

LOCAL NEWS

Pat Ward, stockman from Alderdale, registered at Hotel Heppner Thursday night.

Fine rains and good grass is the report brought in by D. O. Jastus from his big sheep ranch Saturday.

Mrs. Irene Sprague, office manager of the Latourell Auto Co. at Boardman, was a visitor here Thursday coming over in the morning and returning in the afternoon.

W. J. Gooding, who is a brother of Senator Gooding of Idaho and a well known sheepman of the Gem state, was here from Boise during the week on a business trip.

Pete Campbell of Condon was a Heppner visitor during the week.

George L. Krebs, of the Minor & Krebs ranch at Coell, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Charles Barlow, office manager at the Latourell Auto Company's Heppner plant, spent last week at Portland as a delegate to the annual convention of the Knights of Pythias, from Doric lodge.

Martin Eid reports business improving in the lumber line lately and has been operating his planing mill almost continuously for several weeks. His yard at Lexington is also enjoying a good business.

John Wildenan is here from Portland for a few days attending to business matters and arranging for a sale of stock and farm implements to be held at an early date. Mr. Wildenan has been in very poor health for a couple of years but is now improving right along.

W. E. Bell, new proprietor of Hotel Heppner, has taken over the hotel dining room formerly conducted by K. Tani and will operate the entire hotel plant in the future. Mr. Tani gave a farewell turkey dinner to his patrons Sunday as a token of good will. He says he does not expect to leave Heppner but may open a lunch room here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Matlock and little daughter of Alderdale, Wash., drove over Thursday for a few days' visit. Mr. Matlock has been in Montana all summer looking after his sheep being ranged there and says it is a good country for feed but so rough that when you start up a hill it seems to be leaning a little toward you. "The John Day country is a croquet ground compared with that Montana country," declared Bill.

Dr. McMurdo reports the advent of a fine daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Connell this morning.

Jesse Applegate, manager of an employment agency at Peadleton, was a Heppner visitor Monday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kelly, of Lexington, Monday morning. Mother and child are doing fine, Dr. McMurdo reports.

Arlington high school football team will be here Saturday, October 20th, for a game with Heppner high. Both teams are said to be in good form and an interesting game is expected.

Charlita Acock, of upper Rhea creek, is recovering from injuries received several days ago when a wagon load of hay overturned with him on the ranch. Several ribs were broken and other bruises and abrasions were sustained.

W. J. Gooding, of Boise, shipped 15 cars of wether lambs out from the local yards Monday morning destined for eastern markets. Nine to ten cents per pound is understood to have been the price paid.

Another big rain accompanied by considerable wind prevailed last night and fine weather following today is further proof that all three of the Herald weather prophets know exactly what they are talking about when they prognosticate.

Eddie Sheridan, who has been at the Kenny home since the Rodeo when he sustained a broken leg while taking part in the roping contest, is on the streets again traveling in the three-legged brigade. Ed says most people have practically forgotten the Rodeo by this time but he still has something to remember it by.

Jack French, who received a fracture of the knee joint when a bad bronc got out from under him during the Rodeo here, came over from Pendleton Sunday where he has been in a hospital since his accident. He is still on crutches but expects to recover normal use of the knee when the fracture is fully healed. After visiting here a day or two Jack will go to his home on Butter creek for a few days' visit and then back to Pendleton for further treatment.

Claude Knowles, well known hotel chef, who has been employed at the Condon hotel for the past year has accepted a position with Mine Host Bell at Hotel Heppner and took charge of the kitchen there yesterday.

Another big rain swept over this section Sunday night when .33 of an inch of water fell. This makes approximately two inches of rain since October 1st, according to Frank Gilliam, local weather observer. It's fine for the sheepmen but bad for the farmers.

A violent wind storm prevailed all day Tuesday with the result that the power lines were put out of business for the day and in consequence the Herald is a day late. Two trees were uprooted in the court house park and other minor damage was reported. The storm was a most unusual one for this season of the year.

C. N. Jones was in town Monday not too well pleased with the big rain Sunday night. Mr. Jones was all ready to start seeding Monday morning but the ground is too wet. Sacked wheat still in the field is bound to be damaged, Mr. Jones says, unless it is replanted and raised off the wet ground. Wet wheat will sprout in 40 hours such weather as this, Mr. Jones affirms.

F. E. SHARKEY PASSES AWAY AT PORTLAND

B. F. Swaggart and his son Grover B. Swaggart have returned from Portland where they were called last week by the death of the former's son-in-law, F. E. Sharkey, who died suddenly Monday, October 8th from an attack of heart disease.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Portland crematorium.

Mrs. B. F. Swaggart remained with her daughter for a week or so when Mrs. Sharkey will accompany her mother home for a visit here.

ARTHUR GEMMEL SERIOUSLY INJURED IN HAY FIELD

A. W. Gemmell, well known farmer of the Lexington district, was seriously injured Saturday when the team with which he was raking hay on his father's ranch on Heppner hill became unmanageable. Mr. Gemmell was thrown from his seat on the rake and sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries. He is at the Heppner Surgical hospital where Dr. McMurdo reports him doing nicely.

BETHEL CHAPEL EXPRESS APPRECIATION

To the many citizens of Heppner who so liberally contributed to our kitchen shower, either with dishes or kitchen utensils or by cash, we desire to express our most sincere thanks.

We also are very grateful for the many expressions of cheer and good will given us since our opening.

Sincerely,
BETHEL CHAPEL.

Dazzling Auto Headlights

A serious accident came near happening to an lone party Sunday night while driving on the highway towards Lexington by the bright lights of another car. Driving into the dazzling lights of an oncoming car is dangerous business—dangerous alike to the dazzler and the dazzled. And it is so unnecessary. To dim the lights of a car is so simple and easy a task, that it seems that the danger involved by not doing so would compel the motorist approaching another car at night to take this simple precaution—the possibility of accident to his own car as well as the cars of others. It should not take a law to bring about the dimming of headlights. Common decency demands that a motorist practice this simple rule of night driving etiquette, and good manners are just as essential on the road as in the ballroom.—lone Independent.

The Tax Commission Tangle

Judge Campbell expects to go to Salem Thursday to interview Governor Pierce on the Morrow county tax commission problem. The three men appointed by the governor, W. F. Barnett, O. G. Blayden and Ralph Thompson all refused to serve. Later Charles B. Cox was appointed and by strong insistence on the part of part of county officials it is understood he will qualify. Judge Campbell will suggest the names of Lee Padberg and W. G. McCarty to the governor it being understood that they have both agreed to serve if appointed.

McPherrin-Dausner

Lloyd McPherrin and Miss Leon Dausner were married at the home of the groom's brother, O. H. McPherrin last Wednesday Rev. W. O. Livingstone performing the ceremony.

Mr. McPherrin has been here but a short time and is connected with the Arlington-Heppner stage line of which his brother is proprietor and his bride was a resident of Umatilla county.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherrin have not decided whether they will reside at Heppner or Arlington their location depending on just how his work as driver for the stage line develops.
