HAPPY WOMEN

Plenty of them in Heppner, and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, after years of backache suffering, days of misery, nights of unrest, the distress of urinary troubles, when she finds freedom. Many readers will profit by the following:

Mrs. Victor Grosheus, Heppner, Oregon, says: "I first learned of Doan's Kidney Pills when living in Pendleton about six years ago. For a long time my backache constantly and I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills by reading of them in the newspapers. The contents of two boxes drove the backache away."

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Grosheus had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c. all stores. Foster-

LEXINGTON.

Mrs. Josie Brown is visiting at Mrs. Al Zink's.

We see Bennie Boon back in our town again.

Ed Pointer and wife have moved to the Pointer ranch to live.

Tom Scott and wife, of near Salem, are visiting relatives here.

Jos. Burgoyne is having new wagon scales put in at his warehouse.

Mrs. Emma McAlister of Heppner was a Lexington visitor on Monday.

Gertrude Beymer, accompanied by her grandmother, left for The Dalles on Friday, where she will enter the Sisters' school.

Anyone who wishes to buy 35 or 40 yards of new rag carpet, hit and miss with a striped warp, please write at once to Box 55, Lexington.

Grandpa Burchell, who has been visiting his sons, Ed and Charlie, for several weeks, returned to his home at Portland the first of the week.

Miss Ida Copenhaver, a well known and respected young lady of Lexington, left for Portland on Saturday where she was married to Matt Hughes of Heppner.

Chas. Breshears and wife, Grandpa Wright, Messrs Fitzsimons and Devine attended the first mass by Father Marshall at St. Patrick's church at Heppner, Sunday.

Miss Pearl Reaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reaney, was united in marriage on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock to Mr.
Arthur Parker. The bride and groom are both well known young people having a host of friends who extend to them heartiest congratulations.

The Trials of a Traveler.

"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Young, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr.
King's New Life Pills, which I found an excellent remedy." For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles there is nothing better. Only 25 cents at Slocum Drug Co.

University Faculty Bars All Drinkers.

To make dryness doubly dry, the faculty of the State University has assumed control over the actions of the students not only while they are in Eugene, where no liquor can be sold, but even when they leave the college town for other cities. A drastic rule has been passed under which drinking in any saloon makes a student subject to dismissal.

No improprieties had been reported, but it was thought best to go on record at once, and let the students know what to expect.
The faculty feels that this extension of authority is justified by the fact that many of the students are under age, and are entrusted to the University by their parents and that it will be sustained by the public sentiment of Oregon.

In Eugene the anti-liquor law has been enforced for six years.

VARNISHING DAY.

It Brings Many Surprises at the English Royal Academy.

When the hanging committee of the English Royal Academy has completed the work of "hanging" the artists whose pictures are exhibited on the academy walls are forwarded a piece of pasteboard known as a "varnishing card." This card is the first intimation the artist receives that his picture has passed triumphantly through the processes of judging and "hanging," and it allows him to visit the academy on a particular day—"varnishing day" —just before the galleries are thrown open to the public. Hundreds of knights of the brush are to be found in the galleries of Burlington House on "varnishing day," and here and there are flights of steps and improv-vised platforms covered with artists putting the last loving touches to their canvases. Here, perched on the top rung of a pair of steps, is a young lady with smiling face scraping her picture with a palette knife and putting in fresh spots of paint occasionally, while on the floor at her feet is a young man whose features are the picture of misery, his eyes roaming toward the cell-ing. His canvas is hopelessly skied, and he is silently abusing the members of the hanging committee for their lack of judgment.

"Varnishing day" brings many surprises to the exhibitors. One man will find his canvas wrongly named, and another, an impressionist, may be startled to discover that his glorious sunset, over which he has taken so much pains, is upside down. And for the first time he realizes that an impressionist's pictures can be turned about any way without greatly endangering the effect.

Turner had one of his paintings hung upside down, and old academicians well remember that a little canvas, "A Sleeping Nalud," was once, owing to lack of space, placed on the wall in an upright position and renamed "The Waking Nalud."—National Magazine.

