Frank Turner returned from Lavina, Montana Monday evening. He says the shearing season has not been as successful as common this year owing to the unusual rains.

"I have been somewhat constive, but Doan's Regulets give just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly."—Geo. B. Krause, Altoona, Pa.

J. W. Rasmus came up from Portland on Tuesday evening to remain at Heppner. He has had enough of the city and is well satisfied to return to the old stamping ground to live.

Jerseys to Sell—I have some choice young Jersey milch cows for sale at ranch one mile below Rhea Siding. Address O. L. Lundell, Arlington, Ore., for further particulars.

Rev. H. A. Van Winkle, of Sheridan, Oregon, held services at the Christian church both morning and evening on Sunday. He came with a view to locating as pastor of the church here.

J. B. Sparks returned on Saturday evening from a weeks visit at Baker and other outside points. He has purchased a new motor cycle, a Merkel, and is now ready to "go some" whenever he chooses.

Buy it now. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency. For sale by Patterson & Son.

Those interested in, and intending to join forces with the Federated Church of Heppner, are requested to meet at the Baptist church at 8 p. m. on Friday evening. The plan is to perfect the organization at this time.

W. R. Irwin is confined to his bed at Portland suffering an attack of typhoid. He has been under the weather for a couple of weeks or so but the physicians were not sure that he was developing a genuine case of fever.

Chas. Johnson, the jeweler, has just installed a splendid new regulator. It is of the mercury pendulum style and adjusts itself to cold and heat, and is one of the finest of the kind made, and adds much to the equipment of Mr. Johnson's place of business.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unusual looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by Patterson & Son.

In attempting to ride a vicious bronco at the Crump place on Monday afternoon, Harry Jon-a was thrown against the corral fence and sustained a dislocation of the shoulder. He was brought to town as soon as Albert Bowker could get out and back with his auto and Dr. Boyden soon put the arm in place again. Harry recently came up from Portland and is at work in the harvest field for R. W. Turner. Having been raised on the ranch out near Butter creek he was anxious to try his hand at bronco busting but the horse was a little too vicious and Harry came out of the mixup as the injured party.

Louis Padberg began the delivery of his new wheat at the Jordan warehouse yesterday. He is running a combine and his wheat is reported to be turning out fine. From now on deliveries will begin to increase at the various warehouses along the branch. There has been some contracting at Ione and Lexington, wheat selling from 70 to 75 cents. About 20,000 sacks have been sold at Ione and about 16,000 sacks at Lexington. From the way the grain is turning out the county should produce an average yield of about 22 bushels per acre.

The old building used for years as a warehouse by the several saloons in Heppner and standing on the property of the Star Brewery people just south of the Brewery building is being torn down this week. The lot will be cleaned up and made to present a more slightly appearance. This is a good move and should be followed by many more old shacks disappearing. Heppner could stand the removal of a good many such buildings and then only be in a fair way to start general improvement work.

Word received from Prof. J. W. L. Kaufman, recently of Ione, states that he is spending the summer in Seattle and he expects to go to his new field of labor at Blaine, Wash., in about a month. He is greatly pleased to learn that our crop in Morrow county is turning out so fine this season, and informs this paper that he is still a booster for our section.

W. I. Campbell was in town on Saturday riding about in his new Michigan. Billy has learned to keep well inside of the speed limits when he hits Heppner. He is also getting to be a good booster for better roads and he is glad that the farmers are beginning to buy more automobiles as their more general use will insure permanent good roads.

Albert Bowker returned from Portland on Saturday evening, bringing with him a new Ford five-passenger car. He has the agency for this little machine at Heppner, and it is his intention to push the sale of the Fords here pretty lively this Fall. They are certainly trim little cars and should prove to be winners in this section.

Dixie McCraw suffered the loss of the end of the middle finger on the right hand on Thursday last. It came in contact with a chain belt and pulley on a combined harvester and the member was severed so quickly that Dixie did not know for an instant what had happened to him. It is getting along all right at the present.

The big Oil Pull engine has been busy this week propelling the road grader just above town on Hinton creek. The road on that way is being rapidly put in shape and the damage caused by the recent waterpout out that way is being repaired. The engine does good work in hauling the big grader.

According to reports received here no less than 7 new combines have been unloaded at Ione during the past ten days, and from there hauled out to the grain fields in different directions. The crop down that way is fine and the wheat growers are determined that it shall be properly harvested.

Mrs. R. C. Wills arrived at Heppner this week from LaGrande, Oregon, to remain for a short time. While here she will look after the disposal of her real property in this city. She will offer her property at a bargain, and anyone desiring a home in town should consult with Mrs. Wills.

