Victor Anderson was in town on Monday from Eight Mile. He is one of the successful young farmers of that section and is looking forward to big crops this harvest.

Thea Anderson is now the possessor of a beautiful two-year-old imported Percheron stallion delivered to him this week by M. O. Metz, of Pendleton. He is a fine formed animal weighing at the present time nearly 1900, is coal black, except for a stripe in the face and should be a good foal getter. Thea got this horse on a trade, turning in the stallion that he bought last year from Mr. Metz.

J. D. Bauman and family are new arrivals this week from Spokane. Mr. Bauman has come to take charge of the Berg place down the creek from Heppner, which he purchased last Fall from Warner Bros. This is one of the best ranches on the creek, being a combination of creek bottom land and wheat land. There is about three hundred acres of fall-sown wheat on the place that is doing fine, and Mr. Bauman gets the benefit of this, and the ranch will also bring good returns from its alfalfa fields. He expects to make an ideal home out of this ranch as he has had abundant experience as a farmer in the Washington country and has grown-up boys to help along with the work. We acknowledge a pleasant call from Mr. Bauman, and he has started in right by getting his name on the list of Gazette-Times readers. More families on our ranches is what is needed, and we bespeak for these new arrivals abundant success.

J. A. Keihn, who resides on the Jamieson ranch northeast of Ione, was in Heppner on Saturday. He is well pleased with the outlook and expects a harvest of at least 35 bushels to the acre if present prospects hold good. Mr. Keihn is a new arrival in Morrow county, and is well pleased with his place and surroundings. He is interesting other people from his former home, and expects quite a number to locate here. A number will be down from Spokane this week and will be shown over the lands near where Mr. Keihn is living, and they will doubtless be interested enough to make purchase and locate here permanently. They are from an industrious farming class and just the kind of people desired to settle on these lands and put them in a state of cultivation again. Geo. P. Youm, a brother-in-law of Mr. Keihn, is in charge of these people and is working to get a large number of the farming class interested in Morrow county farm lands. We hope for his success.

The U. S. supreme court has denied H. H. Hendricks' application for a new trial in his land fraud case that has been pending for seven years. A petition to the President for a pardon is being circulated in this vicinity, and is being signed by everybody, it being the universal opinion here that Mr. Hendricks has been sufficiently punished already for an offense that was committed by thousands of other stockmen who were not molested, in the days when the government winked at all sorts of irregularities in acquiring title to public lands.—Fossil Journal.

F. D. Cox was a pleasant caller at this office on Tuesday. He brought to town with him on that day 29 coyote scalps on which he collected the bounty at the court house. He trapped these dogs, and besides the revenue received from the county, he disposed of the hides and the total amount realized for the catch was over one hundred dollars in cash.

Sperry. Mr. Sperry and family will move to Brownsville to reside soon and will occupy one of the Bither residences on Oak street.

Other selections to fill the various stations of teachers and instructors in the school are being made, but not yet completed, and further announcements along this line will appear later.

Evangelist Owen closed his services with the union meetings at the M. E. Church south on last evening and departed this morning for his home near Hillsboro. He made a splendid impression on Heppner people and they will be glad to hear him here again. The meetings will not close until Sunday evening.

If you are behind with your subscription to either the Heppner Gazette or Heppner Times, now is a good time to come in and settle up and pay a year in advance. The price of the paper is to be advanced to $1.50 per year on April 1st, and now is a good time to get lined up for another year at the $1.00 rate.

The Gazette-Times job department is busy this week getting out the Spring colonist folders of the O. W. R. & N. Co. These will be distributed in many different points in the east and middle west, advertising colonist rates which are on from March 1st to April 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Avers were down from the mill on Thursday and Friday. Al reports a fall of a foot of new snow at the mill on Friday, and with them winter is not over yet.

Lives of great men all remind us
What it is that makes them great;
That the rising generation
Vainly strive to emulate.

Some have brains of subtle power;
Intellects that shine for aye;
Others have the mighty dollar,
With the powers that therein lay.

Others blessed with pride of station
Quickly rise to place of fame;
While another dregged plodding
Wins for him our loud acclaim.

Still now in our race for honor,
He whoever sets the pace,
Is the man who spreads the bull con
Thick and often in each place.
He may have no brains or dollars;
And to birth have little claim;
But if he can spread the smooth snave,
He will get there just the same.

For the art of kind persuasion,
In the gentle game of bluff,
Wins a piker recognition
Even if his talk is guff.
