Our sales of the

Our Confidence Justified.

If the name Eastman had not been behind them, we would have been afraid that there was something beside the price that was cheap, when the Brownie Cameras first came out. But they were made by Kodak workmen in the Kodak factories. That was enough to satisfy us, and the results have more than justified our confidence.

We don't understand how the Kodak people do it at the price, but here's their

THURSDAY, April 4, . . . . .1912

The city council is taking some definite steps in the direction of permanent street improvements for Heppner, and for this they are to be commended. Each member fully realizes that to put our Main street, alone, in shape that it should be from the depot to the power house is a job that will call for considerable outlay of cash, yet it will be one of the best things that can possibly be done to advertise our little city. Time was when Heppner was a beautiful little home city and it can be restored to its former beauty and attractiveness. The council has this end in view. Why should we not have people making permanent homes here and putting up beautiful residences more than is being done at present? Why should all these people who come to this county and make money out of the resources here pull up at the end of a few years and go some where else to spend their money in building up and beautifying other cities? There is no good reason for it perhaps, except the lack of proper public spirit and civic pride of our citizens. No move helps more to hold people to a town than the permanent improvement of its streets and highways and we hope to see this work pushed along and definite action taken before many months. There is enough rock in the bluff in the middle of upper Main street to macadamize every street in town and the opportunity is before us to make the work serve a double purpose so far as this street is concerned. This paper is in favor of the matter being put to a vote of the people at an early date upon an initiative measure, authorizing the bonding of the city in a sufficient sum to at least pave Main street, and to do even more than this if upon investigation it can be ascertained that other streets can be improved without too heavy cash outlay in the beginning.

As the time draws near for the primary we find the sentiment in this county growing fast in favor of Judge Ellis for Congress. In fact many are expressing their regrets that he was turned down two years ago being fully able to realize at this time that a serious mistake was made in turning out a man of experience and usefulness for one of profuse promises, who in reality did little but bring blushes of shame to the cheek of the people of the entire state. Judge Ellis is a safe man has had abundant experience, and can soon take place at the head of important committees again. Furthermore an investigation of his record in Congress will show that he did much for the district he represented, and was not a "staid-stiller," or "do-nothing" member by any means. Judge Ellis is now making a vigorous campaign and if he gets the treatment he deserves he will be nominated and elected by large majorities.

State Immigration Agent C. C. Chapman, of Portland is sending a letter to the secretaries of the commercial clubs of the state, the mayors, or chief official of every incorporated town and to the boards of county commissioners asking for information to be used in the state booklet to be published under the auspices of the Oregon Immigration Commission and over the seal of the state. Each community will thus be made responsible for the information that goes out about itself. The questions ask for the nature of the agricultural opportunities and the many other advantages of the community. When compiled, the reports received will form a condensed encyclopedia of information which the inquirer about Oregon will want most to know. If further particulars are desired, he will be given directions where to write to get them. The booklet will be of 64 pages, without illustrations except some diagram maps of the state, and will have a circulation of 200,000. The space apportioned to each county will be on a joint basis of population and area although Multnomah will not be given any more space than any other county.

Rain is coming in nice showers these days, and wheat and grass is booming. Morrow county has not had better prospects in 20 years than she enjoys at the present for bumper crops of all descriptions. The lambing season is now fairly on, and all reports coming to notice of this office indicate large percentages of increase. Shearing in many localities is beginning, and the wool clip is splendid—fine staple and very clean. With the frequent showers of rain and the promise of seasonable weather during May and June, our farmers cannot fail having an abundant crop, so prosperity seems to be coming our way. So mote it be.

Guard the Family Health

Health is often endangered by unsanitary cooking utensils. Physicians have found that cancer is caused by enamel ware chipping off and irritating the stomach.

If you have children or invalids in the family beware of cheap cooking utensils that crack, scale, peel off, tarnish or rust. Disease germs lurk in the worn places and there is further danger of tainting the food. Health is too precious to take risks with it.

Be safe. Use