Heppner Elks have all returned home from the big round-up at Portland the past week, some getting in on Saturday and the balance of them on Monday. They all report the best time of their lives, and the treatment accorded the visitors by Portland was out of sight.

N. P. Peterson, a wheat buyer of Portland will operate on the branch line this season. He represents M. H. Hauser, the biggest exporter the past year from the Northwest. Mr. Peterson is in Heppner at present looking up the wheat growers.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury there is nothin better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by Patterson & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blackman are up from Portland for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cohn.

DRUGS OF ANTIQUITY.

The Doses That Mankind Swallowed Thousands of Years Ago.

It is admitted that the oldest medical work known is the Ebers papyrus, discovered by Georg Ebers in his journey to Egypt in 1872-3. It is a scroll twenty yards long and a foot wide and has been studied and translated by Von Oefele and reviewed by Von Lippmann. It was written about 1550 B. C., though some of the material of which it is a compilation dates back to about 3700 B. C.

The medical substances mentioned include copper—once more costly than gold and silver—lead, iron, antimony, carbon, sulphur, salt, soda, gypsum and other minerals; milk, fats from many animals, wax, and the horn, blood and other portions of domestic and wild animals; castor and other oils, honey, raisins, grapes, figs, dates, wine, beer, linen, flax, lanolin, papyrus, numerous resins, caraway, fennel, dill, melon, watercress, peppermint, coriander, lettuce, endive, absinth, pomegranate, catamus, aloes, safflower, crocus, indigo, hennane, mandrake, opium and other plants and vegetable products.

In preparing drugs solids were ground or powdered in a stone mortar. There were many processes of treating them, such as roasting, baking, pressing, steeping, warming, boiling in various substances, macerating with yeast, evaporating and fermenting with yeast. Liquids were filtered and clarified. Some recipes contain two or three ingredients, but others have as many as thirty-seven materials.

GIBRALTAR.

The "Key of the Mediterranean" Has Had a Stormy History.

England has been in possession of the rocky promontory of Gibraltar since 1704. From that time to this it has been a crown colony under the administration of a governor. By reason of its important strategical position it is called the "key of the Mediterranean."

Gibraltar has had a stormy history. In 711 the rock was taken by the Arab chief Tarik, who called it Jebel-al-Tarik (Hill of Tarik) and built a fortress on the promontory. Part of these ruins are still extant. In 1309 it was taken by the Castilians, only to be recaptured by the Moors in 1333. It was held by them until 1462. Following the taking and sacking of Gibraltar in 1540 by Barbarosso, extensive military works were built there by order of Charles V.

In 1704 the promontory was captured by a combined force under Sir George Rooke and the Prince of Hesse-Darmstadt, fighting for the Archduke Charles of Austria. The moment it fell into their hands the British admiral threw off the alliance with the Austrians and took complete possession of the works.

British possession since that time has been unbroken, although it was under a Spanish siege for nearly three years and eight months, beginning in 1779. Twice the garrison was on the point of falling because of the starvation of its defenders.

Right on the Job.

At the time Dewey captured the Philippine Islands there was only one lighthouse in operation in the Philippine waters—that on Cape Melville, Balabac Island, south of the island of Palawan and marking the entrance between the China sea and the Sulu sea. As is the custom in time of war, the Spanish authorities had ordered all lighthouses to have their lights extinguished when it was discovered that an attack on Manila was threatened by the American navy. It appears that this order was carried out at all other places except at the lighthouse mentioned above, where the order was never received. The keeper of this light kept his light burning up to June 30, 1898, without assistance, and was paid for his services from May 1, 1899, to that date by the Philippine government.—Philippines Monthly.

Fourierism.

Fourierism was a social system founded by Charles Fourier, born in France 1772, died 1837. Fourier advocated co-operative industrialism, coupled with the idea that society should be organized into "phalanges." The phalange was to number about 1,600 persons, who were to live in a common building, with a certain portion of soil for cultivation. The staple industry was to be agriculture, but the various groups might devote themselves to such as were best suited to their tastes. Several attempts were made to carry out Fourier's theories, but the result in each case was failure.—New York American.

His Motto.

"You go around borrowing money all the time and yet you seem to be prosperous."
"I am."
"How do you manage it?"
"My motto is, 'Always put off till tomorrow those you have done today.'"
—Toledo Blade.

Lots of Practice.

"Junkies, your wife is the most brilliant conversationalist I know of."
"Well, she's had lots of practice. She goes to a theater box party two or three times every week."
—Chicago Tribune.

Calling a Bluff.

Father—I never smoked when I was your age. Will you be able to tell that to your son? Willie—Not and keep my face as straight as you do, pop!—Puck.

Knowledge is more than equivalent to force.—Johnson.
