Mr. Arthur Crawford entertained a number of his young gentlemen friends at dinner at the home of his parents on Saturday evening at 6:30, those present being Messrs Ray Rogers, Harold Cohn, Leroy Jones, Robert Young, Harvey Young, Marshall Phelps, Jesse Turner, Samuel Turner, Harry Rood, O. G. Crawford and Spencer Crawford.

It is reported that some slight damage was suffered by spring sown crops from hail on Monday, especially in the region of the foothills. Nothing serious, however, and it will soon be overcome by the new growth. Fall grain is very heavy in many places and the continuous raining threatens to break it down, but any damage from this source will be very slight.

Some people have a propensity for "buttin' in" and it even leads them to doing the grand-stand act at times. A gentleman of this town, also some what of a cripple managed to "butt in" to the city jail on Sunday morning and was locked up. The thing was so real to him that it was some time before he could see the point of the joke and he is not certain yet that he desires the position of official turn key of the city bastille.

Andy Donahue returned on Thursday last after an absence of six months from Morrow county, during which time he visited St. Louis, New York, Chicago, and other points of interest in the East. At St. Louis and Philadelphia, Andy has sisters residing, whom he spent some time in visiting, and he also visited with an uncle in New York who is a parish priest. He saw a good time while away but is glad to be back to Morrow county again and to once more become interested in trading with sheep. He feels that this is the best country for a young man to make money in after all and he is right.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Knappenberg spent the week end at Heppner. As director for Morrow county of the Tri-County Development League, Mr. Knappenberg is taking great interest in arousing our citizens to prepare for the coming fair at Condon. Our county will not be behind any of the others in quantity and quality of exhibits providing this matter is given proper attention.

Miss Winnifred Winnard departed on Tuesday morning for Portland to join Miss Elsie Young, and these two will journey eastward together, Miss Winnard planning to make an extensive trip covering the east and south for her summer vacation. Miss Winnard will teach the coming year at Klamath Falls.

Dr. M. A. Leach returned on Thursday evening last, from a visit of ten days at Portland, where the Doctor attended the meeting of the State Dental Association. While gone, Mr. and Mrs. Leach made a trip over to Bay Ocean and greatly enjoyed the scenery along the route of the new railroad.

The 40th annual reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association will be held at Masonic Temple in Portland on Tuesday June 20th, and reduced rates from all railroad points in the northwest will prevail. An interesting and entertaining program is prepared for the occasion.

Fred Asbaugh of Hardman was down to Heppner on Tuesday looking after business affairs. Rain out his way is interfering somewhat with summerfallow work but the grain is putting in mighty good ticks at growing and should yield an immense crop.

Mrs. L. E. Cohn will leave for Portland June 8th, and will be glad to select any special orders for her customers. While away Mrs. Cohn will purchase the newest things in millinery. Will return June 11. The store will be in charge of Pearl Cox.

M. E. Smead is now located in Portland and has accepted the position of assistant publicity manager and private secretary to C. C. Chapman, secretary of the Portland Commercial Club. Maurice has secured a good place and will make good.

Mr. M. Reinstein and daughter, Miss Bertha, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cohn, came up from Portland on Friday evening to be present at the graduating exercises of Heppner High school. They returned home Saturday morning.

W. O. Hill and D. C. Gurdane, representing Willow Lodge, I. O. O. F., at the grand lodge in Pendleton last week, returned home on Saturday evening. They report a good meeting. The grand lodge goes to Medford next year.

Professor Kaufman and family left last Thursday morning for Seattle. Mr. Kaufman has a position there during vacation, after which he will take up his new duties at Blaine, Wash.

"We countrymen have the best of it. When all else fails we can eat the forest preserves up."

"I don't know that you have the best of it," retorted the city fellow "We have our subway jam."

NEW NATIONAL ANTHEM.

Some years ago a large school picnic from Canada landed from a steamer in a United States town. As the boat was being made fast, a boys' brass band on board burst forth in the patriotic strains of "God Save the Queen" (it was in Victorian days). The mayor stepped forward with an address of welcome, which he prefaced with thanks for the compliment the band had paid his country by playing its glorious National Anthem, America. I am reminded of the incident by the publication of a parody on "America" by Harry Kemp, the "Tramp Bard" in response to the cry going up in Chicago and elsewhere for a new and real National Anthem for the United States.

Dear dollar, 'tis of thee,
Buyer of liberty,
Of thee we sing,
For this our fathers died,
That thou in pomp and pride,
Mightiest o'er all preside
With thy glad ring,
Almighty dollar, thee,
Without which none are free,
Thy name we love,
Dearest than templed hills,
Dearest than all that thrills,
To us are dollar bills,
All else above,
Let discord swell the breeze,
And (wring) from all the trees
Thy greedy song,
Let servile tongues awake,
Let all that breathe partake,
Sing all, for Mammon's sake,
Thy sound prolong,
"Our Fathers' God," to thee,
"Author of Liberty,"
How dare we sing?
When freedom's bought and sold,
How dare we be so bold?
While, o'er all things Gold
Reigneth as King.

There is so much grim thruth in this effusion to make it palatable. Would it not be wise for teachers carefully and firmly to combat the prevalent dollar worship, in forming the minds of their pupils? Education ought surely to draw into prominence the great fact that success in life need not be measured in dollars. Young men and women should at least start in life with ideals dollars could not satisfy. It is for teachers to furnish them with some, not grounded on gold. The very fact that this is an exceedingly difficult thing to begin upon proves that dollar worship is so well entrenched it is in danger of becoming, if indeed it has not already become a principle of human nature.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. P. G. Balsiger in honor of Prof. Kaufman last Monday evening, May 20. Quite a large crowd was present, and all report a very pleasant evening.

Mr. Charles Shaver and Mrs. Alpa Ganger were married in Pendleton last Friday, May 24, at the home of Walter Ebanks by Joe Parks, Justice of the Peace. We wish the happy couple lots of joy and happiness as they launch out in this new life.

Mrs. Jere McDaid was a Heppner visitor over Sunday, going up Saturday evening and returning Monday morning.

What do you know about these rains that we have been having? Last Saturday we had the hardest rain that we have had for years, the water came down in sheets and ran all over the streets. We had the same thing over again Sunday afternoon, only it did not last quite so long. We hope these heavy rains have not hurt anything. We know it has not done the first crop of alfalfa any good, but it has almost cinched the wheat crop.

Mrs. B. F. Akers died May 21st, at Salem. Mrs. Akers had been ailing for some time but grew worse about the middle of March. Deceased was buried at Ione cemetery Sunday, May 26, the funeral service being held at the Baptist church under direction of Rev. McAllister. This obituary was written by the deceased herself, two years ago.

Ida Florence Puvart was born March 18, 1872, in Taylor county, Ky. She lived there till nearly seven years old, when her parents moved to Polk county, Iowa, where they remained one year and then went to Shelby Co., Iowa, in 1879, they being among the early settlers there, residing here until her marriage in 1891 to Frank Akers, and immediately coming to Oregon and settling on a farm until moving to Ione in 1900. She was converted and joined the United Brethren church when a girl 16 years old. After coming to Ione she joined the Baptist church here in 1908. She was the mother of seven children, Mrs. Erma Watson, of Winona Idaho, Roy, Viola, Bertha, Etta and Leola. One child, Baby Elton, died in infancy. Written by herself. Good bye till we meet again and I want to meet you all in heaven.

IDA AKERS.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the people of Ione for their generosity and assistance during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother. May God's richest blessings rest on all the good people and remember Him who said, "In as much as ye have done it unto one of these little ones you have done unto me."
