GILLIAM & BISBEE'S COLUMN

Come and get the county agent's machine for the dry treatment of your seed wheat with copper carbonate. The work is done perfectly and economically. Get your order in early as it takes some time to make one.

We have sold all kinds of rain drills but have decided that the Kentucky Double Run feed is the best suited for this territory. Come in and look them over for yourself.

The Revolving Rod Weeder are the ones that get the weeds.

If you are going to use the dry treatment for your seed wheat you cannot afford to pass up the Calkins machine.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

W. B. Baratt returned from Portland Saturday evening after attending a meeting of the state highway commission.

Miss Helen Barratt and Miss Doris Mahoney, students at Oregon Agricultural College, arrived in Heppner Saturday evening to spend the Christmas holidays with their home folks.

Miss Mary Clark arrived from Walla Walla Saturday evening where she is studying music. She will spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark.

Miss Anita Turner is home from Corvallis where she is attending O. A. C. to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Turner, and other relatives and friends.

C. B. Fisher and J. McMahon, of Arlington, were here Saturday night furnishing music for the pavilion dance. The quality of their melody was high, say the patrons of the affair.

Miss Odele Groshens, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Loraine Vinton at Marshfield for several months, returned home Sunday evening after a most delightful vacation on the coast.

E. M. Holden and family came up from Blalock last week for a few days at the Blackhorse ranch. Mr. Holden, who recently leased a big wheat ranch at Blalock, says the weather conditions there were about the same as at Heppner.

F. J. Hiatt, of Butter creek, was a visitor in Heppner Saturday and reported hard going between his place and town. The roads are drifted full of snow in many places and travel by car is impossible, the only means being on horseback or by sled.

P. G. Farley, who helps manage the Kilkenny sheep interests at Sand Hollow, was in town for a few days during the week. Mr. Farley says the sheep are doing well but are making furious inroads on the hay. Mr. Kilkenny is feeding most of his sheep at Hermiston and Echo, one band of lambs being kept at the home ranch.

Tom O'Brien came in from Pine City Friday and remained over till Sunday visiting with Mrs. O'Brien and his new son, born November 18. Mr. O'Brien made the trip on horseback which he says is the only way the Sand hollow road can be negotiated just now. The hay is disappearing rapidly around the Butter creek feed yards and stockmen would all welcome an early break in the cold snap.

The Catholic church is being decorated today for the Christmas season.
