"AN EVENING WITH THE POETS"

Another very enjoyable entertainment was given at the Methodist Community church last Friday evening, the program being along the same lines as that of "An Evening With Burns," given several weeks ago.

The program was opened with a piano solo by Bernice Woodson; invocation by Rev. Spaulding; selection, "Maid of the West," by a mixed quartette.

Morse gave two splendid readings from Browning, "Pie Piper of Hamelin" and "Songs From Pippa Passes," which was followed by Mr. Alex Gibb with two of his inimitable Scotch songs, "I Love a Lassie" and "Mr. John Mackie." Mrs. R. W. Lowry, a favorite Heppner audience, gave two readings from Grace Hall, whose poems are known to all readers of the Oregonian, and Mrs. Carl Gilliam and Miss Leola Bennett favored with a duet, "Love Shadows."

M. L. Case gave two readings: "The Sicilian's Tale," by Longfellow, and "Second Boyhood," by McKinley an dthen Rev. Spaulding, who claimed in his advance remarks that he is not a soloist, but proved three ways from the ace that he is not only that but a successful chorus leader to boot, by successfully singing three solos in three different languages and then so enthusing the audience with his own linguistic ability that he had the whole crowd singing a hymn in the Portuguese language and—getting away with it. Mr. Spaulding's selections were: "As Asas de Amor," a Portuguese hymn, and "Klickitat Hymn" which he sang in the language of the Klickitat Indians and also in the Chinook jargon.

Mrs. S. E. Notson gave two readings, both of which were splendidly rendered and much enjoyed by the audience. The first, "Ultima Veritas," by Gladden, the reader said she chose because it had often been of so much help to her and, she hoped, might prove the same to others, and the second, "Yawcoo Strauss," probably because it is one of the best dialect pieces of the old days and one filled with kindly humor and of difficult interpretation.

Mrs. Bessie Bruce Gibb, the well known soprano singer, favored with "A May Morning" and "Rose in the Bud."

Miss Bernice Woodson, a popular young dramatic reader, was entertaining in "The Old Clock on the Stair," by Longfellow, and "Come Into the Garden, Maud," by Tennyson, and Harvey Miller, of Lexington, gave two fine solos, "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "Little Mother of Mine."

A silver offering amounting to some $20 was taken and the program closed with "The Home Road," by the mixed quartette.

Good Words About COFFEE The conclusions of a three-years investigation by Professor Prescott, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, are summed up as follows: Coffee is an efficient, harmless stimulant Its quality depends on how it is made The professor says: "Coffee promotes heart action mildly, increases the power of concentration in mental effort and increases the power to do muscular work and is therefore an aid to sustained brain work. It has no depressive after effects and is not habit forming." How's that for a "clean bill" for coffee?
