Miss Georgia Shipley, who has been spending the summer in California, is here for a few days' visit with relatives before re-entering the U. of O. where she is a senior.

C. P. Herdener registered at Hotel Heppner last Wednesday night from Buenos Aires, Argentina. Mr. Herdener was traveling with his brother, a well known salesman who makes this territory regularly.

town Saturday from their ranch north of Ione. Mr. Reitman is waiting for his favorite seeding time, which is about October 15, before starting to plant his next year's crop.

Grant Wilkerson and family arrived in Heppner last Tuesday from Notus, Idaho and expect to make this place their future home. Mr. Wilkerson has taken a position with the Cass Furniture Co. as salesman and expects to learn the details of that business.

W. T. McRoberts had some excitement one evening last week when his car took fire on the road about a mile south of town. He went after the flames bare handed and succeeded in extinguishing them before much damage was done, receiving some painful burns on his hands.

Mrs. W. J. Irwin, who recently returned from Rockaway where she and Betty spent the summer at their cottage, says more people visited the beaches this season than ever before. The weather was fine at Rockaway for the most part and the change from eastern Oregon was delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bayless have gone to Idaho for a few weeks' visit with relatives and expected to spend some time at Payette, Caldwell, Emmett and Boise. They expect to return to Heppner, however, Mr. Bayless saying that this part of the country is good enough for him as a permanent abiding place.

Miss Annie Doherty, assistant to the county agricultural agent, has returned from her vacation which was spent at Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C. Miss Doherty says she had a very enjoyable trip but after all there is no place quite like home. The county agent's office is now open every day as before vacation.

Mrs. W. D. Baxter of Spokane is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mahoney, having arrived this morning. Roland Humphreys, his two sisters Misses Leta and Evelyn and Miss Ruth Tash, left by auto for Eugene Friday morning where they will enter the university for the coming year's work. Huston, for some time have gone to Eugene, where the doctor will serve as assistant physician at the university of Oregon during the coming year. On their way to Eugene while near Oregon City, a speeding car ran into them and knocked the doctor's car into the ditch bus without serious results to the occupants.
