George Brandies is here for a few days' visit from Ceel. Harry Duncan has returned from a few days' vacation at Portland. Rev. W. G. Livingstone went to Portland Thursday for a few days' visit. Emory Gentry returned Saturday from Yakima where he spent several days visiting friends. Mrs. S. W. Spencer spent last week in Portland visiting friends. She returned Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lemaillon and their two boys were in town Thursday from their Rich creek home. Roy Pickens, local manager for the telephone company, went to Arlington Friday to assist the local man there with some extra work. Walter Road will go to Butter creek in a few days where he will later move his family. They will be located on a ranch near Pine City. Alex Brandies is here for a few days from Gresham where he is engaged in the poultry and berry business. Mr. Brandies is a world war veteran and was seriously wounded in France. The teachers returned from their holiday vacation Tuesday and school opened again Wednesday morning. Superintendent Hedrick spent his vacation at Drain and Central Point visiting with friends. Oscar Keithley was in from Eightmile Friday morning for a short visit. When he tried to tell the Herald man how fine the wheat is doing in his neighborhood he just couldn't talk for smiling. Roy Campbell, Social Ridge wheat-grower, is laid up at his home with a badly dislocated and broken ankle received when one of his team horses stepped on his foot. He is reported improving. The Heppner Herald has changed hands, Raymond Crowder having taken charge of the paper on January 1st. Mr. Crowder promises to give his community a good, local newspaper and his first issue shows evidence that he will make good. Miss Peggy Brown, of Baker, who had charge of the Oxnan & Harrington office here when that firm was grading the Oregon Washington highway, returned to Heppner Sunday evening and has accepted a position with the Farmers & Stockgrowers bank. Victor Peterson was in town from Eightmile Friday and dropped into the Herald office for a chat. Mr. Peterson says the conditions are fine in his neighborhood for a bumper crop next summer and if a fair price prevails the farmers will come out all right.

Jerry Brosnan, one of the county's oldest pioneer stockmen, now retired and living in Heppner, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office Friday. Mr. Brosnan's health has been none too good lately but is improving some and he still loves a good story and a hearty laugh as of old.

A 7 1/2 pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Ritchie, of Ione, Sunday, January 7th. Mother and child are reported doing well, and Granddad John T. Kirk is expected to pull through. This is the tenth grandson to the credit of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk.

"What is your favorite dish?" asked the modern young woman of a Heppner young man, by way of making conversation at a dinner party. "Chicken a la flapper with South Sea Island dressing," was the reply and the modern young woman caught on instantly and giggled.

Mrs. Margaret Carson has been employed by the Heppner school board to fill the vacancy in one of the grades occasioned by the resignation of Miss Ada Kaat. Mrs. Carson is known as one of the county's most successful teachers having taught in this county for several years.

No mail was received from Portland Sunday because of a heavy landslide that covered the O. W. R. & N tracks near Corbett station. The railroad was covered for more than 200 feet to a depth of 25 feet and trains were delayed many hours. The Columbia river highway is also blocked by the same slide.

Jack Mulligan, purveyor of everything in the harmony line from Brunswick phonographs down to grand pianos, returned Wednesday evening from a pleasure trip to Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. Mr. Mulligan says they still celebrate the Christmas holidays in the good, old fashioned way north of the line.

Morrow county hills are about as green as they usually are in April and the sheepmen are wearing smiles that must be all wool for they are really a yard wide. What wonderful weather this little, old Morrow county is blessed with. Next thing we know some fellow will be planting out a banana grove.

Matt T. Hughes says things are looking pretty good down his way. After sowing Bluestem wheat for years he changed to Hybrid and Fourtyflok last fall and it is all looking fine. Some early sown Bluestem, which is really not a winter wheat, was injured by the freezing last month but this time Matt thinks he was in luck. Mr. Hughes was in from his ranch yesterday.

W. O. Hayless, newly appointed road viewer for the county court, v. down in the Lexington district the other day and says some of the Bluestem wheat was rather badly injured by the December freeze. Some of the farmers say, however, that new sprouts are showing at the kernel so maybe it will come out all right after all. General wheat prospects are above the average for this season.

Rev. W. O. Livingstone reported two weddings at his home Saturday afternoon, December 30th. Leonard H. Hill and Miss Nina Huston, both of Eightmile, and W. H. Tucker and Miss Mildred Harrison, both of near Lexington, being the happy couples. The first named bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Huston. Mr. Tucker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Tucker, and his bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison.

KELSO BRIDGE DISASTER TAKES TOLL OF 30 LIVES

The old bridge across the Cowitz river at Kelso, Washington, collapsed last Wednesday evening while crowded with traffic and while but few bodies have been recovered, the known dead and missing list already totals thirty.

The old bridge was known to be in a weakened condition and a new structure to take its place was almost completed. The collapse came without warning when ten automobiles and about 150 people were on the bridge, all being thrown into the swollen river.