FUNNY FRILLED LIZARD.

Carries an Umbrella, Has a Whip Tail and Walks Like a Bird.

The frilled lizard is found in Australian woods, being tolerably abundant in north Queensland and the Kimberley district of Western Australia. It lives on beetles such as are found on the tree barks. It is about three feet long, measured from head to tail point.
What makes it remarkable consists of two things—its hurried walk and its fighting anger.

It carries a sort of natural umbrella top about its neck, which it elevates suddenly with an alarming effect even to ordinary lizard killing dogs, searing them as an umbrella opened in the face of a charging bull; hence it is called the frilled lizard. Its teeth are not of much use as a defense against a vigorous animal, but when it fights it uses its long, lithe tail in a way to bring long bruises on one's hands—in fact, could it be properly trained, it might serve as an automatic switch, which, like the magic rub-a-dub-dub stick, would at the word administer a thrashing to the disobedient child.

From the scientific point of view the creature's peculiar method of ambulation is most interesting, because it presents an absurdly grotesque appearance at such times, more especially from the rear. It walks bipedally on two feet, like a bird, and so much does it resemble a bird in its walk that it seems to be the connecting link between the ancestors of birds and the lizards of today.

A Real Disciplinarian.

The other night we heard a father speak thusly: "William, your mother tells me that you must have a dose of castor oil before retiring tonight. It is your bedtime now. Take your medicine and go to bed at once."

"But, papa, I don't wanta take no
"aster oil."

"You must take it, and immediately."

"Aw, papa, I downter!"

"William, if you don't take that medicine I'll put you right to bed this minute without giving you a drop of it."

William was so scared that he took it. That's the way to enforce discipline.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Eye Photographs.

An image impressed upon the retina of the eye remains there an appreciable time. This is the reason why a torch swung rapidly seems to be a circular flame. The sensibility of the retina is different at different times of the day. Every one has noticed how on waking in the morning and looking at the bright window, then closing the eyes, he will observe an impression or phantom of the window for an appreciable time after his eyes are closed.

Domestic Bookkeeping.

"And what's your reason for increasing the servants' wages, pray?" her friend asked.

"Because my husband complained that my dress and millinery bills equaled the household expenses, and I want to show him they do not."—London Tit-Bits.

Teaching the Teacher.

Mother (whose children have had an education superior to her own, to her small daughter, whom she is in the act of smacking)—"I'll learn you not to contradict me! Small daughter between her sobs—Teach, mother, teach.—London Punch.

A Mystery.

"Mummy, darling, where does the fire go when it goes out?"
"Goodness knows, my dear! You might just as well ask me where daddy goes!"—London Answers.

Buy IHC Wagons for True Economy

YOU cannot farm without a wagon any more than you can keep house without a stove. You use your wagon every day and work it harder than anything else on the farm.

Buy a wagon that lasts longer than the average. It is an easy thing to do, even though all wagons which are painted alike may look alike. The difference in wagons is underneath the paint. It is the material and workmanship entering into the construction of IHC wagons,

Weber New Bettendorf Steel King which make them the best wagon investment.

We tell you how our wagons are built, and we want every purchaser to convince himself before buying, that when IHC wagons are advertised as having oak hubs, hickory axles, and long leaf yellow pine box bottoms, these are the materials actually used.

When an IHC wagon reaches a farmer's barn, that farmer has one of the best wearing, easiest running farm wagons that skilled labor can make or that money can buy. There is no need to speculate in buying a wagon.
IHC wagons are made for nation-wide uses, with special features adapted to local conditions. Weber wagons have wood gears. New Bettendorf and Steel King have steel gears.
The IHC wagon dealer in your town sells the wagon best suited to your neighborhood.

A NEW INSTRUMENT

An attachment for hoe drills as illustrated here has two very valuable and important features which every progressive farmer will appreciate. It once. They are made to fit any hoe, are easily adjusted and answer the double purpose of regulating the depth of sowing and at the same time press the soil firmly around the grain thus insuring immediate germination.
Splendid results are obtained from their use,
