Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gilliam are moving to Tacoma, Washington, where they expect to make their home. Their household goods went forward by truck to the Washington city several days ago.

Twenty Elks and their ladies drove to Arlington Saturday night to attend the dance given by Heppner lodge of Elks. All report having had a fine time and splendid music although the attendance was not large.

George W. Wilson, right hand man on the Hynd Bros. ranch at Cecil, was in town Wednesday from Freeport, the company's foothill stock ranch. Mr. Wilson was combining business and pleasure on this trip.

F. S. Greenwood, state highway engineer, who had charge of the work on Heppner-Jones Hill sector and is now in charge of construction work near Pilot Rock, was in town Thursday night. He thinks it is only a question of time when the remaining link between Jones Hill and Vinson will be improved.

A spark from the smokestack at the power plant started a small roof fire Monday just before noon which called off the fire department for the first time in several months. The blaze was soon extinguished and the damage was slight.

Hary Rood, who has been in Portland for several weeks with his father, Andrew Rood sr., who is in the city for medical treatment, returned home last Tuesday evening. Mr. Rood says his father, who is 81 years old, is improving rapidly under the treatment and looks and feels better than he has for years. He will remain in Portland for a few weeks or until his physician tells him he can come home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Morse went to Irrigon Sunday to attend a turkey shoot at that bustling town and Mrs. Morse brought home a fine turkey as a reward for her skill with the rifle. Anderson and Morse somehow got the idea that the turkeys were not fat and they were content to lug home a few ducks and chickens. A big crowd was present and the shoot was a great success. The object of the affair was to pay off a debt on the water system. Plenty of hot coffee, mulligan and other toothsome refreshments were served and the day was a delight the visitors affirm.

DIFFICULT DANCE FEAT

Morse Allen, Washington high school boy who was selected to represent the District of Columbia in the National Dance contest in New York city, is shown performing one of the difficult feats in his dance which he calls "Lightning." He leaps into the air, kicking his head with his heels.

Mrs. Stella Kellogg Drake, of Portland, grand worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star, made an official visit to the local chapter last Thursday afternoon and evening holding a school of instruction for the chapter officers in the afternoon and attending a meeting of the chapter in the evening. A large number of members of the local chapter were present as well as many from the Ione and Lexington lodges. Following the work meeting a fine banquet was served in the dining room. Mrs. Drake will visit the Ione chapter this evening.

Frank Gilliam, who recently returned from a business trip to Baker county, was almost an eye witness to the stage wreck near Baker when a young couple on their way to Baker to get married were reported in the Portland papers to have been almost killed. Mr. Gilliam and his party ate dinner with the young couple at Richland and was only a short distance ahead of the stage when the accident happened. "The Portland papers had it that it took 29 stitches to close the cuts on the girl's face and 19 stitches to repair the prospective bridegroom's injuries," Mr. Gilliam said, "while the truth is that the girl was hardly scratched and the young man had a few small cuts on his head. The driver, however, was very dangerously injured and may not recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cohn and Miss Mary Clark went to Portland Friday expecting to return tomorrow when Mrs. Phill Cohn and Miss Ellen Cohn will return with them to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.
