Miss Helen Gleason, who has been spending a fortnight visiting her friend, Mrs. J. L. Wilkins, departed for her home at Oregon City on Monday.

Harry Dillon bade good-bye to his Heppner friends on Tuesday and departed for his old stomping ground at San Francisco where he expects to make his future home.

Jerseys to Sell—I have some choice young Jersey milk cows for sale at ranch one mile below Rhea Siding. Address O. L. Lundell, Arlington, Ore., for further particulars.

Nat Webb, Jr. left on Tuesday for his home at Walla Walla. He has been at Heppner for the past two weeks attending to business connected with his sheep interests here, and goes home to help harvest his 40-bushel crop of wheat.

Dr. Crutchfield, president of Columbia College, Milton, will be in Heppner over Sunday and will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening at the M. E. church south. Mr. Crutchfield is a speaker of note and should be greeted with large audiences.

Each age of our lives has its joys. Old people should be happy, and they will be if Chamberlain's Tablets are taken to strengthen the digestion and keep the bowels regular. These tablets are mild and gentle in their action and especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by Patterson & Son.

Postmaster Smead, accompanied by the editor of this journal, spent Saturday at the farm of Wilson Bayless on Rhea Creek where they succeeded in transplanting quite a decent number of the finny tribe from the creek to their fish baskets—at least Mr. Smead did so. What the editor landed is not much to blow about. The people along Rhea creek are certainly lined out for a lot of hard work right soon in caring for their immense crop of hay. The alfalfa is very heavy and will be a great crop, and everything else is growing and crops of all kinds never were more promising. Mr. Bayless has as fine a garden as one ever looked upon and will doubtless have ear loads of cabbage and taters this fall. And grass—well it has been many a long year since there was such luxuriant growth of forage and stock is all sleek and fat. Surely this is one of the full years we have been longing for.

Andrew Reaney, of Lexington, was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday. Mr. Reaney is a pioneer of Morrow county and one of our successful farmers. During all his residence here he has never experienced a more proudfest season than the present. Five hundred acres of wheat on his place should certainly make a yield of twenty-five bushels to the acre, and should the present favorable weather conditions prevail for another two weeks the crops of his section will have passed all danger of injury.

Quite a bucking contest was held at the old Ben Matteson place near Black Butte on Sunday, wherein some 9 head of untamed cayuses belonging to the Indians camped in that vicinity were subdued. Harley Matteson, Charlie Ridgeway and Loren Matteson were the riders and some of the "brones" did some stiff bucking but were unable to throw their riders. Some 20 or more people were present to witness the contest.

The city has had a force of men busy during the past week cutting the grass along the sidewalks and on the vacant lots about town and the air is filled with smoke from the burning thereof. Many property owners are also busy in like manner and the fox-tail, cheat, and various other useless and noxious weeds are being laid low and consigned to the flames before they reach the seed-ripening stage.

O. G. Crawford, foreman of the G. T., departed for Albany and other Willamette Valley points on Saturday. During his absence he will be engaged with Prof. Beard's O. A. C. band, will visit the coast at Newport and also take in the big Elks convention at Portland during which event the band will play an engagement and compete for a prize.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Potter returned Sunday from Heppner. Mr. Potter said that he had rode most everything, but his experience with that ferocious and man-eating Elk cazed in Heppner was the limit. He thinks he will be able to attend to business after a few weeks' rest and a liberal application of arnica.—Spray Courier.

It is now well known that not more than one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts at each application. Try it and see how quickly it will relieve the pain and soreness. Sold by Patterson & Son.

Alex Lindsay was in town Friday on his return home from a trip to the Hardman country where he saw grain fields and grass that fairly made his former conception of that section dwindle into nothingness. According to Alex the people up that way are living in paradise but they don't know it.

Mr. Fred Elder and Miss Lelia V. Adkins were married at the parsonage of the M. E. Church South of Heppner, on last Thursday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. P. Warren. The wedding was a very quiet one, the young people working somewhat of a surprise on their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Eph Eskelson have returned from a visit of two months with the relatives of Mr. Eskelson in the state of Utah. They had a very pleasant visit and saw a great deal of country while gone, but nothing to compare with Oregon and Morrow county, so Eph says.

Mrs. Chas. P. Barnett departed for her home at Pendleton on Monday after having spent a couple of weeks visiting relatives at and near Lexington. This office acknowledges a pleasant call from Mrs. Barnett on Friday last in company with her sister, Mrs. Eph Eskelson.

Pap Simons returned to Portland Monday. He spent the past two weeks at Heppner where he was gladly welcomed by his numerous friends who are pleased to know he is getting along well. He is well pleased with his surroundings at the Odd Fellows Home.

Bible School 10 a. m. Preaching 11, a. m. B. Y. P. U., 7 p. m. Union service 8 p. m. in the M. E. church south. Preaching by J. McAllister, 3 p. m. Sunday, Clark's Canyon.

Erl Hallock arrived home on Monday evening from Corvallis where he has been pursuing his studies at O. A. C.

Mrs. W. W. Smead returned on Tuesday from a visit of a couple of months with her daughter, Mrs. Guy Boyd, in Idaho.

Sherman Leffler is up from Blazen, Wash. and will spend the harvest season in Morrow county, expecting to remain here for about four months.

Engineer Woodworth and family have returned from their visit in the East, and Mr. Woodworth took charge of his engine on the branch yesterday.

AT THE BAKERY—Get away from the heat of baking by buying your bread. Cream loaf, plain loaf, whole wheat and rye. Nothing better than our cream loaf.

When baby suffers with croup, apply and give Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil at once. Safe for children. A little goes a long way. 25c and 50c. At all drug stores.

Roy Taylor is still searching for his team of two horses and two young mules that strayed from his corral Monday night. They are believed to be in the mountains south of here.—Stanfield Standard.

Rev. C. L. Owen, who held a series of revival meetings in Heppner last winter is conducting evangelistic meetings at Liberty school house on Eight Mile this week and will continue for a couple of weeks.

Charles Gentry, a paroled prisoner from the state penitentiary, whose parole has been revoked because of violation of its terms, was picked up here by Officer John Russel and will be held until a guard is sent after him.—E. O. of 8th.

Frank Engleman was up from Lone over Monday night busy with his arrangements for the big base ball tournament to begin in his town on June 24th. Frank is a worker when it comes to boosting the great national game and he will make this tournament a complete success.

Jake Pearson is now proud of the fact that he is the mail carrier for the new postoffice at Lena. Mr. Pearson has worked hard for several years to get a post office for his section of Butter creek and his efforts have at last been crowned with success. The office is located at the home of John Brosnan and Mrs. Brosnan is postmistress.

Arrangements are being completed to have a speaker here for Sunday, June 23, to present to the Heppner church-going people the subject of federation. A move is on foot to federate the different churches of the town and it is desirable to have the subject presented at this time by a man in touch with this line of work. More definite announcements will appear later.

John Hayes left on Friday for his home in Portland. Mr. Hayes has been at Heppner for the past three months looking after his sheep interests here and gets home feeling good over the outcome. A good price for wool and the sheep going into the mountains in prime condition with the promise of excellent feed on the summer range is calculated to make the flockmaster feel good.

To Threshermen.

About 400 acres of grain that party desires cut with combine harvester. 400 acres more adjoining that can be secured. Inquire at or write this office.

BLACKHORSE

Mr. D. C. Conner made a trip to Gooseberry Monday.

Mr. Will Tucker attended lodge at Heppner Monday night.

Mr. Oyril Scott was in Heppner Monday for mower repairs.
