Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mahoney and daughters and Mrs. K. K. Mahoney returned Wednesday evening from a pleasant two weeks' trip to Spokane and northern Idaho. They had a fine trip with good roads and good weather most of the way.

Dr. D. R. Haylor, eye specialist with modern equipment, in Heppner Aug. 6 and 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Farley and children left Friday morning for their summer range ground near Austin, in Grant county where Mr. Farley will be close to his sheep and the family will enjoy the advantages of camp life during the hot season.

Charlie Valentine was in town on Saturday afternoon and reported that they expected to start harvesting Monday morning. Mr. Valentine says his crop is only a fair average crop this year due to the dry period early in the spring.

J. M. Cummings, formerly connected with the St. Helen's Mill, has been employed by H. J. Simmons to operate the Arlington Bulletin newspaper which Mr. Simmons recently purchased. Mr. Cummings has been with the Mill for several years and is highly recommended as a newspaper man of ability.

Dell Ward was here Saturday from his ranch south of Ione. Mr. Ward has not started harvesting yet but his neighbors are getting from 25 to 30 bushels, he says. He is conservative and estimates his crop at 20 bushels, saying that he will feel better when harvest is over if he estimates 20 bushels and gets 30 than vice versa.

The funeral of Mrs. Mabel Owen Murray was held here last Friday afternoon. Services were held at the Federated church, being conducted by Rev. Hudson and interment was made in the Masonic cemetery. Mrs. Murray, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crow Owen of this place, died at Bend on July 19th.

A. M. Phelps' Buick car took a little spin down hill from their residence Saturday afternoon and brought up against a tree, caving in the back end of the body. Mrs. Phelps was just preparing to get in the car to go down town when for some unknown reason it started back wards down the hill.

Mrs. Chas. Swindig and Mrs. E. J. Starkey were called to Medford a couple of weeks ago by the death of their sister, Mrs. Nannie D. Hill, who died suddenly of heart trouble. Two days after Mrs. Hill's funeral, her mother, Mrs. J. A. Douglas, passed away. Mrs. Douglas had been an invalid for some time and the shock of her daughter's death is believed to have hastened her demise.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson left Sunday morning for Vancouver, B. C., where they will enjoy a few days' vacation while Mr. Notson attends a meeting of law enforcement officials of the Pacific Northwest. Mr. Notson is scheduled to make an address at one of the sessions of the convention.

W. I. Ebbert, of Condon, was in town Sunday looking up a few old friends. Mr. Ebbert has been farming near Condon about all his life and owned one of the best wheat farms in that section but he says the conditions of the last few years has put him out of business and he is taking a new start this summer operating a combine on the Lew Davidson ranch in the Gooseberry country.

The Mahoney Hudson car and Jim Furlong's freight truck are each minus a wheel and some fenders as the result of a side swipe collision on the highway between here and Ione Saturday night. A party of young people were going to Ione to attend a dance and Edmund Bucknum was driving the car when the accident happened. It is said that one of the truck headlights was out. Fortunately no one was injured in the mishap.

PIANO WANTED—I want to rent a piano. Address Mrs. H. F. Laantz (Heppner).

E. E. Clark, Mrs. Clark and Misses Odele Groshens, Pauline Happold and Creola Adams returned yesterday morning from a trip to Yellowstone park. Mr. Clark says they enjoyed the park trip very much and all felt it well worth while. Mr. Clark has been shearing sheep in Montana for some time and was picked up by the ladies of the party on their way to the park. He says times are none too good in Montana. They had fine crop prospects until recently when swarms of grasshoppers appeared and are eating the crops badly.

Cliffon Sims, who arrived here early last week to join Mrs. Sims and their children who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. D. McMurdo, and brother, W. O. Hager and family, improved his vacation period by developing a nice case of appendicitis shortly after arriving in Heppner and is now recovering nicely from the operation incident to removal of the useless but troublesome member. Mr. Sims came to Heppner with the intention of taking the operation which Dr. McMurdo performed with the aid of local anesthesia, the patient being fully conscious during the operation.