Here Is a Delightful Comedy in the Form of a Serial Story Which We Feel Is a Real Kindness to Offer to Readers

The little English heroine is a tramp. The young Yankee hero is a fit partner for her; and they do become partners in one of the funniest adventures you ever heard about—thrilling, too! Innocently they get mixed up in a burglary which draws not only the local police of an English town, but the detective brains of the celebrated Scotland Yard upon their trail. And the girl's father was a bishop; think of the disgrace if she were caught! Not a crime story at all, but the story of two joyful cherubs who were suspected of a crime. There are motorcycle trips over a charming countryside; circumstances which cause the climbing of trellises and the invading of ancient castles in the dead of the night; hiding in caves; subterfuges of all sorts, and through it all is the rollicking spirit of youth—just what its title implies—the joy of living. You will love sweet, audacious, nervy little Aimee, and you will have no less regard for dashing Billy, and even the Flying Sphinx, the wonderful motorcycle which figured in their adventures, will get into your affections like a thing of life.

IT IS A NEW SERIAL STARTING IN HEPPNER HERALD Next week, January 16, 1923

IONE

Ione, Jan. 6.—The basket ball game on Friday night between Heppner and Ione town teams resulted in a score of 33 to 11 in Ione's favor. A very pleasant dance followed the game.

Mrs. C. R. Walker and Mrs. C. A. Low entertained a number of ladies on Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Fred Haley, who will move to Heppner in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mason were hosts on Thursday evening to about twenty guests. The evening was spent in playing five hundred. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Swanson.

Mrs. Bert Johnson and children are visiting in Portland with Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. J. T. Knappenberg.

F. H. Robinson returned to Ione Wednesday after spending the holidays in Portland.

Mrs. John Hassner and children of Gresham are visiting with Mrs. Hassner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Biddle of Heppner were visitors in Ione Wednesday.

A part of the livery stable front was blown off by the high winds of Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mason have returned from a Christmas vacation spent in the valley.

Mrs. Augusta Mason is visiting relatives in Salem. Fred Lindsey and mother have returned from a Christmas vacation in Salem.

A number of Ione people attended the New Year's dance in Morgan. All report a delightful time.

Those present were Valdie Woods, Winnifred Moore, Ellsworth and Eleanor Bullard, Naomi Grady, Billie Smith, Vernon Lovell, Miriam Hale, Raymond and Norman Walker, Virginia and Katherine Griffith.

THIS EDITOR IS "FED UP" ON CRITICS

The editor does not want anyone to send him any more copies of the paper in which they find mistakes. If however they find a perfect copy he will pay a big price for it. If the fool critic who hunts for mistakes in the newspapers would find them all, he would be kept busy. We will be pleased to buy copies of any paper which can be proven entirely free from errors, either typographically or in statements of fact. We will be pleased to find a merchant who has never made a mistake in putting up an order; a lawyer who never lost a case through his own errors; a doctor who never wrongly diagnosed a case; a druggist who never made a mistake; a post office official who never put mail in the wrong box; a woman who never forgot to put in the salt while cooking or to put tain the teapot before putting in the water.

Bring on some of your mistakeless paragons who find it so easy to criticize the newspaper, and we will give them the chance of their lives to find out whether they are really human.—Redmond Spokesman.

"UNCHARTED SEAS" IS AN EXCEPTIONAL PICTURE

"Uncharted Seas," a Metro special starring Alice Lake, will be shown at the Star theatre Saturday. "Uncharted Seas," adapted from the Munsey Magazine story of John Fleming Wilson, tells of Lucretia Eastman and her derelict husband, Tom, who is given a last chance to regenerate himself by exhibiting courage enough to traverse the frozen north in search of an abandoned ship containing Klondike gold. He and Frank Underwood, an admirer of Lucretia, command different vessels, and the search takes the form of a struggle for the woman's love. Credit is due Wesley Ruggles to exceptional directing, and to John B. Seitz for the marvelous photography. John Holden did the art-work, and George Elwood Jenks the adaptation. Also Buster Keaton in "The Goat."

HOW THEY FEEL ABOUT IT

"Every day in every way I am getting better and better."—Covey. "Every day in every way it is getting wetter and wetter."—Lum Gordon. "Every day in every way we're saving hay and siring prettier and prettier."—John Kilkenny. "Every day in every way the ground's getting wetter and wetter and the wheat's looking better and better and the farmers are feeling fine."—Oscar Keithley. And every day in every way some congressmen are studying up new plans to finance the farmers and stockmen without hurting Wall street. Everett Pattison left for Portland Friday morning after spending the holidays at home.

The Eats That are TREATS

We make it our business to sell meats for eats that are real treats. And we don't comply with the food laws because it is compulsory—we do it because we want, and expect to get good service and fair treatment from merchants and professional men with whom we deal, and because we know it is our business to sell only the best.

For breakfast, lunch, or dinner we can supply your wants, no matter how elaborate or how conservative. We have arranged to fill all orders and would like to see your meat order.
