PATRON-TEACHERS HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

Members of the patron-teachers' association held a business meeting last Tuesday evening when plans were laid for carrying on the work of the association for the coming school year.

The organization had been showing some signs of following in the footsteps of the commercial club and the Brotherhood, which would lead to the civic organization graveyard but the ladies, God bless 'em, decided that the association is worth keeping alive and expressed themselves accordingly. Difficultly had been found in securing a president following the resignation of Mrs. Woodson some time ago on account of poor health but it is understood that that lady was finally prevailed upon to again take up the duties of the office and help put the association on its feet and in better working order than before.

Members say the association has proven its value to the community and the school during the past two years of its existence and there is still much good work to be done.

The surprise was a success and a pleasant evening was passed until 10 o'clock when light refreshments were served before the guests departed.
