neatly and economically. Get your order early as it takes some time to make one.

We have sold all kinds of grain drills but have decided that the Kentucky Double Furrow is the best suited for this territory. Come in and look them over for yourself.

The Revolving Red Weeders are the ones that get the weeds.

If you are going to use the dry treatment for your seed wheat you cannot afford to pass up the Calkins machine.

THE RIGHT KIND OF NEWS

News Important to Your Community Should Be Published

If you want to benefit your own community through publicity of its farming, social or business interests, send the Herald news of the activities of the people of your neighborhood. Let the rest of the county know what you are doing as a community, personally or socially. Any of the following topics are matters of interest in which the whole county is interested. Some of them are important matters of news which may not be published unless some one in your community interests themselves in sending the news to the Herald, your county paper. Be that person and send it yourself, the next time something of interest happens in your neighborhood, your family or your circle of friends. TRY IT. It will benefit your community and you, as well as the Herald. Tell us something about any of these subjects as news items:

HARD ON THE FARMER

An Iowa farm mortgage banker says that a new England client refused to renew a $2,000 5 1/2% loan, stating the case like this: "The annual interest was $110. The client's income and local tax on that amount was $79, leaving only a net revenue of $31 for the $2,000 loan. The client called the loan and invested the money in tax-exempt securities."

The effect of tax-free investments is the same on industry as on farming. Roughly, a rich man today is better off, draws a larger income, if he buys a 4 1/2 per cent tax-free bond than if he takes a 9 or 10 per cent industrial stock.

The bond is under the rigid and unproductive hand of the public official, while the stock is under the active and productive hand of the American business man.

For the wealth and welfare of the people at large the difference is as that between the quick and the dead. Yet tens of thousands of investors are being encouraged or driven yearly to choose the dead, to turn their backs on live American enterprise, and to lock up their capital in a financial graveyard.

What is the cure? An amendment to the Federal Constitution allowing states to tax national securities and the national government to tax state securities.

No country can survive half taxed and half untaxed.—Manufacturer.

PHILANTHROPY IS CONTAGIOUS

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore., Nov. 5.—Oregon's sister states are watching the results of the Oregon endowment campaign "with eager interest", according to Herbert T. Condon, Comptroller of the University of Washington, who was a week-end visitor in Eugene. Mr. Condon is an alumnus of the University of Oregon, having graduated in 1892.

"The benefaction of the late Dr. Bernard Daly of Lake county set a noble pace, and fortunately, philanthropy is contagious," said Mr. Condon.

"Oregon has wealth and culture and this wealth and culture are frequently to be found combined in the same household. I am sure University of Oregon alumni believe in their cause. The result is certain."

PRESIDENT CAMPBELL COMPLETES ROUND-UP

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore., Nov. 4.—The Christian Science Monitor in a recent issue printed under an Eugene date line a half column interview with President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon in which he discussed the Pendleton Round-Up. In the opinion of President Campbell, as expressed in the interview, the Round-Up is not a wild and crude Western improvisation, but a work of supreme excellence, a pageant unequalled for sincerity, proportion and genuine beauty."
