Attracting Good Farmers.
 A splendid foundation has been laid by the State Immigration Commission in the work of attracting farmers to Oregon from the countries of Northern Europe. A series of conferences with German, Norwegian, Swedish and Danish people has resulted in outlining the work to be accomplished and in securing the complete co-operation of substantial people of these various nationalities now resident here. Committees formed of members of the different races will work with the Immigration Commission in seeking out suitable lands for colonization purposes, securing them at reasonable price and aiding the new comers after they are settled. Judging from the success that has attended the preliminary work much may be expected from this organized effort to settle Oregon's idle farming lands.

For Better Babies.
 More interest is being shown in eugenics, the science of growing perfect babies, throughout the state since the first eugenics show was held last year at the State Fair. The first test of babies has just been held by the Parents' Educational Bureau, of Portland, and this promises to become a regular institution. Babies are given a careful scientific examination and defects pointed out to parents with instructions as to how they may be overcome. Parents who intend interesting youngsters in the coming shows next Fall find these preliminary tests helpful.

That the Willamette Valley is the one section of the United States that can raise sheep equal to those of England was the statement made by Prof. Thos. Shaw, agricultural expert for the Great Northern Railway, in a recent talk at Salem. He also said that here in this state conditions are such that pork can be produced for less cost than is the case in the corn belt of the Middle West, while butter can be produced for 50 per cent. less than in New England. Prof. Shaw insists that the Oregon farmer is, as a rule, neglecting his opportunities.
