Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nash came up from Ione on Friday evening, remaining over until Tuesday, visiting the parents of Mrs. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walbridge.

J. A. Miller made final settlement of the estate of Henry Stowers before Judge Patterson on Monday, the affairs of the estate being closed up in a satisfactory manner.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain can not stay where it is used.

Ray Fairchild came up from Portland on Tuesday and is busy looking after a few bunches of beef cattle for shipment to his Portland market. He expects to be here several days.

Palace Dinner Sunday Chicken

Jack Knox has finished work for H. Scherzinger for whom he has been herding during the winter, and will take charge of a band of sheep for Anson Wright during the summer.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Doan's Regulax cures bilious attacks. 25 cents at any drug store.

The big shearing plant at Whetstone's began operating Tuesday morning with a full force of shearers in charge. There will be a lively time thereabouts for the next few weeks.

The residences of A. L. Ayers and S. W. Spencer are this week being treated to new paint which adds much to their beauty. Martin Johnson is the decorator in charge of the work.

Rev. J. V. Crawford came over from Centerville, Wash., Monday, to remain for a week with the home folks. He is somewhat under the weather suffering from the effects of a severe cold.

M. L. Case, of the Case Furniture Co., has added the undertaking line to his business. He is a duly licensed undertaker and embalmer and has had a number of years of practical experience as a funeral director.

The Baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of the Heppner High School, the class of 1912, will be preached at the Methodist Episcopal church the morning of Sunday, May 19, by the Rev. W. A. Pratt, A. M.

The Sisters of Charity are preparing an entertainment of a musical and literary nature which will be presented at the Club Building on Saturday evening, May 18. This is to be a rare treat for our people and we bespeak for the Sisters a liberal patronage.

F. M. Round, of Hamilton, is in Heppner this week looking after business matters. He reports that it is mighty wet in his section and the Spring is rather backward as a result, yet he looks for an abundant harvest of hay and fruit, and all stock have wintered well.

Jacob Bortzer and wife came up from Ione on Monday to "see the elephant." Jake returned home on Tuesday while Mrs. Bortzer remained to visit with friends during the week. Mr. Bortzer has been a farmer in the west end for a long number of years, and states that his section shows the best prospects for a big wheat yield this season that they have ever had.

Considerable excitement was created in the vicinity of Parker's mill on Monday over the loss of little Melvin Hogeland, 4-year-old son of Lou Hogeland. The boy accompanied his father to the Stacy Roberts place where the latter is cutting wood, and strayed off into the woods by himself. When the child was missed a search was at once instituted, the whole neighborhood being aroused and word being sent to Hardman, also aroused that community. The boy was finally found on Rock creek, fully two miles away by A. L. Ayers and no doubt he would have gone farther but the creek was high and he could not get across. The little fellow was crying when Al found him as he was beginning to realize that he was lost.

The Heppner Library Association now have their headquarters at the council chambers where they have installed a neat book case of efficient size to accommodate the present needs. Besides the books that are being presented to the library by local people, the state circulating library will also be handled, giving our people the advantage of the good books to be had from this source. The librarian will be in charge of the room on Wednesday afternoon from three to five, and all those desiring to exchange books, get new ones, or make presentation of books and become members of the association, can do so at this time.

C. F. Angell, representing the commission house of Hollowell, Jones & Donnell, wool buyers of Boston, is in Heppner negotiating with our wool men for their clips. As yet we can report no sales. A little wool is coming to the warehouses but only a little at this time. Within a few days, however, it will be rolling in fast and then we can begin to look for some sales. The indications are that there will be little wool left unsold by the date of the first sales day at Heppner in June. The disposition of the flockmasters here seems to be to favor the private sale as the results are better in price.

The commercial club will meet on Friday evening at the Council Chambers. This is the regular monthly meeting but is one of great importance. Road matters of vital interest to our people will be brought up, as well as the other business of the Club of importance. Our citizens generally, and the club members, especially, invited to be present.

Ernest and Algott Lundell were in from Gooseberry on Monday to take in the circus and otherwise enjoy the hospitality of Heppner for a season. They report a very prosperous outlook for their section. Have had more than ten inches of rainfall since September first and do not think there is anything that can prevent a bumper crop in the Gooseberry country this year.

The annual services for Memorial Sunday will be held this year at the M. E. church, Rev. Pratt the pastor, having charge and preaching the sermon. This will be on May 26th, the last Sunday of the month and prior to Memorial Day, May 30th. All G. A. R. members are urged to keep this announcement in mind and be present.

C. H. Ward, of Hardman, returned on Monday evening from Corvallis where he was called last week by the serious illness of his father. At the time he left there, the elder Mr. Ward was feeling some better, but there is no apparent permanent improvement in the condition of his health.

T. M. Scott, formerly a farmer of the Lexington section but now a resident of Salem, came up on Friday to remain for a couple of weeks looking after interests he has here. He is well pleased with his new home but states that everything looks mighty good to him in Morrow county.

