GILLIAM AND MORROW TIE

Burton H. Peck of Heppner Wins Many Prizes in Dry Farming Contest.

Gilliam and Morrow counties tied for first place at the Tri-County fair for the best general exhibit of dry land products according to the decision of the judges given out this Friday afternoon. The displays were made by Mrs. E. H. Hartman of Condon and B. H. Peck who lives ten miles south of Heppner, and the contestants were each given a prize of $75 cash, the first and second prizes offered by the Oregon Conservation Commission having been thrown together and divided between them.

Mr. Peck also won the first prize of $20 cash for the best county exhibit, besides a $10 cash prize for the best 100 ears of corn grown from the Minnesota 23 seed which had been distributed by the O. W. R. & N. These displays were splendid ones, as fine as any ever shown at any of the large land shows on the coast or in the east. They comprised all sorts of farm products including grain, grasses, fresh and canned fruits, vegetables, etc.—all wonderful eye openers for the visitors.

The Lonerock Grange had a splendid exhibit of farm products which won a $10 cash prize. J. E. Goff was in charge and proved a great booster stating that Lonerock would be at the fair next year stronger than ever.

Mrs. M. L. Shilling took first prize for the best loaf of bread made from Crown flour. Miss Mollie Dams, 2nd. Mrs. M. E. Austin won first on Dried Snow bread and also first on Red Ribbon bread.—Condon Globe.

COAL AND LIMESTONE QUARRIES INVESTIGATED

Dr. Arthur J. Collier, professor in geology at the University of Oregon, left Eugene yesterday to investigate the reported coal discoveries near Heppner and the lime-stone quarries near Fossil. His investigation will be in the interest of the state bureau of mines. Near the newly-opened lime quarries there are reported deposits of John Day clay. Should this statement prove true, Professor Collier states that by working the two materials together cement may be shipped into Portland for much less than at present. The only other similar combination of such deposits is in the Gold Hill country.—Telegram.

Every Bit of It Grew In Morrow County.

I want to say through the Gazette that I gathered most of the fruit for our fair, except the Irrigon display which I had nothing to do with. Every bit of fruit on display, except one plate of peaches sent down from Milton by Jim Rhea, grew in Morrow county and nearly all our best specimens of fruit were too wormy to bring in. I am growing pedigree stuff. The largest watermelon I ever knew of, came from Irrigon and weighed 33 pounds. The one stolen from me weighed over 49 pounds and was grown by Peter Sushauer of Irrigon. It took first premium at our fair. I would not have taken ten dollars for it and if the melon is returned to me now I will be perfectly satisfied. I have posted $5 reward for proof of the fellow who took it off of the bench.

MRS. L. E. COHN.

Chas. Johnson is now able to be out once more after being confined to his home for the past five weeks on account of injuries sustained to his leg while cutting wood in the mountains.

Farewell Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Green, of Eight Mile, pleasantly entertained a number of their friends at their home Monday evening, the occasion being their sixth wedding anniversary and also a farewell to friends upon their departure for the old home in Virginia, where they will go in a few days. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and at eleven o'clock refreshments were served in the dining room which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and evergreens.

On behalf of the Sunday school, E. R. Huston, superintendent, presented Mr. and Mrs. Green with a berry spoon, a token of the esteem in which they are held by the school. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing them many happy returns of their wedding anniversary and expressing regrets upon their departure.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Gay, James Adkins, Jere Barlow, Egbert Young, Charles Huston, Walter Becket, Ralph Becket, Clive Huston, Walter Robison, Claud Huston, Smyth Chapple, Pearl Shamheart, E. R. Huston, Robert Allstott, Theodore Anderson, Will French, and Mrs. R. W. Robison. One Who Was There.

Pendleton Hotel Burns.

Word received from Pendleton by Phone this forenoon, announced the burning at 8 o'clock this morning of the Bowman hotel one of Pendleton's leading hostleries.