Mrs. Steffen, of Shoshoni, Wyoming, was here during the week and took back with her little Miss Mary Jane Casteel, daughter of her brother, Doyle Casteel, of Shoshoni. The child is a granddaughter of Mrs. George Cason, who has had the care of her since the death of Mrs. Casteel, two years ago. A letter was received from Shoshoni last evening saying that Mrs. Steffen and Mary Jane had arrived safely.

Miss Janet Frazier, English teacher in the Heppner high school, was dangerously injured in an auto accident at Eugene last Tuesday when she was thrown through the wind shield and her throat was cut, the jugular vein being severed. Speedy aid saved her life but her condition was considered serious at last report from Eugene.

W. OF W. SELECT HEPPNER AS NEXT MEETING PLACE

Heppner was honored at Union last week when the Women of Woodcraft convention unanimously selected Heppner as the place for holding the next biennial convention of the order in 1925.

Several other towns were candidates for the honor but the spirited campaign put on by Heppner delegation headed by Mrs. L. G. Herren, finally brought victory to Heppner's banner.

The delegates report having had a fine time and a profitable meeting at Union.

JURY FREES ECHO MAN

John Lucianna, section foreman at Echo, was acquitted by a jury in the justice court at Pilot Rock Monday of the charge of unlawful possession of mash. Last Thursday evening a party of special officers under the leadership of J. S. Culbertson, a federal prohibition officer, searched the Lucianna home and after finding about a gallon of soured mulberries, took Lucianna to Pendleton. The following day he was taken to Pilot Rock where he pleaded not guilty and was released on bail for trial Monday.

It was claimed by Culbertson that the mulberries were intended as mash to make brandy, but John satisfied the jury that the fruit was to have been made into jelly by his wife and as she was ill the berries stood in the house until they soured.

City Marshal Warnock and several other Echo citizens went to Pilot Rock Monday as character witnesses for Lucianna. They report that the jury took but five minutes to reach a verdict, and the decision was loudly applauded by citizens who heard the trial.

Attorney Will Peterson, of Pendleton, who defended the accused, brought out the fact that Culbertson searched the Lucianna home without a search warrant, which is in violation of law, and later hit Lucianna over the head with a bottle, knocked him down and kicked him, because he would not admit that the berries were to be distilled.

Much unfavorable comment was also heard over the officers' actions in taking Lucianna to Pilot Rock for hearing, putting him to the expense of making a forty mile trip with his witnesses for trial, when the case could have been heard at Echo or in Pendleton.—Echo News.

INTERNAL REVENUE NEWS BULLETIN

Portland, Ore., July 21.—Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, was today advised that early this fall, the date to be announced later, a sub-committee from the bureau of internal revenue, Washington, D. C., will hold a series of hearings in Portland when residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming may present appeals from the action of the income tax unit.

The purpose of these hearings in the field is to afford taxpayers of the Pacific northwest states, who can only appear before the bureau at Washington at the cost of considerable time and expense, an opportunity to present their cases on appeal before an appellate body of the bureau sitting in the appellant's own locality. All evidence, however, considered in cases heard upon appeal must have been previously submitted to the income tax unit in accordance with the established practice of the bureau.

This plan of affording the taxpayer this less expensive method of presenting his appeal in income tax matters was initiated by the bureau as an experiment with a series of hearings at St. Paul, Minnesota, beginning late in April. The result of the work of the sub-committee at that point was so successful that the bureau felt justified in continuing these hearings in the more remote middle west and Pacific coast districts. Leaving St. Paul, the sub-committee will hold similar hearings at Los Angeles, beginning August 1, for the accommodation of residents of the states of California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona, before coming to Portland for further hearings.

"By this arrangement," said Collector Huntley today, "the work of hearing and disposing of these appeals from taxpayers will not only be greatly expedited but the interested litigants will be spared the expense and loss of time of either going to Washington in person or employing legal assistance to make the trip to that city where all appeals have heretofore been heard."

John Padberg was a visitor in town yesterday with Mrs. Padberg. Grain is not quite ready to cut in Mr. Padberg's neighborhood but will be in another week. In the meantime they are improving the time cultivating summer fallow and putting up hay.
