THE NEWSPAPER

What newspapers should be, was discussed incidentally by Judge Samuel W. Greene of Kentucky, Christian Science lecturer, in the First Church, Portland, Friday evening. Around 1600 people were in the audience, and 2000 more applied for admission but could not be accommodated. At its close the lecture was repeated as soon as the first audience could make an exit and a second one that filled the big auditorium of the church could be seated.

"Every business means something more than the mere effort to accumulate," said Judge Greene. There is the thought of the higher service every business can do in promoting human welfare. To help others and to hearten others and to forward the happiness of others is a part of the field in which every business can be an instrumentality.

To no profession or endeavor is given such power to serve mankind in the higher and more spiritualized field as to the newspaper. Purity and honesty and cleanliness and high purpose and truth, and thought of those in need of succor and aid, and consideration for the happiness and welfare of all, are, he said, a field in which newspapers have extraordinary opportunity for service.

He questioned whether some of the headlines, some of the news stories and some of the editorials in newspapers in general meet in full the high standards that an ideal journalism should maintain. That the education of 90 per cent of the people above 11 years of age comes from the reading of daily newspapers was a statement that Judge Greene declared comes from high authority, and, with this as a basis, he pointed out the very great importance of a journalism attuned to high moral and civic standards.

It was a highly intelligent discussion by a delightful speaker of an instrumentality that has much to do with the weal or woe of mankind.—Oregon Journal.

MORGAN

Those who were neither absent nor tardy this past month are Wayne Witzel, Margaret Ely, Elise Morgan, Oro Haladay, Paul Pettyjohn, Claude Morgan, Carrie Medlock, Irvan Medlock, Gladys and Harvey Medlock, Katie Morgan, Mary Holaday and Edith Ely.

The sixty-fifth birthday of Oregon was observed by the Morgan school. After a community dinner in the schoolhouse, a program relating the history of Oregon was given by the pupils. Talks on the early days were given by Mrs. Baurenfeind and Mr. Edwards. Then the Valentine box was opened and found to contain valentines for everyone. An art exhibit was also another feature. The drawings were contributed by pupils and their parents. All the children below school age gave a drawing of their hand. Visitors present were Mrs. Hardesty, Mr. and Mrs. Ely, Mrs. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Medlock, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Medlock, Mr. Edwards, Mrs. Funk, Mr. and Mrs. Witzel, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Pettyjohn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pettyjohn, Mrs. Baurenfeind, Mr. Holaday, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Medlock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Medlock and Mr. Edwards spent Friday evening at holidays.

Wayne Witzel will be seven years old Feb. 26.

Mr. Holaday and family were visitors at B. F. Morgan's home on Saturday.

Kermit Edwards is home from Hood River for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Pettyjohn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pettyjohn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hardesty and family, Duncan Holaday, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Medlock, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Medlock had a pleasant evening with Mr. Edwards.

H. O. Ely, Albert Palmateer and R. E. Harbison drove to Pendleton on Saturday.

Those from Morgan attending the basket ball game at Ione on Saturday were Mrs. Ely, Elvin, Edith and Margaret Ely, Donald Witzel, Virgil Morgan, Duncan Holaday, Miss Parsons, Martin Baurenfeind, Kermit Edwards, Mrs. R. E. Harbison and Robert Harbison.

Mrs. Harbison has returned from a visit to Portland.

Mr. Holaday and family and Mrs. Parsons spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Noah Pettyjohn.

Fred Pettyjohn and family enjoyed ice cream with Mr. Edwards and the Medlock family on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. B. F. Morgan has just had a neat checkers board with a concrete floor built.

CECIL

Mrs. Johnson of Ridgefield, Washington, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. A. Miller, at Highview ranch.

"Babe" and Frank Montague, of Arlington, have been busy during the week buying pelts, etc., in the Cecil vicinity.

W. A. Thomas of Dotheboys hill, was calling on his friends in Cecil on Sunday and discussing the wheat question of the present time.

Max Gorkfle of the Army and Navy stores, Pendleton, was doing the rounds of his numerous customers on Willow creek during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. May of Lone Star ranch were calling in Cecil on Sunday.

Miss Ester Logan, student of Ione high school, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Hazel Logan, at Fournelle.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Funk and daughter, Miss Geraldine, were calling on Mrs. Geo. Krebs at The Last Camp on Monday.

Charlie Hynd of The Pines ranch arrived in Cecil on Friday in readiness to take a load of cattle belonging to Hsynd Bros. to Portland, which have been wintering at Butterby Flats. Charlie says the weather at Ukiah is all that could be wished for, but the stock men declare a good cover of snow would have suited them better in every way.

Pete Farley, who has been looking after his sheep near Cecil, took a hurried trip to the county seat on Friday.

Ed. Edelman arrived from Portland on Tuesday and has taken on his work once more at The Last Camp.

Al. Troedson of Gradview ranch near Cecil, who has been sick for some time, left on Tuesday to take treatments for a few weeks at Shepherds Springs, Wash. We wish Al a speedy recovery from his ailments.

W. E. Ahalt and brother Harold were visiting friends in Cecil on Sunday. W. E. will work for Minor & Krebs and Harold will go trapping for the government again.

R. A. Thompson, prominent sheep man of Heppner, arrived at The Shepherd's Rest on Tuesday with several extra men. "Hank," the cook, declares his rest is now upset for the rest of the season, but as long as "Mac," the weather man, has the sun to shine every day he can stand it.

Lambing crews are kept busy at the Krebs camps and also R. A. Thompson's camps. About two thousand fine lambs are on the Cecil hills at the time of writing, Feb. 23, enjoying the fine weather and brilliant sunshine.

The gents of Cecil are planning on carrying home the prize for best waltz at Ione. Judging from what we have seen it will be a tie between Society Slim and Tired Jim.

W. G. Hynd of Sand Hollow spent the week end at Butterby Flats with his brother Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wilcox, accompanied by Mr. Cleve Hoipel, all of Estacada, visited with Mrs. George Krebs at The Last Camp on Monday before going to visit friends around Heppner. Miss Clela Palmeter of Windybrook was calling in Cecil on Sunday with a party of Morgan friends.

Emery Gentry, resident agent of West Coast Life Insurance Co., and recently appointed traveling salesman for some big car company, was doing his level best to do business around Cecil on Wednesday.

Clyde Franklin, a former Cecil boy, returned from Nevada with his wife and daughter and will visit all their old friends in Morrow county before leaving for home in April.

C. W. Erickson of Grass Valley, accompanied by Misses Annie and Violet Hynd and Master Jackie Hynd, spent Sunday with Mrs. Roy Scott at Hynd Brothers ranch at Freezout.

Our "Mayor" made a trip to Heppner on Friday and returned the same day, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Hynd and son Jackie and niece, Mrs. Roy Scott and daughter, Miss Cora of Hynd Bros. ranch at Freezout. Mrs. Scott will visit at Butterby Flats for some time before returning home.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENE AT PENDLETON

The annual district convention of Morrow and Umatilla county Odd Fellows was held at Pendleton last Saturday when representatives from each of the 18 lodges in the district were present the aggregate attendance approaching 500 persons.

Ed Huston, Oscar Edwards, Adam Knoblock and J. L. Yeager were there to represent Willow Lodge, No. 66, of this city. Lexington, Ione, Morgan and Hardman lodges also sent delegations.

Twelve of the 18 lodges in the district submitted complete reports of their condition, showing among other things that they own $187,000 worth of property.

The 1925 convention will be held at Ione.