Mrs. William Hynd, mother of the Hynd Brothers, and widow of the late William Hynd, died at the home of her sons, William and David Hynd, in Sand Hollow, on Monday, Oct. 7, 1913, at the advanced age of 75 years and six months. Her death was rather sudden as she had been sick but a few days. Appropriate funeral services were held at the Episcopal church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Charles Kinney, of Pendleton, and attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the deceased.

Silo IS BIG FRUIT JAR

Pullman Farmers Urged To Keep Silage.

Dr. W. E. Taylor of Molina, Ill., soil expert, delivered a lecture on "Better Farming" to an audience of about 100, mostly farmers, in the K. of P. hall this afternoon. Dr. Taylor was introduced by President E. A. Bryan and held the close attention of his audience for an hour and a half. In the course of his remarks Dr. Taylor said:

"Farming is now a profession; soil is a factory stored with the elements which make fertility, but the farmer has to develop and mix those elements to get results. Crop raising and stock raising are interdependent. Live stock furnishes a market for the coarse products of the farm and the means for replenishing the soil. The high cost of living centers around meat and dairy products and they are high because the supply is not keeping pace with the demand. In raising crops there are four equally important factors, the seed bed, the fertility of the soil, good seed and a good market.

"On account of the high price of meat at the present time live stock furnishes the best market for the farmer's grain. The silo is a big fruit jar and the silage is just as important for the live stock as the canned fruit to the family in the winter. The summer silo is an insurance policy against drought."

Dr. Taylor closed his address by urging upon his hearers the duty of the present generation to maintain the fertility of the soil.—Spokesman Review.

A public market was opened at Grants Pass, Ore., on Sept. 25th with good results. The stalls and space room are free and a price on standard articles such as chickens, eggs and butter has been established, but the prices on perishable stuff have a wide range. The market will be open Wednesdays and Saturdays.

To the farmers and all users of coal oil and gasoline. I can save you money. Come and see me. Albert Bawker, Heppner Garage.

CECIL DIST. VOTES NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

Will Erect $3000 Building on the Site of Present Structure.

CECIL, Ore., Oct. 7. (Special)—A special meeting was called at the school house Oct. 1st, for the purpose of voting to bond our district for a $3000 school house and also that the grades should be taught. Both carried and the new building will be erected where the old one is now situated, about two miles below Cecil.

Right here let me state that we have no road to the school house and children are compelled to open and close gates to get to and from the school premises. This is certainly very disagreeable in stormy and cold weather. If there is a law requiring that public places be not inclosed, would like to see it applied here.

Miss Mabel McNabb was an Ione visitor Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Amy Waddal of Butler creek arrived Sunday and will spend the winter with Mrs. Jack Hynd.

Miss Lucy Ewing, who has been visiting at the Sullivan home the past week, returned to her home Friday.

L. E. McEe and wife and Grant Buchanan and wife were business visitors in Cecil last week, returning to Pendleton Friday.

Fine soaking rains visited throughout this section Monday and Tuesday of this week and is certainly welcomed and a great benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Morgan were called to Grass Valley Friday on account of the serious sickness of one of the twins belonging to Mr. Sullivan's niece.

Rev. Reed held services in the Hall Sunday at 11 o'clock, which was largely attended. His text was, "Having a good time. He handled his subject in an able and impressive manner.

Grove Pickel came up from The Dalles Sunday and is visiting at Boyd Logan's. Mr. Pickel resided in Morrow county a number of years ago but is now in the real estate business in The Dalles.

Jack Hynd and wife were called to Sand Hollow Tuesday on account of the sudden death of Mr. Hynd's mother. We did not learn particulars but offer sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

Newton Jasper of Ravenwood Mo. started on his homeward journey Wednesday morning. Mr. Jasper is a cousin of J. W. Osbron and has spent a month visiting here. He likes our climate and country fine. He sent a bushel of wheat home by parcel post to be used as seed on his farm there.

