Notice to All Fruit Growers and Dealers—No scaly or wormy fruit will be permitted in any market in Morrow county.

HARRY CUMMINGS, Fruit Inspector of Morrow County. Al-6m.

Bates Bros., of Hardman, this week received a new 20-horsepower gasoline traction engine which they will use on their fine farm. A new threshing outfit was received by Chapin & Wyland of the same place. The separator attracted no little attention as it stood on the south side of Vaughn & Sons store, for in size it more resembled an ordinary fanning mill than a threshing machine. However as the machine is to be used in the upper foothill district where big outfits are not needed it will be found very practical and will answer the purpose for which it is intended. Bates Bros. hauled the horse power and supply wagon out with their engine.

Judge Williams held a session of court on Monday. The case was a civil suit instituted by Dr. E. R. Hunlock to recover a bill for professional services rendered several years ago to the family of Lotus Robison. The case was quickly settled when the plaintiff produced a letter from the defendant which acknowledged the defendant's obligation and his desire to settle. Mr. Robison admitted his mistake and cheerfully settled the bill.

Next Sunday night at the M. E. Church, instead of the usual sermon there will be a free lecture on Robert E. Lee, the great general of the Confederacy, by Rev. Wesley A. Pratt A. M., the pastor of the church. This lecture has been delivered in various places with flattering comments. It will pay everybody to come and hear him. In connection with the lecture there will be an enjoyable musical programme.

At the present time there is a good demand for residences in Heppner and from all appearances there will be quite a shortage by the time school opens. This should be investigated and steps taken to meet the demand as Heppner can ill afford to lose any people who desire to locate here and enjoy the splendid advantages offered in school, climate, etc.

L. B. Kicker, the fruit raiser and general booster of Irrigon delivered his first carload of water melons along the Heppner branch, Saturday. The melons were an unusually fine lot and were quickly disposed of to people along the line, who are always eager to buy the home grown product.

N. C. Maris, of Portland, was in the city Monday. Mr. Maris is traveling representative of the Oregon Agricultural College. He is carrying with him the films of the Oregon State Fair and they were used as a part of the show at the Star Theater Monday evening.

"The Farmers' Union Warehouse Co. have contracted with Harry Cummings for ground on which to erect their warehouse. The land lays opposite to the Heppner Warehouse Company and is off the Railroad. The Farmers' Co will begin the erection of a warehouse 70 feet by 200 feet at once, in order to be in shape to handle some of the season's business.

It has been shown that Washington was not the real author of his farewell address nor Monroe of his doctrine, nor Sherman of his law. Presently we may find out that Bright never had his disease, and Mason and Dixon never had a line on anything. And perhaps St. Vitus never danced.

J. L. Wilkins and family returned from the mountains, Tuesday. Joe says he couldn't get all the fish in the Potamus as some of them saw him coming and hid from him. He is well satisfied with what he caught and the number seems very reasonable.

Fred Elder received a telegram on Monday evening stating that F. O. Bucknum had died at 4:30 that morning. Mrs. Lucinda Elder, mother-in-law of the deceased, departed on Tuesday's train for Sumpter to attend the funeral.

J. A. Belvis, who has been a guest at the home of Sheriff and Mrs. J. C. Hayes for the past month, returned to Portland yesterday. Mr. Belvis is a student at the North Pacific Dental College.

From the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean there are communities which consider themselves the "bread basket of the world," and each believes its farmers around about can produce the world's best wheat. All over this territory men are out selecting five bushel samples to enter in the $5,000 prize contest to be held in Minneapolis this year in connection with the Northwest Products Exposition. Here are some of the communities which are actively collecting samples of wheat to win this prize: Ritzville, Walla Walla, Dayton and Davenport, Wash.; Great Falls, Bozeman, Lewiston, Glentira, Kalispel in Montana; Grand Forks, Bismark, Fargo and Devils Lake in North Dakota; Ontario, Burns and Prineville in Oregon. South Dakota and Minnesota are also after the prize.

A member of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce has written Will A. Campbell manager of the Northwestern Products Exposition, offering $1,000 for the best five bushels of wheat at the show in November, no difference what the variety or where it is produced. He has asked that his name be with held but offered to send a certified check if the management would consider it the first bid for the prize wheat. It is not decided as yet what will be done with the best wheat. It will probably be placed in the exhibit rooms of the Northwestern Development League in St. Paul.

Rural Conference.
A rural conference for the discussion of farm problems is to be held at the Oregon Agricultural College this fall, and a big farmers' excursion to the college will be organized, with special rates from different parts of the state, to enable progressive farmers from the various communities to attend and take part in the program.

All organizations interested in rural life, including all religious denominations and those interested in the country schools and the improvement of the farming communities, are expected to join in thrashing out vexed questions. The discussions will cover the rural church, school, and home, the farm, rural social and economic conditions.

Prof. R. D. Hetzel, director of extension at the college, has been receiving letters from all sections of the state commending the plan and offering assistance. The railroads will be asked to run excursion trains to bring farmers and their families to spend a day or more at the college during the conference. The different departments of the college are preparing a large number of exhibits and demonstrations of better methods of agricultural practice and home making, and some of the best speakers and farm experts in the west will be present to lecture.

The date is not yet set, as the college wishes to avoid conflict with other important meetings, but announcement will be made as soon as possible.
