

HEED THE WARNING

Many Heppner People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the kidneys on the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expell a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy. Heppner people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Arthur Daly, Main St. Heppner, Oregon, says: "Several years ago my kidneys became disordered and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance by their irregularity in passage. Being told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the contents of two boxes effected a cure. I am enjoying better health than I have for years."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TRIBUTE TO SELLING PAID BY JOURNAL

Portland Newspaper Says He is a Friend of the People.

Stood for Statement No. One When Many Republicans Refused to do so.

Proving that a long career of consistent fighting for measures that bring the state government closer to the people, and also sends the name of Oregon to the top of the column in advanced legislation, the following extract from the Portland Daily Journal of Friday, February 22, 1912, not only endorses the progressive policies of Ben Selling which are now laws on the statute books of Oregon, but it also shows beyond question the standing of this man among the people and press of the state:

MR. SELLING

Senator Ben Selling has announced his intention to contest for the Republican nomination for United States senator. For a number of years the political course of Mr. Selling and The Journal have run along much the same lines. Support of progressive methods of government in Oregon when they were badly in need of support, brought Mr. Selling and The Journal on common ground.

When there was need of Statement One candidates for the legislature, they were not always easy to find. There was a time when most of the higher-ups of the Republican party in Oregon were, and some of them still are, against Statement One. It was in such a time that Mr. Selling was a welcome addition to the forces that were striving for direct election of senator, and for elimination of disgraceful deadlocks at Salem.

Without at all entering into the support of Mr. Selling's present candidacy, it is as little as The Journal can do to thus acknowledge the aid Mr. Selling has been to the cause of popular government in Oregon, an acknowledgment that, in fairness, is also due to Senator Bourne.

SELLING IS THE PROPER MAN

"Naturally, Ben Selling would be my choice for the United States senate," said a prominent Portland German to a reporter for the Zeitung. "He knows the people of Oregon, and his interests are here in the state. He knows what the people of Oregon need, and I don't believe there is a man alive better able to supply those needs."

Right in line with that sentiment is another, very generally expressed, to the effect that while Mr. Selling has always been one of the most progressive of citizens, insistent upon the development of the state and the utilization of all its resources, he is the implacable foe of graft in all its forms. Recognizing the fact that all public expenses must be met from the pockets of the people, he stands firmly against the waste of public money.

BEN SELLING

Oregon has gone forward amazingly in the past twenty years; and in every step of its progress Ben Selling has been in the front rank of Oregon's citizens. He has done his part. He has borne his share of the burdens, and discharged his share of the duties. He has asked no man to perform his tasks.

The men who own homes, and the men who pay in industry for the good things of life, want to intrust their public interests to a man who has always stood shoulder to shoulder with them, who knows them and their problems, and whose citizenship is of the sturdy character which asks no special favors from any one.

Our people know Ben Selling. They have dealt with him for many years. He has been fair with them, and they can confidently trust him.—Nachricht, a Portland German Newspaper.

BOURNE'S TAX $2.44; NO REAL PROPERTY

Portland Journal Tells of Senator's Tax Contribution.

Reputed Millionaire Pays $2.44 to Help Defray Oregon's Upkeep.

It will be interesting in the extreme to every citizen of Oregon at this particular time to know to what extent the senior United States senator, Jonathan Bourne, pays in the way of taxes in Oregon. Here is a statement from the Portland Journal of March 3, 1912:

BOURNE'S TAXES $2.44; NO REAL PROPERTY

The tax rolls of Multnomah county show Jonathan Bourne, Jr., senior senator from Oregon, will pay $2.44 in taxes this year. This is on his personal property, which consists of office furniture in his office in the Chamber of Commerce building. This furniture is assessed at $100. No assessment of real property appears on the tax books. The registration books show the senator's home to be on the second floor of the Portland hotel, but the tax books do not show he has any personal property there. —Portland Journal, March 3, 1912.

Yet Senator Bourne is reputed to be worth fifteen millions of dollars ($15,000,000.00).

He owns extensive interests in a large cotton goods manufacturing plant on the Atlantic coast. Hence his vote in the senate for a high tariff on cotton goods.

Senator Bourne has been in Oregon, so far as known to the public, but three times since he was elected senator over five years ago and has spent in this state, so far as the public knows, less than three weeks in the state.

Does it seem reasonable that a man can be familiar with the needs of a state who gives it so little time, and does it seem possible that a senator can have the welfare of Oregon thoroughly at heart whose fortune is in the east and who contributes but $2.44 to taxes in the state from which he was elected?

BUSINESS MEN FOR SENATOR

Catholic Sentinel Says Time Has Come For Action.

The time is passing—or past—when oratory is the one essential for statesmanship. More and more the country recognizes the need of the business man in politics, and the value of business men in office.

The substantial advancement of the nation has been made very largely by business men. And it is safe to say that there would have been fewer haltings in the progress of the republic if the fervid policies of men who scorned commercial pursuits had been tempered more with the calm judgment and the shrewd foresight of business men.

Oregon needs business men in its councils. Oratory is a fine thing, and there is a joyous thrill in brilliant pictures of imaginative statesmen. But states and nations have to deal with conditions, and not altogether with theories.

Ben Selling is a successful business man. For fifty years he has been profitably engaged in commercial pursuits. Personal interests have not engrossed all his time, and he has devoted much of his life to activities which make for the betterment of his fellow citizens, the advancement of the community. Never once has public enterprise or private friend lost by following his advice. He has been safe and sane in everything.

Development costs money, and the price of public improvements must be paid in cash—whether it is the Panama canal, or the forestry preserves in Oregon. And every dollar of the mighty expenditure comes from the pockets of the people. The citizens provide the means, after all. Therefore, it is in the interests of the general public, of the average American, that the selection of a business man for the United States Senate is urged. Therefore, it is in the cause of every class that Ben Selling's election to the United States Senate is advocated by his friends.

His long residence in Oregon makes certain his acquaintance with the needs of the people of this state. His wide experience in commercial and social and business affairs makes sure that he is perfectly equipped to secure the measures that are needed for the general good. And every act of his life, both public and private, gives guaranty of good faith.

At no time, and in no conceivable circumstances could the public service of business men be so necessary, or prove so valuable.

Oregon's contribution to the history of the nation is glorious. The prosperity of the state and the permanence of her institutions can best be preserved by the counsel of Ben Selling, a practical man.—Catholic Sentinel.
