

Our Confidence Justified

If the name Eastman had not been behind them, we would have been afraid that there was something beside the price that was cheap, when the Brownie Cameras first came out. But they were made by Kodak workmen in Kodak factories. That was enough to satisfy us, and the results have more than justified our confidence.

Dupty Game Warden Here.

Edgar F. Averill of Pendleton, deputy game warden for the Eastern Oregon district, was in this vicinity a few days this week, returning home on yesterday. It had been reported to him that a bunch of Columbia river Indians were killing deer in the vicinity of Parker's mill, and he came over to look into the charges. Upon investigation he found there was no truth in the report. There is quite a large bunch of the Indians in that neighborhood but their chief occupation at this time is the gathering of wool from dead sheep on the range.

Mr. Averill assisted in the organization of a rod and gun club in Heppner Tuesday evening. This club will be of material assistance in carrying out the provisions of the game law and will aid materially in the restocking of our streams with trout and our hills and woods with game birds. It is proposed to make the Minor ranch a game preserve, and if this is done it will not be many years until all kinds of game in this section will be plentiful. China pheasants, bob whites and many other valuable game birds will be turned loose here and be allowed to increase without molestation, and deer will increase and all game becomes more plentiful because of this place of refuge. Mr. Averill took steps while here to see that the law with regard to dams and fish ladders up and down Willow and Rhea creeks shall be complied with. He is going about this work in the right spirit and does not expect to meet with any opposition, looking for cheerful obedience to all requirements just as soon as our people are made aware of what is required of them.

Maddock—Clausmeyer.

The marriage of Mr. Eli C. Maddock, of Heppner and Mrs. Nettie Clausmeyer, of Castle Rock, Wash., was solemnized at The Dalles Oregon, on Thursday evening, May 1, 1912, Judge W. L. Bradshaw officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, and was performed at the chambers of Judge Bradshaw in the Wasco county court house, Judge R. R. Butler and Miss Nona Dawson, being witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddock arrived at Heppner on Friday evening and are now "at home" to all friends at the Maddock residence on upper May street.

"Dad" Maddock as he is familiarly called, played it pretty smooth on his friends here when he slipped off and assumed the roll of a Benedict. There were rumors in the air the fore part of last week that he was going to do something of the sort, but nothing positive was known about it. But he surely got "hisen" when the bridal couple reached Heppner. "Dad" had a right to expect it too for he has not been slow to "hand it" to numerous others of our citizens hereabouts who took the notion to do as he has done. A delegation, armed with all necessary instruments and implements for producing noise, duly met the couple at the depot. Having nothing against Mrs. M. of course, an automobile had been secured to convey her to town, while Mr. M. was taken in charge, placed in the big dray, and amid all kinds of noise was drawn to town, where he was caused to do penance in a manner befitting the occasion.

The newly married couple have been receiving the happy congratulations of friends since who wish them joy and happiness.

Leva Hughes.

This little daughter of Matthew and Sarah A. Hughes was born in Morrow county Oregon on the third of September, 1908. When she was only five days old, her mother died leaving five children, four girls and one boy, the rest of whom are now living. About three weeks before her death, Leva took a cold that developed into pneumonia, and everything possible was done for her, yet the angles took her away to Paradise. She died May 3rd and her funeral was held at the home of Arthur Smith, in Heppner, conducted by the Rev. W. A. Pratt pastor of the local Methodist church and her little body was laid away in the Heppner cemetery.

FROM SUPT. NOTSON.

Editor Gazette-Times:

Leaving Heppner April 25, I arrived at my old home, Sunday morning, the 28th, at 3 o'clock. I found my mother much improved, but she is very feeble and the final outcome is doubtful.

On Monday, I had the pleasure of visiting the school in Hamburg, Iowa. I found a number of changes since I knew the school before. A fine manual training department has been installed. The pupils and parents are greatly pleased with the results. The work done is fine, and Sept. Marin says that the pupils taking it are just as strong in their other work as those who do not take it.

The buildings are inadequate for a domestic science department, but a line of home work is planned and followed. An exhibit and contest were recently held showing some most excellent results. The department will undoubtedly be provided for soon.

Another contest and exhibit will be held soon.

On the following day I visited the public Library at Ft. Dodge, Iowa. Here I was given an opportunity to see how the public school children of nearly all grades were assisted by the library. There were dozens of them there to get books and to work on some line of investigation. The librarians rendered every assistance needed. I was pleased with the investigation of sixth grade pupils upon the subject of gardens. They had about a dozen books upon the subject upon the tables and were reading and making notes. Many of them are now planning their gardens for the school contests. I saw some of them, and everything indicated the liveliest interest. The school contests are doing much for the city pupils as well as the country pupils, in fact.

I have also had occasion to learn something of the agricultural work in the South Dakota schools. They are doing a lot of experiment work, and the pupils are finding out many facts of much value to the agricultural interests.

I expect to be able to make a study of the schools of Minneapolis and St. Paul. They have the reputation of being in the front rank. If I can find out anything of use to us in our schools, I want to do so.

In Iowa, the board of inspection has just recently condemned about 50 per cent of the rural school houses for lack of ventilation, improper heating and lighting, and poor toilet facilities. It has created a commotion of no small size, but these matters will be remedied by the opening of school next fall.

Respectfully,
S. E. NOTSON.

Married.

Ernest E. Clark and Julia M. Forbes at the Liberty School house, Eightmile Sunday evening, May 5. It had been announced to the public. The school house was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms and pussy willow. Early in the evening the house was filled to overflowing with people, estimated at 200. After the usual prayer service Rev. E. P. Warren appeared on the scene and stated it would be some time before the marriage and that he would preach a short sermon. In the meantime the happy couple appeared about 8:30 and proceeded to the platform, preceded by Mr. French and Miss Mable Gay as escorts, then followed a beautiful ring ceremony and the newly married people were introduced to the audience as Mr. and Mrs. Clark and the people rose to their feet, making a polite bow and proceeded in regular order to the platform, extending congratulations and returning to their seats. The young people then quietly retired into the darkness of the night. They have taken up their residence in the Suth Methodist parsonage. A rousing chivari was given them Tuesday night.

W. R. Ward.

At his home in Corvallis, Oregon, Sunday evening, May 5, W. R. Ward passed to the beyond after an illness of some weeks. Mr. Ward's remains were brought to Heppner on last evening and forwarded on to Hardman where the funeral occurred today, conducted by Rev. E. P. Warren.

Mr. Ward was a native of Illinois and was 73 years of age at the time of his death. He came to Morrow county 28 years ago, settling on a farm in the Gooseberry section where he continued to reside until four years ago, when he left here and went to Corvallis. He was well and favorably known here and leaves a family of several sons, all grown, who reside in this country.

Training Class Organized.

On last Tuesday evening a meeting was held at the Woodson residence for the purpose of organizing a Teacher Training class for the Sunday schools of Heppner. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. T. J. Humphreys; Vice-President, Mr. Sam Hughes; Secy. and Treas., Opal Briggs; Teacher, Mrs. John McAllister. The Moniger Course of Study was adopted and anyone wishing to unite with the class who has not this book, please notify any of these officers—from the Christian church, Mrs. Ward instead of Mrs. Humphreys. It was not decided whether we should begin the course of study now or wait until Fall but this will be settled at the next meeting, which will be held on the 28th of May. To this meeting we invite all the people of Heppner who are interested in this work whether you are a teacher or not.
