MISTAKE TO EDUCATE FOR SOCIETY WHIRL

Mothers Should See That Girls Learn to Sew.

"A mother who trains her daughter for a 'society bud' will regret it in after years, and most surely the young lady herself will regret it in her maturer years; but the mother who trains and teaches her daughter to become a good mother and housewife will later be loved, respected and venerated by that daughter, as the latter herself reaps the benefit of the training and teaching in after years," says an editorial in a recent number of the Myrtle Point Enterprise.

"The mothers of the country should think about these things much more than they do, and thus do better work as true home builders for future generations. In her home one woman can do far more for the uplift of humanity than did a thousand suffragettes in London who, in smashing windows made only material for sensational stories for the yellow journals of the world, or than could a thousand Carrie Nations with a thousand hatchets and a thousand votes."

The Oregon Agricultural College does not pretend to educate young women for careers as Carrie Nation and suffragettes, but it does graduate each year large classes of young women prepared to administer efficiently a wholesome, happy home, and in a most economical way. The department of domestic science and art opens its class work Tuesday morning, Sept. 24. The domestic science work includes courses in simple food preparation, more advanced cookery, invalid diet and refreshments, laundering, the serving of meals, camp cookery, food for children, house sanitation, household administration, home nursing, marketing, the study of home problems, a course on the evolution of the house which gives something of the history of home-making, and special training in the theory and practice of teaching domestic science for those who wish to take instructional positions after leaving college.

In the domestic art department the sewing classes learn something of spinning and weaving and the fundamentals of the art and then learn to make underwear, to darn and mend, to make simple dresses and then learn to more elaborate costumes, to embroider and crochet garments and household articles, to care for their clothing, to draft patterns, to do tailoring and designing, to make their own hats and trim them; they learn basketry and rug weaving, stenciling and different kinds of handwork; they study house construction and decoration and are given, if they desire, special training for teaching these branches.

Thus the girl who has completed the four year course in household economics is well prepared to establish and carry on a home of her own, or to teach other girls, in the schools and colleges of the state, the requisites of a proper education for home making.

Many Driven From Home. Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. HARDMAN BRIEFS. Howard McDuffy, the eight year old son of Mrs. McDuffy of Hardman, was badly burned Tuesday of last week by the flash of powder. The boys were playing in the old Carol house and found a can containing some powder and pouring it out upon the ground applied a match to it, thinking it to be tobacco. The boy's shirt sleeve and front part of the shirt was completely burned. Roy, the six-year-old boy, retained presence of mind enough to put out the fire before going to the house. Tuesday at the Bates Brother's thresher something had gone wrong and the men were laid off for a time. The stay cables had been loosened for the time and Earl Cramer and Glen Hadley were jumping over them. The "Barber's Music." Barbers in the old days might well charge heavily, for theirs must have been a nerve racking existence. Zithers were provided instead of newspapers, and customers used to strum on these while waiting for a vacant chair. Dekker, writing early in the seventeenth century, refers to "a barber's cittern for every man to play on." The term "barber's music" was a common one in the days of Pepys, who on June 5, 1660, records, "After supper my lord called for the lieutenant's cittern, and with two candlesticks, with money in them for symbols, we made barber's music, with which my lord was very well pleased."—London Standard.

Curt and Concise. A certain surly old Yankee who runs a small summer hotel on the Massachusetts coast once received a rambling letter from a prospective guest, who wrote to engage "two large, sunny rooms overlooking the ocean and connecting with private bath." One may imagine the lady's surprise at getting the following curt reply: "Dear Madam—All rooms face the ocean, and that's your bath."—Lippincott's.