Wheat Record Is Broken

All records for wheat receipts at Portland were broken in the week ending Saturday, when a total of 990 carloads, or 1,235,000 bushels, reached that city from the Inland Empire. This wheat represented a cash value of $1,637,500. Since the opening of the present season Portland has received more wheat than Seattle and Tacoma combined. The total receipts at Portland from July 1 to date have been 5,547,100 bushels. The combined receipts at the Puget Sound cities in that period have been 5,523,700 bushels.

Endeavor Social.

The Christian Endeavorers of the Federated church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodson last Friday evening. A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing various games of amusement. Refreshments were also served. S. E. Notson and Lamont Slocum carried off the prizes of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodson, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson, M. L. Case, Happy Slocum, Hannah Wilson, Norma Frederick, Florence Kalston, Hazel Fawcett, Mary Notson, Marion Long, Helen Aiken, Ella Aiken, Lamont Slocum, David Wilson, Orion Wright, Mr. Beardsley, Wm. Fisk, Eddie Winters and Eddie LaTrace.

VAST AMOUNT OF GRAIN SOLD

Umatilla County Harvested 6,000,000 Bushels This Season.

Umatilla county harvested 6,000,000 bushels of grain during the season just closed, according to E. W. McComas. Mr. McComas says 90 per cent of this crop is already in the warehouses and that 75 per cent of it has been sold. Fifty per cent of that sold has been shipped, and the remainder will be transferred to tide-water points as rapidly as cars can be furnished by the railroad companies.

Mr. McComas says the amount of grain sold is phenomenal for this season of the year. The ruling price paid was 70 cents per bushel. The present price is but 68, and no wheat is changing hands.

There Is Only One Right Policy.

From the standpoint of building up our state and developing its business and industries, there is only one right policy to pursue.

That is for the citizen and corporation and public officials to buy from the home merchant and from the home manufacturer.

To force the retailer and jobber and whole world is frequently only a manufacturer to compete with the sure-thing pain to drive them out of business.

Everything possible that is needed here and can be had at anywhere near the price it is offered at from other sources should be bought at home.

It is good business policy, even though the price is a little higher and the quality not quite as perfect as the "imported" article.

Those who buy abroad, whether it be building material, clothing or food are not working for the best interests of the community where they make a living.

A city council, school, county or state official that will split hairs and let a labore-employing, tax-paying business man go to the wall is acting short-sighted.

The home merchant and the home industry are deserving of better treatment, and their success is shared by every citizen.

This policy is the right policy and is advocated in Oregon by The Oregon Manufacturer and is producing greater prosperity.—Oregon Manufacturer.

A Poor Crop Outlook.

Without any idea of creating needless alarm it may be pointed out that the crop situation is the most serious we have faced in many years. Allowing that wheat makes a remarkably good showing, and that hay would give a fair return for average years, supplemented by what was carried over from the last crop, the outlook is grave. Corn will not come up to the most conservative estimates of a fortnight ago. Tobacco is seriously injured. The potato crop will be short. Cotton, which is taken as largely net national gain because we sell it to the foreigner, is facing a crisis through the continued drought, and the subsequent shedding.

Here is an actual loss of potential wealth upon which the country's trade had counted to finance its obligations. With the destruction of feed the price of beef, pork, butter and eggs must necessarily advance. With the advance in the price of cotton, cotton goods must increase in price, tariff or no tariff, with a smaller purchasing capacity due to the elementary fact that we are becoming a nation of consumers rather than producers. What follows is contraction of trade, due to the depletion of capital and, cheap money would be no evidence of increased purchasing power. Money was never cheaper than during the depressed years which followed the panic of 1893.

It is as well to look these facts in the face. They are facts, and no sensible business man can afford to ignore them. They are the base of all national prosperity. The country is doubtless big enough to meet such adversity without commercial demoralization, but it should be wise enough not to delude itself in a fool's paradise of higher prices.—Wall Street Journal.

NOTICE.

Persons having stock running at large inside and around our premises on Butter and Hinton creeks and elsewhere are hereby notified to keep them off our land. We need our pastures for our own use.
