*"I've had my Studebaker
15 years—and not a cent for repairs"*

A word of just praise for a wagon that has done its work faithfully and well.

Men become attached to their Studebakers—proud of them.

Because they realize that a Studebaker is built on honor and with an experience in wagon building that dates back to 1852.

Studebaker wagons are a result of that long experience, coupled with a desire to build the best wagons, not cheap ones.

And when your dealer says "Buy a Studebaker—there's no better wagon made" he's giving you the verdict of a million farmers. He is not asking you to try an experiment.

Heppner Witnesses.

The Names of Heppner Persons Familiar to All.

Who are the witnesses?

They are Heppner people—Residents of Heppner, who have had kidney backache, kidney ills, bladder ills; who have used Doan's Kidney Pills. These witnesses endorse Doan's.

One Heppner resident who speaks is E. L. Berry, of Main St.

Says Mr. Berry: "My kidneys were weak and my back was so painful that I was obliged to walk all stumped over. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills made a cure. During the past few years there has been no sign of the trouble."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Berry had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

EIGHT MILE

T. W. Rippee was a Heppner visitor Saturday.

Eight Mile was treated to the best rain of the season last Friday. The ground was thoroughly soaked and a great deal of good has resulted to the spring grain and the gardens.

Fred Ashbaugh and wife departed for Portland Monday morning on a combined pleasure and business trip. We are informed that Fred expects to purchase a new separator while in Portland.

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of C. E. Jones at 7 o'clock Sunday morning when Vernon, the second son of C. E. Jones was united in marriage to Miss Ruby D. Maxwell, one of Morrow county's most successful teachers. Justice Mose Ashbaugh performed the ceremony. The home was beautifully decorated and a splendid wedding breakfast was served. After the ceremony a number of pretty and useful presents were given the young people. The writer joins their many friends in wishing them a long and happy and prosperous life.

The sale at Emerson Keithley's was well attended and every thing sold readily. A splendid lunch was served at noon, which was greatly appreciated by all present. During the sale of the horses one of the animals became badly frightened and plunged through the crowd of men who were congregated in the corral. Tillman Hogue was knocked down and rendered unconscious. Restoratives were applied and he soon revived. Dr. Chick of Ione was called and he gave us the assurance that Mr. Hogue was not seriously injured, that aside from being sore for a few days he would be O. K. in a short time. At last report he was getting along nicely.

LEXINGTON ITEMS.

Rain, rain, we hope we don't get too much rain now.

Mrs. Pickett spent Saturday in Heppner visiting her daughters.

Rev. Winey preached in Lexington both morning and evening last Sunday.

Miss Lucy Davis, clerk in Burgoynes' store expects to leave on her vacation Tuesday morning for a trip to Elgin.

About fifteen took advantage of the excursion on Sunday and took in the ball game at Heppner. Others from the city went by autos.

We are sorry to report that two of our elderly ladies, Mrs. E. J. McAllister and Mrs. Ed. Pointer are quite ill at their homes.

Elmer Riggs, who has been running the Orndorff ranch for the Holt Co. moved his family to his old home at Walla Walla last Saturday.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the ice cream social last Saturday night. The ice cream and cake was delicious and the ladies wish to thank all for their kind patronage.

Another one of those enjoyable dances was held last Friday night. This one was in honor of Howard Lane and wife who will soon go to Hardman where they will make their future home.

Removing Scale on Calves' Eyes and Noses.

In response to an inquiry from Bend, Dr. B. W. Hollis, veterinarian of the Oregon Agricultural College, writes as follows on the treatment of scale growth on the eyes and noses of calves:

"I note that you say your calves and yearlings have a heavy scale around their eyes and down to the nose. This scale is due to a fungus growth, and in most cases will come off of its own accord in the spring. Cases which are extensive should, however be treated promptly.

"As treatment I would recommend that you scrape off the scale with a knife or other suitable instrument for the purpose and then paint the surface of the wound with tincture of iodine. About three paintings will usually be enough to bring about a prompt recovery. In some instances, however, more applications will be necessary.

"A few doses of potassium iodine internally will assist in curing more obstinate cases. Of this I would recommend two teaspoonfuls twice daily then an interval of three days, followed by a four days course again. The above dosage is for any calf over three months old and under six. Larger animals should receive larger doses in proportion."

FOREST AND GAME DEPTS. TO COOPERATE

Will Aid Each Other in Enforcing Laws and Preventing Fires.

The United States forestry service and the state game wardens will cooperate for the protection of game as well as of the forests, under an agreement recently entered into between State Game Warden Finley and District Forester Cecil. The agreement provides that rangers, assistant rangers and other officers may be appointed deputy game wardens. They will report all violations of the game laws within their respective districts and will also make arrests in cases which come under their personal observation, except during the fire season. On the other hand the regular deputy game wardens will extinguish any small fires they may discover and all such fires will be as promptly as possible reported to the forest officer in charge of that district.

The Forest Service department has recently taken up the work of reclassification of lands in the national forest reserves with a view to opening up for settlement such agricultural lands as may now be included within the reserve boundaries. Under the plan for this work the bureau of soils will determine what soils are agricultural in character, experts of the forest service will determine whether or not the value of the timber on such lands is greater than the agricultural valuation and if not any lands which are found valuable for agriculture and not needed for public purposes will be immediately opened to settlement and entry under the homestead laws.

Through the interest of the Harney County National Bank the ranges of that section of the state are to be stocked with high grade cows, representatives having been sent into the Middle West for the purpose of purchasing high grade Holsteins. The bank has received notice that 77 head of fine young cattle have been secured and will be shipped within a few days. Until this summer Burns has had to depend on outside points for its butter, a condition which will doubtless be corrected in the near future.

Agricultural Quacks.

From the man with the universal panacea for all the ills of the farming business deliver us! Keep shy of the fellow who preaches the doctrine of a specific fertilizer for all soils, a flock of sheep for every farm, deep plowing under all conditions, co-operative creamery where there are few cows. Suppress the man—there are scores of such—who is certain that he alone, has the solution of all problems and that a law—with an appropriation embodying his views—is all that is needed to set the world aright.

The funny part of it is that most of these rapidfire regulators don't know anything about farming or farm problems from actual contact. Meanwhile the regular farmer goes about his business of feeding mankind, doing the best he can in most cases, bearing the burdens of a stalwart citizen and rearing an industrious and efficient family upon which commerce, art and the professions must ever draw heavy for recruits.—Farm and Home.

"People's Courts."

There are "people's courts" in Germany for the poorer people from which lawyers are barred. The procedure is businesslike and free from red tape. Kansas has borrowed the idea and under a recent law county commissioners are empowered to appoint a judge for the debtor's court from which lawyers are excluded. The judge hears the stories of the plaintiff and defendant, examines such witnesses as he cares to hear and gives his decision. As lawyers are not admitted, there is no chance for legal quibbles and delays which seriously interfere with the business of our courts without serving the ends of justice.
