REPORTS PROGRESS.

Committees Busy Preparing For the Celebration.

The financial committee having in charge the matter of raising funds for the coming fourth of July celebration at Heppner have finished their labors, and report splendid success. The celebration is now assured, and two days of good time is to be arranged for the people of the entire county.

The executive committee is now busy, they have already secured the services of the lone band of twelve pieces, and are figuring on other attractions but it is too early yet to make any definite announcements as to what some of the leading features will be. Just as fast as matters can be settled upon, and definitely arranged for, a program will be published and full and complete announcements made.

In the meantime, be preparing yourself to come to Heppner to spend July 3 and 4, being assured that a good time is awaiting you.

Prizes For Our Farmers.

The following prizes have been offered by implement dealers of Portland, Oregon, for the best five acres of either spring or fall-sown wheat, to be grown upon typical wheat land, precipitation of locality in which the wheat is grown to be considered in awarding the prizes:

CLASS-G.—Morrow County.
1st Prize—No. 1 New Superior Fanning Mill and Bagger, donated by the Foot-Titus Machinery House, Portland, Oregon.

2nd Prize—Deep well Pump, donated by the Reierason Machinery Co., Portland, Oregon.

3rd Prize—$25 in cash by Beall & Co., Portland, Oregon.

In Class G it is expected that competitors will give cultural methods and furnish a detailed record as to cost of preparing the ground, yield, variety of wheat grown, date of seeding and amount of seed sown per acre.

All those who desire to compete for prizes should notify the Traveling Agricultural Advisor, Mr. Orren Beatty, Moro, Oregon.

CLASS OF EIGHT RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Address of Hon. J. H. Acker man a Striking Feature.— Program Interesting.

The class of 1912 of Heppner High have finished their work and received their diplomas, the commencement exercises at the Christian church on Friday evening last being the end of the labors of the young men and young ladies with the local school.

The class consisted of five boys and three girls, these being Minnalena Cameron, Arthur R. Crawford, Marie Jeanette Hager, Sidney Hallock, Harold A. Cohn, Tena L. Devin, Marshall Phelps and Harry Rood.

Messrs Crawford, Phelps and Cohn were the class orators. Crawford spoke from the theme, "The Old Order Changeth," drawing his thoughts from the history of our country and setting out some of the various changes that had taken place, all pointing to greatly improved conditions. Great achievements have been made and wonderful has been the progress in government, in science, in mechanics, in agriculture and in education, and vast improvement made over the old order. A good lesson was drawn and made applicable to our present day and generation, and more especially to those just launching out into new fields of life from the High School. The oration was well prepared. Phelps drew good lessons from his subject, "The Reward of Perseverance," gathering his inspiration from the history of the construction of the Panama canal—perhaps the greatest achievement in all modern history. His address was full of good historical facts, showing that he had to work out much of the detailed events of the building of this connecting link between the two great oceans by studious research, but notwithstanding he kept his data in mind and did not fail to reach a fitting climax in the good lessons drawn. Cohn had for his subject, "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy," and he certainly is entitled to credit for the literary and oratorical ability displayed. In this address the class motto: "Success Depends On How Hard We Try," was strikingly illustrated, and Harold delivered his part in a very acceptable manner, indeed. Hannibal could not reach Rome without crossing the Alps, almost impassible barriers, but Rome was the object and aim of his efforts, and he succeeded. So it is with the young men and women just entering upon the responsibilities of life; they should have an object, an aim, and this should be attained although there be seemingly impassible barriers in the way.

Misses Cameron and Hager filled the musical part of the program for the class and delivered well prepared vocal and instrumental selections; the vocal duet by these two young ladies being deserving of special mention.

Miss Funk also favored the audience with a vocal solo which was well received and graciously responded to an encore. Prof. Otto's orchestra played selections at the opening and the closing of the program.

The class address was by Hon. J. H. Ackerman, of Monmouth, president of the State Normal School, and for twelve years superintendent of public instruction for Oregon. Mr. Ackerman has appeared a number of times before Heppner audiences and the people here are always glad to hear him. His address on this occasion was fully up to the expectations of his audience—something good was looked for and they were not in the least disappointed. He accused the speakers of the class of "stealing his thunder" in that the stress of their thought was along the same line he wished to speak, but being possessed of a fund of experience, Prof. Ackerman was not at a loss to entertain the people with a splendid address. In the course of his remarks he took occasion to commend very highly the proposed new school building for Heppner, and it was gratifying to note the spirit in which his words on this subject were received. People of Heppner hope to have Mr. Ackerman with them many times in the future.

The diplomas were presented to the class by Vawter Crawford, clerk of the school board.

It is gratifying to know that the majority of this class are contemplating entering higher schools of learning this Fall and pursue their studies determined to gain for themselves a fuller measure of education and be better prepared to make their way in life. Heppner is proud of this class, is proud of their school, and there will certainly be no hindrance to future betterment.

The Demons of the Swamp are mosquitoes. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Kretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50 cts. at Slocum Drug Co.

Mrs. Goff Passes.

Mrs. Clara A. Goff, a highly respected citizen of Heppner, where she has resided for a number of years, passed away at her home on Sunday morning, May 26, 1912, and was laid to rest in Heppner cemetery on Monday forenoon, Rev. W. A. Pratt, Methodist minister, conducting the services which were held at the residence. She was 60 years of age. Mrs. Goff had been a sufferer for months with cancer of the stomach. She leaves a husband, three sons, and one daughter, all of whom, excepting one son, were at her bedside when death called. During all her months of severe pain and suffering she was patient and uncomplaining, trusting that she might be able to receive treatment that would bring relief, but to no purpose, and was glad at the end to welcome death as a sweet release from the burden of suffering. In this sad bereavement the family have the sympathy of the community.

Mrs. Clara Ann Goff was born in Benton County, Oregon, June 8, 1852. There she spent several of her early years. She was married July 2, 1868 to Stephen Taylor Goff, her maiden name being Patterson. They were married in Humboldt County, Calif., and at this time there are now living four sons, and one daughter whose home is in San Francisco, a number of other children having passed over the river. Mr. and Mrs. Goff moved to Oregon again in 1882, and into what is now Morrow county in 1883. Clifton was their residence again for several years, and they moved back to Heppner in 1902, where Mrs. Goff has resided ever since.

Poor appetite is sign of impaired digestion. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will strengthen your digestion and improve your appetite. Thousands have been benefited by taking these Tablets. Sold by Patterson & Son.

No New Trial.

John Irvin, who was recently convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of J. A. McCraw at Whitney, will not have a new trial in the local court, as a motion filed some time ago by his attorneys, J. L. Rand and A. A. Smith, asking for a retrial, was denied Tuesday by Circuit Judge Smith, says the Democrat.

The motion asking for a new trial contained some essential features, in one instance alleging that one of the jurors was prejudiced against the prisoner and stated before the trial that he deserved to be hung. In view of the denial of a motion for another trial in the local courts the case will be appealed.—Sumpter American.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by Patterson & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Robert, of Toll Rock, spent Saturday and Sunday at Heppner. Stacy is driving one of the finest spans of mares in Morrow county and drove out of town Monday morning with a new buggy, prepared to enjoy some of the pleasures of life.

Extensive improvements are being made to the flouring mill by the Morrow Warehouse Milling Co. Much of the old machinery is being supplanted by new and the internal arrangements of the mill is being changed and made more convenient. It will require all summer to complete the work when the mill will be in position to turn out a product second to none on the Pacific slope.
