Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Doan's Regulates cure bilious attacks. 25 cents at any drug store.

Wool is beginning to come in lively from the nearby shearing plants. The clip of Morrow county is exceptionally fine and clean this season, and it should bring the very highest price the market can offer.

L. P. Davidson was in from Lower Eight Mile on Saturday returning home on Sunday. While here he "cashed up" a bunch of baby coyote scalps, the principal source of revenue to our many ranchers these days.

I. R. Esteb came near parting with the end of his thumb on the left hand one day this week. The accident happened to him while he was attempting to oil his gasoline engine when the same was in motion. The next time he does a job of this kind, he won't do it.

The eighth grade examinations were held at the court house last Thursday and Friday. Many pupils were in attendance from different parts of the county. We should have a large increase in the high school next year. Miss Mabel Cameron conducted the examinations for the state.

Uncle Nat Webb came in from Walla Walla on Thursday evening last and will be here for ten days or two weeks looking after sheep interests. He is quite extensively engaged in the farming business these times on his big wheat ranch north of Walla Walla. Crop prospects are very excellent up his way and big harvests of grain, fruit and vegetables will be gathered this season.

The shearing crew at the Whetstone plant went on a strike Monday for higher pay. They have been working for 8 1/2 cents, and struck for 9, and as a matter of course got it, otherwise the plant would have been tied up. The machine men belong to the union, and when the Whetstone crew struck for higher pay, the Wattenburger crew at work at the Minor plant, also made demands for the same raise, and got it at once. The shearers claim that they were to receive 9 cents when they agreed to go to work here. They claim that this is about equal to what the hand shearers are getting, as they receive 8 cents per head and board, while the machine operators have to pay their board. There is a vast difference, however in the number of sheep that can be sheared by machinery than by the old method, and this would seem to work in favor of the machine men.

E. G. Noble is sending out by every mail copies of his newly printed catalogue, and the best part of it is, he is beginning to receive nice orders for saddles and his force in the shop is now busy as bees. Some mighty nice compliments have been passed upon that catalogue and the printer is coming in for his share of the praise. It is a good job; it was all done by the home print shop, and the Gazette-Times is proud of it. We are not too modest to say that it compares well with any work of a similar nature turned out in the city shops, and we are right on the job for more work of the same kind. In fact it should be apparent that it is not necessary to send to Portland for any kind of printing as it can be done at home just as good and the prices are right. Try us and see. And don't forget in the meantime that Gene Noble builds the best saddles made.

George Bleakman, of Hardman, came in from The Dalles on Friday evening where he had been to consult with the traveling salesman of Murphy Grant & Co., of San Francisco. George is looking for good times in his locality this Fall as the promise of good crops out that way will put people on their feet again. He suffered the misfortune of losing three of his best stage horses recently but is learning not to complain as he realizes that only those that have can lose and the mail contract has been a good investment during the year.

C. A. Hales came in from Watsburg, Wash., on Saturday to receive a bunch of sheep at this point. He is gathering up about 14,000 head which he has purchased about Heppner and Echo and will drive a part of them to Watsburg and a part of them to the mountains beyond Spokane where they will be summered on the national reserve. Charles is an old Morrow county boy, and he says things look mighty good to him here this season.

Peter Sushauer, of Irrigon, was in Heppner the latter part of the week, returning to his home Monday. He was here as a member of the grand jury to help wind up the business of that body left over from the November term. He states that some of the fruit crop of Irrigon will be short this season, especially is this true of peaches. The melon crop should be heavy.

W. G. Scott, of Lexington was in attendance at circuit court a couple of days this week. He returned on Monday from a visit of a few days over in Umatilla county, taking in Pendleton, Stanfield and Echo. He made close observation of crop conditions while over that way, and Morrow county need not suffer any by comparison this season.

J. S. Beckwith, court reporter came over from Pendleton on Monday to attend the May term of court in his official capacity. He found but little to do, however, as Judge Phelps had dismissed the jury for the term, so he returned home this morning.

W. B. Finley was up from the sand country on Monday and is greatly rejoiced over the good outlook for bumper crops down his way. He has in a big acreage of wheat this year and the present indications point to an abundant harvest.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Frietoy, Moosup, Conn.

Delicious sodas and ice cream sodas at The Palm.

Miss A. H. Hugh was in from Eight Mile on Monday.

E. F. Day is up from Portland looking after business interests here.

George McDuffe, of Hardman, was in Heppner Sunday, returning home Monday.

Oscar Borg departed for Portland on Tuesday morning to be absent a few days on business.

Miss Amy Wilkins, of Portland, sister of J. L. Wilkins, is here on a visit with her relatives.

Mrs. Roy Gray goes to Pendleton, Saturday to join her husband, who has a position there.

George W. Chapin was down from his Rook creek ranch on Monday, having been called to town as a juror.

The concrete foundation of the Dr. Conder residence is about completed. It is an elegant and substantial piece of work.

Jack Deardriff was up from Lower Sand Hollow a couple of days the last of the week attending to his duties as a grand juror.

For rent a three room house, opposite the Gazette-Times, suitable for housekeeping or for an office. Inquire of Mrs. J. B. Natter.

Mr. George Yeakum, a real estate dealer of Spokane, was in Heppner several days this week as a witness in the case of Jamieson vs. Kien.

Lotus Robison came down from his mountain ranch on Monday. He is rejoicing over the warm weather we are having—it is just what is needed out his way.

N. D. Walling and C. F. Ellis are two attorneys here this week from Spokane attending court. The former is attorney for C. G. Jamieson and the latter for John A. Kein.

J. A. Adams was down from Hardman on Monday, having brought his wife to town to take the train for their home in Corvallis. Mrs. Adams came up to attend the funeral of her father, the late W. R. Ward.

Mr. Fleix Amort, of Corvallis, was in Heppner on Monday. He is an old acquaintance of Mr. J. E. Cronan of Lone, and has come to Morrow county with the view of locating here if he finds something to suit him.

A little daughter was born to the wife of E. G. Sutton at the home of W. O. Hill in Heppner on Sunday. Its life was of short duration, however, as it died on Monday and was laid to rest in the Heppner cemetery that afternoon.

Mr. Tomjack, of Nebraska, is here looking over the real estate situation with a view of locating. He is a man of family and desires to get land for a home. He was interested in this section through the efforts of J. E. Cronan, of Lone.

The Wattenburger shearing crew arrived from Echo on last Thursday evening and are now busy at the Minor Bros. plant where they are clipping wool off the sheep at a lively rate. This clip is coming in to the warehouse every day now and it is a fine one.

Dr. M. A. Leach departed for Portland, Monday, to be absent during the week attending a meeting of the State Dental Association. He expects to visit the coast while gone and breathe in a little of the breeze from the salt seas, realizing the good effect this has on those who are of feeble constitution.

The big four-horse team used by Guy Boyer to haul wool to town took a little spin on their own account Friday morning, starting from the Palace corner and stopping suddenly in front of the store of Vaughn & Sons and spilling a small load of groceries and supplies in the street by the overturning of the rack. The team frightened at an automobile, and one of the horses was somewhat injured by being dragged. No other damage was done and the auto went on its way rejoicing.