Ed Farnsworth and family were up from Rhea's Siding on Monday to take in the circus and make a short visit with the home folks. Sheep and stock are doing fine, and Ed expects that there will be more hay on lower Willow creek this year than the people will know what to do with.

Mrs. A. E. Patterson departed for Walla Walla on Monday morning where she will join her husband, and expects to be gone for some time. A. E. is getting his horses in proper trim to enter the Northwest racing circuit for the season, and has been at Walla Walla for a number of weeks.

Uncle Frank Gentry, who is in Portland receiving treatment for chronic rheumatism and kidney trouble, is reported to be slowly improving. Since leaving Heppner, Mrs. Gentry has been quite poorly. They are at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Arlet Brock.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Priestley, Moxsup, Conn.

Dr. M. A. Leach departs for Portland the first of the week to attend a meeting of the State Dental Association and will be absent for a period of six days.

Mrs. Fred McCarter, of Baker, who was visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. Howard for a week, departed for her home on Monday.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do this by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts at each application. For sale by Patterson & Son.

H. Scherzinger delivered a bunch of mixed lambs at Heppner on Monday to J. H. Holster of Seattle. The sheep were trailed from here to Yakima. The price paid for these sheep was $2.50 per head.

N. Underwood of North Yakima, is in Heppner this week looking up the sheep market and making some purchases. He came over to buy some ewes and lambs, but failing to get these, he is buying some wethers. He purchased the Devin sheep on Wednesday and may get others before leaving.

E. M. Shutt landed at the Alfalfa Farm on Tuesday evening with a herd of young Holstein cattle with which he is stocking the ranch. These cattle are reported to be of high breeding and will form the foundation of a fine herd of Holsteins. There is now nothing ahead of E. M. but work.

Ed West departed with the circus people Monday night, having engaged himself to work with the blacksmith crew, and also to add his influence toward strengthening the morals and cleanliness of the institution. Ed's beautiful phiz will now be missed from Heppner, perhaps henceforth and forever. Too bad.

It was learned while here on this trip with his circus that Al. G. Barnes is a first cousin of Mrs. Samuel McBride, who, with other members of her family, was drowned in the flood of 1903. Mr. Barnes had learned that his relatives were residents of Heppner and made inquiry concerning them while here.

Wm. P. Parks of Gillette, Wyoming, has been in Heppner for several days this week. He is after sheep and wants to buy mixed yearlings. So far he has been unable to pick up just what he wants at Heppner and he departed for Monument and other interior points yesterday to interview the sheepowners over that way.

Sam Hall, a brother of Jess Hall and an old-time resident of Heppner, is here from Portland on a visit to relatives and friends. He left here 28 years ago, and this is the first visit to the old stamping ground since. He notices many changes and notes the absence of a great many of those whom he was well acquainted with in former days.

The office of the Forest Service will be removed on June first to the building formerly occupied by the Bank of Heppner. They have occupied rooms in the I. O. O. F. building for a number of years past and this change will now give them good quarters on the ground floor. We understand that the rooms vacated by the government will be occupied by other tenants at once.

Mrs. Frank Akers, of Ione was brought to Heppner last Wednesday and was examined before Judge Patterson as to her sanity. From all evidence available the woman was found to be insane and she was therefore committed to the asylum at Salem and was taken below on Saturday in charge of two attendants. It is hoped that proper care and treatment will speedily restore Mrs. Akers to health and her right mind.

Joe Fuller, who gives his home as Dorrit, N. J., and who came to Heppner on Monday with the circus train as one of the roustabouts, was arrested by Sheriff Hayes and landed in the county jail. The arrest was made upon the request of the detective with the circus who stated that the man was wanted by the Sherman county authorities for some thefts committed while the circus was at Grass Valley. Sheriff Hayes informed the Sherman county authorities that he had the man in charge, and Sheriff J. C. Freeman, of Wasco came over on Tuesday and took the man home with him on Wednesday. Fuller is charged with breaking into a mess car at Grass Valley and stealing a suit case, some clothing and an automatic revolver, while the circus performance was on. A couple of other fellows were landed before the circus left, but Fuller got away. He had none of the goods except the revolver, and he claims to have purchased that.

A big, berley negro, going by the name of "Yellow" was arrested by Marshal Smith and Deputy Sheriff Rasmus on Monday night after the close of the circus performance. A cutting scrape was reported to the officers and they went down to investigate. This fellow was found hiding behind the cars between the two tracks and was bleeding badly from a wound on the head and some knife cuts, but refused to say who his assailant was or how he came to be wounded, and resisted arrest quite strongly. Deputy Rasmus bears evidence of this as the darky, landed him a heavy one on the left jaw

Lots of Scalps.

Monday was a good day for scalps at the court house and Clerk Hill had to settle for 208 altogether. John Cochran, of Ione presented the big bunch his contribution being 127. Some smaller lots have been brought in since and the week has proved a prosperous for the trappers. A large number of pups are being caught at this time of year. The bounty has been the means of lessening the number of "sheep killers" very materially in this county and as a consequence the sheep men will be spared much loss from this source.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B. writes, "my wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effectual and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial.
